SKIMMILK CALVES.

Feed Which Will Produce Growth and Leanest Rather Than Fat.

A correspondent of Hoard's Dairyman, P. B. Crosby of Maryland, says that most people have an idea that a calf will not thrive on skimmilk, and they consequently give it new milk, and with the new milk goes the profit also. Now, I know by actual experience that a calf can be raised on skimmilk if he has enough. We have one now on this place that at 4 weeks gets 25 pounds of skimmilk a day, and besides, all the bright hay it wants, which is a good deal. And with this liberal feeding it is a beauty, and as for growth, as the hired man expresses it, "It boats any calf I ever did see." The trouble with not only calves, but most young stock, is SEMMILK CALF FOUR WEEKS OLD. that they do not get enough. A growing boy will eat more than a grown man, and the growing calf wants enough, or it will not be a growing calf.

Another idea that should be taken into consideration is the ultimate purpose for which the calf is intended. If it is only for real, then it should be got fat, but for the dairy purpose, then all its feed should be with the aim of growth rather than fat. A wise teacher tells us to train up a child when it is young and when it is old its training will not depart from it. Just so with a calf. If when it is a calf it is trained to lay on fat, when it is old it will still have the same tendency, and its feed will go to fat instead of the milk pail. For this reason skimmilk is manifestly better for a calf than whole milk if the dairy is to be its purpose.

For the tendency of skimmilk is to produce growth, and lean meat rather than fat, and this tendency in later years will cause the cow to turn her feed into milk rather than fat.

Upsetting Nature's Laws.

Any animal that is in a healthy condition will if he has enough to eat, lay on fat. It may take a great deal of feed to make a small amount of fat, but only keep on and ultimately it will get fat. Thus any one who is in the business of fattening cattle has nature back of him, and the kind of animal with which he is working is not of such vital importance.

But in the dairy case is entirely different. The milk cow is an unnatural product and her tendency is to go back to the original state from which she came. And if the highest measure of success is to be obtained there must be a constant combating of nature's laws. We often hear it said that the heifer at her first calf should be milked as long as possible to strengthen the milking habit. This is because of the fact that we have just stated, and it is advice that should be well considered. But the most important hearing of this fact is in the feeding of the cow. If by liberal feeding we force the heifer to give a large quantity of milk, we thereby strengthen the tendency to give milk in the later years of her life, and this is not only true of the heifer with her first calf but also of the older cow; the more we train her to give milk the more she can be made to produce. So that we may safely say that a cow that has had liberal feeding from her calfhood up is worth more, very much more, than if she had been poorly fed. Which way are you training your cows?

Troublesome Tests.

The test is a great source of trouble to the butter maker, for a certain patron will claim that his test is too low, another that it is too high.

Dr. James Law reports an interesting case of poisoning by lead, which is caused by the use of lead solder in cans, suffering from nervous disorders, in a herd from which one had but recently died. An examination of the dead animal revealed nothing, but a glance at the new tub silo gave the reason. It had been painted inside with a thin coat of lead paint, the knots being coated again. The acetate acid, developed in the ensilage, had dissolved some of the paint, forming the poisonous sugar of lead, lead acetate. By prompt treatment of the sick animals they were saved, but one in the herd, apparently well, succumbed suddenly, ranking the second victim. Coal tar would have been safe and quite effective in covering the wood.

Alten labor laws.

The British Government and the Government of the United States have finally decided upon the subject of what are to come up for consideration at the approaching conference at Quebec. They are as follows:

1. The rights in Behring Sea and the North Pacific.

2. The Atlantic and Pacific coast fisheries and fisheries in inland waters contiguous to the frontier.

3. Delimitation of the Alaska-Canadian boundary.

4. Transportation of merchandise in bond through the United States and Canada.

5. The mining rights of citizens of one country within the territory of the other.

6. Reciprocity of trade.

7. Naval vessels on the lakes.

8. Other subjects are described of minor importance, except provisions for the convenience of officers of one country through the territory of the other.

9. Eight of these subjects are to be discussed as outstanding matters in dispute between both countries, to which we accord two inter points and the question of reciprocity.

