

NEW ADS THIS WEEK.

Bon March—M. Simon, Prop.
P. A. Hoot.
J. F. Cattaneo.
Shooting Match—36 3 Loebel.
Shooting Match—32 Kenyon.
Shooting Match and Raffle—24 Loebel.
Servant Wanted—John Simpson.
For Sale or to Rent—Mrs Angus P. McLeod.
Farm for Sale also Stock and Implements—A. J. McPherson.
Court of Revision—Loebel.
Court of Revision—Charlottenburgh.
Brook Ostrom Bros & Co.
Morrison & Vout—Grain Dealers.
Alexandria.

LOCALS.

Dentistry—Dr. A. T. Morrow will be in Maxville every day except Tuesdays.

New Music—A lot of New Music just received at Oudon's Jewellery store.

The Queen's Hotel, Alexandria, the leading hotel in the county. Best wines, liquors and cigars. Large and commodious rooms. Meats at all hours. F. D. Dymore, proprietor.

Auction Sale Bills—Place your order for Auction Sale Bills with us and secure an attractive bill for the modest fee. Free mention of customers' names in the columns of the News.

A Slight Cold is dangerous, better cure it at once with one bottle of McLeod's Cough Balsam, 25c per bottle, manufactured by John McLeod, druggist, Alexandria.

The finest Table Apples in the land—the Snow or Fenouille—get them at Wills.

Beautiful ladies' cloth jackets, latest New York styles, at E. McArthur's, the fashionable tailor, Maxville. Special value in boots, shoes, rubbers and underwear.

Wills Liberton, tailor, is offering great reductions in pants, suits, and coats. All work guaranteed to give full satisfaction or no sale. Give me a call. W. Liberton, merchant tailor, Main St., Alexandria.

Shooting Matches—To insure a large attendance of crack shots at coming shooting matches, place the advertisement in the columns of this journal.

Get ready for winter. See the splendid stock of furs, fur coats, fur caps, fur jackets for ladies, conch, beaver, wombat, walrus, all kinds of fur at E. McArthur's, the fashionable tailor, Maxville. Give me the Otter cap for $4.00, a snap. Special value in Athabasca eland robes.

Good Horses sell better, so do all farmers' live stock after being fed McLeod's English Compound Powders, now used by every farmer and stock raiser in the county. 25c per pound, manufactured by John McLeod, chemist, Alexandria.

Dentistry—Dr. Reid, dentist, graduate of Philadelphia Dental College and of the R. C. S. of Ontario, has removed his residence and office from the News Block to the residence lately occupied by J. J. McIntosh, Main St. south, where his office will be until further notice.

Shredded White Wheat Biscuits, Nutritious, Palatable, Wholesome, Economical, get them at Wills.

When buyers last August wanted winter apples at $1.00 the "Sun" of Toronto, showed that the price should be $2.00. When in the same month some dealers talked of $5 stalks, the "Sun" showed that $3 should be the price. This is the sort of information "Sun" readers get weekly. Such a paper is invaluable. All farmers should take it—60 cents to end of 1900.

Boys and girls! you are requested to call at the "News" office on Halloween and receive 8 o'clock.

To-morrow the Vankleek Hill and Alexandria High School football teams will play a friendly game on the former's grounds.

At Vankleek Hill on Thanksgiving Day, the local team defeated the Association football team of Point St. Charles, by a score of 2 to 2.

On Saturday the football games resulted as follows: Ottawa College, 16; Britannia, 11; Quebec, 25; Lennoxville, 5; Brockville, 88; Montreal, 24.

Councillor F. Trotter, of Loebel, has purchased lot 28-1 Loebel, containing 125 acres, formerly owned by Duncan A. McLeod, 28-1 Loebel.

Preparatory to John McMillan moving his stock in A. J. McDonald is giving him building on the bridge, formerly occupied by Keady & Kenney, a general overhauling.

This (Friday) evening the young gentry of the town will entertain their lady friends at a soiree in the Fire Hall. Prof. Blais's Orchestra, of Montreal, will furnish music.

The Shamrocks are the world's lacrosse champions for 1899. They won the right to style themselves such by defeating the Nationals in Montreal on Saturday by a score of 5 to 1.