The conference will sit at Quebec, but the treaty, if such a consummation can be reached, will be signed in Ottawa. Extensive arrangements are now on foot to give the American commissioners a good time. Nothing will be wanting in the program to entertain them during their stay at the Ottawa Capital. The conference is expected to last fully three weeks.

New Post-Office Opened.

The following new post-offices have been opened in Ontario: Geneva Lake, Algoma, Glendower (re-opened), Addington, Gordon Bay and Moon River (re-opened), Muskoka and Vanaskia, Hastings. The following post-offices in name have taken place: Gordon Bay to Barmesdale, Ruscom River, Essex, to Doerbrook. These offices have been closed: Acacia, Hunt County, and Garry, Glengarry. During the month of May the withdrawals from the postoffice savings banks totalled $387,957 and the deposits $68,771. The balance at the credit of depositors' account on May 31 was $38,709,992, as against $38,848,382 at the beginning of the month, a decrease of $139,340. The deposits in the Government savings banks for June were for the month of $194,969 and the withdrawals to $279,553, the balance due depositors at the beginning of the month being $15,488,931, a decrease of $84,572.

NAPANEE BANK ROBBERY.

Both the Prisoners and the Detectives Ready for Trial Whenever the Crown Attorney Is.

Napanee, July 25.—The Pinkerton detectives employed on the bank robbery case yesterday announced that their work had been completed and that they are ready at any time for the preliminary investigation. It is claimed by the defence that the prisoners have always been prepared to face the charges against them, and so the re-opening of the case only awaits the order of the acting Crown official. That official is at present out of town, and as he will be away until Tuesday the two prisoners, Ponton and Mackie, for whom bail has been granted, will be forced to remain in jail for a few days more. It is necessary that Mr. Hamilton shall inquire into the sufficiency of the sureties offered before their bonds are accepted. In the case of Ponton, especially, no difficulty has been encountered in securing names to the bail bonds. Mr. Porter, the ex-convict's counsel, Saturday received a call from one of the most wealthy residents of Belleville, and was told that the bail bonds were to be issued under his name, and if necessary, he would willingly give bonds for the entire sum—$10,000. This is an indication of the feeling in favor of the younger prisoners, a feeling which, strong as it was at the last trial, has been greatly intensified since then. During the past few days, too, the sentiment against the Pinkerton men has, through the efforts of strong friends of the defence, been vastly increased. So much sympathy has gone out for the two prisoners, who, if they are innocent men, have only lost their liberty until the time of the trial, that there is very little left for the institution which has lost the greater part of $32,000 forever.

Ponton, with the other prisoners in the jail, changed cells Saturday at the order of the Sheriff, in order that a search of each cell might be made, and any possible attempt at an escape might be frustrated.

The following list has not been printed before. It is interesting in the light of present events:

What Was Stolen.

$19,670 in Dominion Bank bills.
$874 in Dominion of Canada bills.
$885 in Merchants' Bank bills.
$1,115 in bills of Montreal and Commerce Banks.

$294 in bills of U. S. of America and National Banks.

Total cash, $21,594.48.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

The result of the Entrance and P. S. Leaving Examinations which appear in another column will be a matter of interest to many of our readers particularly the younger ones and those who were candidates at the examination. The number of successful candidates we believe was somewhat smaller than last year yet the percentage that got through was quite large. We are pleased to learn that the work written by candidates at the examinations indicated that the scholars and teachers had both been diligent during the year.

DEVOTED TO DAIRYING

We are this week in receipt of the initial copy of the Canadian Cheese and Butter-maker, published at Williamsstown and Kingston by Geo. F. Brown & Co. The Cheese and Butter-maker is a twelve page journal devoted to dairying interests and is ably edited. ## BURNED TO DEATH.

On Wednesday last week, Mrs. Ladue, wife of the well known hotel keeper of that name at Bear Brook, was burned to death by the explosion of a coal oil lamp. Her clothing caught fire, and she was fatally burned before help could reach her. The explosion of the lamp was caused by an attempt on Mrs. Ladue's part to light one lamp by means of another one, which was lighted, she not having a match at hand with which to do it. The oil ran out of the lamp she held, and immediately ignited.

THE DEERING HARVESTING CO.

John Jordan, of Chesterville, representing the Deering Harvesting Co. of Chicago, has for some days past been canvassing the county along with Jas. McCormick, the local agent for this well known company. They have placed a large number of reapers, mowers and binders, and as the machinery turned out by that company is the very best in every respect and both Moers Jordan and McCormick possess the qualities that make successful agents, we may look for a large increase of business for the Deering Co. in this section.

MCINTYRE-MCDONALD

An interesting event occurred at the Manse here, on Wednesday, when Miss Christie Ann McDonald was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with J. J. McIntyre, of Apple Hill. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. D. McLane. Mr. McIntyre was assisted by J. McNamara, of Apple Hill, while Miss Mary Catherine McDonald, sister of the bride, made a most efficient bridesmaid. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the happy couple left for Montreal, where they will spend their honeymoon. The News begs to extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre.

LEFT FOR THE WEST

A large number of friends and relatives were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. On Wednesday evening they took their departure from Apple Hill for the West carrying with them the best wishes of a large number of friends who were present to give them a hearty send off.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue, in reporting the ordination on Rev. Father McRae, at Glen Nevis, on Sunday, July 17th, we stated that Rev. Father McPhail, of the Redemptorist Fathers, had preached the sermon. We were, however, misinformed, as the eloquent sermon on the occasion, was delivered by Rev. Dr. Tesfy, President of St. Michael's College, Toronto, and a member of the Toronto University. The Rev. Father's presence shows the esteem in which the newly ordained priest is held by his former professor, who came a long distance and at great inconvenience to himself, to take part in the impressive ceremony.

OTTAWA EXHIBITION.

Bigger and far better than ever before. This is what the Central Canada fair for 1898, to be held in Ottawa, commencing Sept. 16th is going to be. Only two years ago the directors expended $50,000 in erecting new stock buildings and otherwise improving the grounds for the benefit of their constantly increasing patrons. This year they have obtained $80,000 from the cooperation of Ottawa and the money is being spent in further improvements. In the first place the grounds have been greatly enlarged; the addition is between seven and eight acres. Besides purchasing property the directors have filled in the bay near Machinery Hill and what was once a big stretch of water is now simply a beautiful and picturesque lake with a running fountain in the centre. A new iron main building, 310 feet long, is being constructed, and all exhibits, including those in the ladies' and fine arts departments, will be on the ground floor. Big additions are being made to the agricultural implement building and to the poultry building. The rows of posts that were a great obstruction in the machinery hall have been removed. The extension of the poultry building is great enough to permit the doing away of the second story of coops, although many new classes have been added to the department. Another improvement is the building of a warf near the Elgin street gate. And there has also been a large increase in the prize list. New classes have been added in every department, and in several the value of the prizes has been greatly augmented.

OUR ROADS.

For some years past the general public of Ontario have been increasingly interested in improving the public highways. The movement has been in public favor because the public have felt it was a paying investment to have better roads, and are willing to pay for them. The obstacle in the minds of the average taxpayer, to spending larger sums of money, or more labor than the legal statute labor, has been the question as to whether they would get enough better roads for the extra outlay, and unfortunately the only basis they have for judging of the cost of better roads is the amount of "time" put in on the roads as statute labor.

Judged by that basis it is enough to deter counsils from rushing into road expenditures, but we would hazard the opinion that such a basis is the poorest, as the results have been the poorest—basis to calculate from.

In the townships of Lochiel and Kenyon we have an object lesson of money well and profitably spent, and if the matter was taken hold of by the councils of these two municipalities and a competent road commissioner be appointed to make a report on the townships, dividing them into sections and get estimates of cost, we think in a very few years the expenditure will not only be popular, but succeeding councils will be looked upon as roadmaking councils. The object lesson referred to above we may say is the work done under the direction of Mr. A. J. McCulloch, of Lochiel. The 3rd concession swamp where some springs of the lake military road was impassable, is now as dry and solid every day of the year as one could wish for, and we have not heard any but words of praise for the improvement. The bridges built by the same gentleman are models of solidity and cheapness, and we venture to say that if the townships would place under the same hands the military road there is not a councillor now in office but would be wanted there for further service. Every taxpayer admits the roads are a lack of pride to the county, and wants to see better, and are willing to pay for them, and it is surprising that our councils do not make a beginning on some well defined plan. If the township of Lochiel would be able to arrange with Mr. McCulloch for a report and beginning of a well defined plan for improving the roads of the townships the present council would be doing a work that the people want and are wishing done.