John Boyle's handsome new business block on Main street, is nearing completion. Alex Lalonde is at present engaged in putting on a galvanized iron ceiling ceiling design.

Full particulars of the lecture delivered last evening by W. Gordon Macdonald, M.A., special correspondent of the London, "Eng," "Era" in the Town Hall, will appear in our next issue.

Street Commissioner Hall is engaged at present in repairing the sidewalks with the aid of the lumber ordered by the council, it is still coming, but not in sight, like the 25th of December.

His many friends throughout these counties will regret to learn of the illness of Judge O'Brien, of O'Leary, who has been confined to his room for some days by an attack of typhoid fever.

Following its usual custom, the "News" will, on Halloween distribute a barrel of apples to the boys and girls of Alexandria. Each and all are welcome. Remember the limit is between 7 and 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

On Friday evening a number of young friends were hospitably entertained by C. F. and Mrs. Taggart, Elgin St., when a very pleasant time was spent, Mr. and Mrs. Taggart proving themselves to be an ideal host and hostess.

Owing to our going to press on Wednesday evening of last week instead of on Thursday, owing to the latter being Thanksgiving Day, we were reluctantly obliged to hold over several interesting budgets of news. We trust that our correspondents will bear with us in this matter.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week J. D. McGregor, wholesale fruit merchant, of Ottawa, was in town disposing of a carload—170 barrels—of apples to the trade. We understood that good prices were realized, and that taken altogether Mr. McGregor's venture was a success.

We noticed the following clerical members of the Centennial Committee of the Glengarry Presbytery in town on Tuesday: J. Cormack, Maxville; H. D. Leitch, St. Elmo; J. A. Givan, Williamstown; A. G. Ramsay, Alexandria; A. Russell, Lennoxville; J. W. McLeod, Kirk Hill; J. McKinnon, Dalhousie.

W. M. Morrison and R. W. Vout, of Glen Robertson, whose advertisement appears in another column, have formed a partnership under the name of Morrison & Vout, grain dealers. As both young gentlemen have excellent business abilities, they will no doubt have a successful business career.

C. V. Johnson, of the Union Bank staff, has on exhibition a unique war map of the Transvaal. The map which has been painted by his brother, S. B. Johnson, of Ottawa, is one of the most serviceable yet seen as it is supplied with movable flags by which the movements of both armies can be followed.

Holloween's supplies—Masks, Oranges, Apples, Grapes, Figs, Dates, Nuts of all kinds, Chocolates, Bonbons, Sticks, Mints, Mastic Candles, "Konversations," etc., at Wills' Main St.

John A. Cameron, of the Grand Union, is earning for himself a most enviable reputation as a nimrod. On Wednesday while hunting in the 2nd of Loebel he succeeded in bringing to earth a large fox. Also for poor Raymond he learned, but too late, that John was out for blood and not merely for sport.

Owing to a heavy demand upon our space we are compelled to hold over our usual budget of news this week for which we owe an apology not merely to our readers but to the gentleman who edits this column in such a manner that he is keeping language of our forefathers well to the fore.

Divine Service was held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving evening. While it is a fact that our citizens, as a whole, did not observe the day as a day of special thanksgiving, it cannot be denied that we are an ungrateful people, surely not, but rather as a precautionary measure, for sometimes, when we celebrate, we are sometimes to excess.

A very prominent and regrettable feature of the recent funeral of the Canadian contingent, in Montreal was its coldness. It was all the more noticeable when compared with the warmth and enthusiasm displayed at an outdoor funeral in Montreal. The funeral was held in the presence of some of its bombast loyalty instead of inflicting it upon the Canadian public, and bought some brass instruments, they could at least make some noise if not music.

Regarding the death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan N. McLeod, 19-7 Loebel, a Kirk Hill correspondent writes:—"We regret to announce the death of Floiee, dearly beloved and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan N. McLeod, 19-7 Loebel, at the age of eight months and ten days, which sad event took place on Sunday, 15th inst, dead before the light of the day." The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McLean, of Kirk Hill. Among the large number who attended the funeral was E. B. McMillan, of Toronto. The bereaved parents have our sincere sympathy.

HUGH JACOBS

The remains of the late Hugh Jacobs, 1st Kenyon, who passed away on Sunday morning, after an illness extending over several months, were interred in St. Finian's cemetery on Tuesday morning, being followed to their last resting place by a large number of friends. Rev. D. B. McMillan celebrated Requiem Mass in the Cathedral. The deceased who was well and favorably known throughout this district was about 67 years of age at the time of his death and leaves a wife and daughter to mourn his loss, and who have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

McDONALD—McGREGOR

On Monday St. Finian's Cathedral was the scene of a pleasing event when Rev. D. B. McMillan officiated at the nuptials of John A. McDonald, of Ottawa, and Isabelle, daughter of Donald McGregor, 36-3 Kenyon. Duncan McDonald, brother of the groom, and Miss Annie McGregor, sister of the bride, were groomsmen and bridesmaids respectively. At the conclusion of the ceremony the young couple who have our best wishes for the future, drove to the residence of the bride's father where a sumptuous repast was partaken of, and left the same evening for Ottawa, where they will reside in the future.

BENTON—McINTOSH

A very pleasant event occurred at the home of the bride's father, on Wednesday, October 19th, when Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McIntosh and Donald Benton were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. J. McLeod performing the nuptial ceremony. The bride, who is a sister of the late moon trip to Ottawa and other points. On their return home they were tendered a hearty reception at the residence of the bride's father, where every plan was being spent, and well wishes for a happy and prosperous life being universal. We heartily join in the same sentiment.—McCrinnon correspondent.

DONOVAN—CAMPBELL

The "News" takes pleasure in announcing the marriage of Duncan Donovan, photographer of this place, to Catherine A. daughter of Angus Campbell, of Peavell, Que., which happy event took place in St. Henri's church, Montreal, on Monday last. The bride was supported by Miss Mary Ewing, of Montreal. John Donovan, of the same place, performed a similar duty for the groom. The happy couple who arrived in town on Tuesday and have taken up their abode on Drimont St., are receiving the hearty congratulations and good wishes of their many friends for a prosperous and happy wedded life to which the "News" adds its quota.

MRS. ALEX KENNEDY

It becomes our painful duty this week to record the death of Bella McDonald, wife of Alexander Kennedy, 36-3 Lennoxville, who died on Sunday, 24th inst. The deceased who was in her 41st year was a very highly respected resident whose early demise is sincerely regretted by all her friends. She was married to a husband and nine children to mourn her loss, who have the sympathy of the entire community. The funeral to St. Finian's Cathedral and cemetery, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. D. B. McMillan, was held on Tuesday and largely attended showing the esteem in which the deceased was held.

TO CORRESPONDENTS

In recent issues of this paper several items, unquestionably not of news or of the least interest to readers of this paper, have been sandwiched in between other items to budgets sent by some of our correspondents. The items referred to are written in such a manner as to, on the one hand, mislead the reader, and on the other, by the writer, yet they invariably hit home and sometimes without due reason. We would again ask our correspondents to kindly confine themselves to items of news and interest to the community. The columns of this journal free from petty, trivial and questionable paragraphs.

McLEOD—McRAE

The residence of John McRae, Dunvegan, was the scene of a highly pleasing and interesting event on Wednesday, the 18th inst, when his daughter, Bella J. was united in marriage to Duncan J. McLeod of the same place, by Rev. K. A. Gollan. Miss Bella McLeod made a most charming bridesmaid, while Duncan McRae was the best man. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of guests who numbered about two hundred and twenty-five, sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner. The bride was the recipient of a large number of valuable and serviceable gifts, which testified to the esteem in which both she and the groom are held by their many friends. The happy couple, who are leaving for their new home at Ottawa and other Western points where they are spending a short honeymoon. The News joins with their many friends in tendering hearty congratulations.