C. E. DEPARTMENT.

At the executive meeting of the Glengarry C. E. Union, held in Alexandria on July 12th, the following resolution was adopted:—

At our county conventions the representation shall be one delegate for every ten members (counting both active and associate members) in each society. All Christian Endeavorers are welcome to all the convention meetings, but only those certified by their own society as delegates, will receive billets unless the society entertaining the convention, each year, arranges otherwise.

The committee requests also, that one or more of the delegates from each society, will be prepared to take some part in the "Open Parliament" on committee work at the next convention.

The next convention in connection with the Glengarry C. E. Union, will be held in Martintown on August 31st and Sept. 1st.

No backslider is in a fair way of recovery until he is humbled. We must "remember whence he has fallen, and repent and do the first works" or he can never have restored to him the joys of Christ's salvation.—Dr. Cuyler.

"In the furnace God may prove thee, Thence to bring thee forth more bright, But can never cease to love thee, Thon art precious in His sight."

SWEET CORN.

Some of the More Important Kinds—A Distinct Type of Extra Early.

One hardly realizes the importance of sweet corn as a food for the human family. It is used not only in its immature or green state, but also in canned and dried form.

Last year the New Hampshire station tested 41 of the more important and highly recommended kinds of sweet corn. From numbered notes, accompanied by illustrations, in a lately issued report of the experiment the following items are gleaned:

14. White Cob.—One of the earliest. Very dark green foliage, 5 feet high, numerous suckers, good sized kernels, with small cob; good quality; numerous ears under size.

15. First of All.—A new large eared early variety; ears 8 inches long; cob large and not well filled at tip; kernels about medium size; stalk 5½ feet; a heavy yield; quality fair.

26. Early Fordhook.—A new extra early white variety; height, 4 feet 8 inches; a good sized ear, with 8 to 10 rows, small cob and large kernels extending to the tip. The rows are regular and present a good appearance; average yield; sunlit ear in 20; worthy of trial.

28. Tinkers.—An early variety; cob medium in size and fairly well filled, although not very closely; eight rows and about the average size of the smaller varieties; height, 5 feet; quality poor; color, white; average yield; poor quality.

34. Early Beverly.—Fruited with the first; plant 5 feet tall; ear good size; foliage dark; cob large, well filled; quality good; average yield.

37. Kendall's Early Market.—A new variety; large ears; comparatively early; fair quality; average yield; promising.

38. Mammoth White Cory.—Although ripening a few ears early it is not so early as White Cob or Cory's Early; ears rather short; average yield; poor quality.

40. Moore's Concord.—Medium early; some stalks with no ears; few with two; dull white color.

7. Stabler's Early.—Medium, white variety; stalk rather long jointed.

8. Roslyn Hybrid.—Late white variety; quality medium.

10. Early Minnesota.—An early white, eight rowed variety; not as early as many.

17. Premium.—Medium early white variety; height, 7 feet; not very productive last season; kernels 8 to 10 rows; quality good; 1 in 20 shelled.

19. New England Sweet.—Early, eight rowed variety originating in New England; fairly productive; sweet; height, 6 feet. The ears harden rapidly, quickly passing the edible stage.

20. Early Mammoth.—This variety is fully a week earlier than Mammoth and far superior; ears 12 rowed, large, regular; quality good; productive.

It is told in the report that two varieties of interest were improved Early and Early Orange. The stalks and husks of the former were scarlet and the white kernels set in red hulls. The latter was a deep orange colored ear, accompanied with a peculiar though not objectionable flavor.

A distinct type of extra early sweet corn is found in the four varieties, Eastman's Early, First of All, Early Fordhook and White Cob. These are all very early, sweet, eight rowed, well filled and of fair size.

The Extra Early Beverly was the only early 10-12 row variety of good quality. Crosby's Early, although not as early as the earliest by a few days, still remains the standard early variety.