GLENGARRIES FOR THE TRANSVAAL

Times of war as well as in times of peace Glengarry stands well to the fore. In the present Canadian contingent being recruited for the Transvaal, Glengarry has three representatives, Pte A. R. McGregor, of the 48th Highlanders, a native of the King's Road, Martinstown, is a native of Glengarry, and is now engaged in Toronto. Number "D" Company, recruited in Ottawa and Kingston, has in its ranks Lieut. J. A. B. McLeannan, of Wills, who is now in the 10th Company, 59th Bde, who in his willingness and anxiety to serve his Country and Queen, was willing to forego his rank as an officer which he obtained by perseverance and diligent study at the military school, and serve as a private in the ranks. One of the members of "D" Company, being recruited in Montreal, is John A. Macdonald, a native of Glen Nevis, who is now in the 10th Bde, where he was born 24 years ago, and where his mother and sister still reside. Mr. Macdonald was a sergeant in No. 3 Company, 6th Bde, in 1897-98, and was one of the most painstaking and popular non-commissioned officers in the battalion. While we did God speed to the contingent as a whole, we know that the Glengarrys will not only reflect credit on themselves and their native county, but upon their mother battalion, the members of which will follow

A Veteran's Trials.

A quiet, but very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, 26th, at the residence of Mrs. David Tomb, when her youngest daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage to Alexander Munro, of Trout Lake, B.C. The wedding ceremony being performed by Rev. D. D. McMillan. The bride was one of Alexander's most popular young ladies, and one whose removal from our midst will be regretted. While the groom who is a brother of Mr. Munro, barrister, and was some years ago associated with Dr. A. I. Macdonald, the management of other interests in British Columbia, where he has spent the past few years. After a wedding lunch had been partaken of the happy couple, who were accompanied to the depot by a large number of friends left by C.A.R. for Ottawa en route for Calgary, N.W.T., where they will spend the winter carrying with them the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a long and happy wedded life, in which the "News" joins.

DONALD MORRISON

On Friday evening Donald Morrison, of Brodie, was called away from his earthly troubles. The deceased was in poor health during the last months of his life, and in the grasp of that dread malady, "consumption." He was an exemplary young man, and was very much esteemed by a large circle of friends. He died on Tuesday, 24th inst, at his home, 38-3 Kenyon, at 85 years of age at McMillan, Ont. For the past six years he managed the affairs of the McDonald estate. Four years ago he married Christina, daughter of the late John McDonald, who was one of the other members of the family, the sympathy of the entire community is extended. The Rev. A. McMillan, St. Anne de Prescott, and C. Clyde, of Brodie, conducted the funeral service on Monday, which was an impressive one. The remains were temporarily interred at the home of the late John McDonald, where his brother, Mr. Morrison, was residing. The funeral was held at the home of the late John McDonald, where his brother, Mr. Morrison, was residing. The funeral was held at the home of the late John McDonald, where his brother, Mr. Morrison, was residing.

PLOWING MATCH

That the farmers of the Township of Lanarkshire are up to date and fully alive to their own best interests and intent on keeping themselves in touch with all the latest improvements in scientific farming, we have many indications. On Tuesday, 21st inst, they will hold their annual ploughing match on the farm of Wm. Wrightman, 4th Con, when a number of valuable prizes will be competed for. Besides the regular cash prizes offered for competition, W. A. Loney offers a plow, 1 pair horse blankets and 1 pair leather balers for the best three ridges ploughed in the township. A number of other prizes are offered by a number of the farmers. The match will be held at 10 o'clock, and the prizes will be awarded at 4 o'clock. The match will be held at 10 o'clock, and the prizes will be awarded at 4 o'clock.

ALEXANDRIA'S FAREWELL

About three hundred of our citizens gathered at the Canada Atlantic station on Tuesday evening to tender the members of "D" Company of the Canadian contingent who were passing through Ottawa en route to Quebec where they embark for the Atlantic. The contingent, which was well represented by a number of our citizens, was accompanied by a number of the officers and men of the 10th Bde, who were also passing through Ottawa en route to Quebec. The contingent, which was well represented by a number of our citizens, was accompanied by a number of the officers and men of the 10th Bde, who were also passing through Ottawa en route to Quebec.

PERSONALS.

A F. Dwyer, visited Montreal friends on Friday.
D. McIntosh, of Dalkeith, was in town on Tuesday.
Hugh McMillan, left on Monday for Nelson, B. C.
J. A. Smith, of Markham, paid us a visit yesterday.
Reeve Bathurst, Dalhousie Mills was in town on Tuesday.
A. A. Boyd, paid Montreal a visit on Thanksgiving day.
Alex McCrimmon, of Vankleek Hill, was in town on Saturday.
Angus D. Kennedy, visited Montreal the latter part of last week.
D. A. McKinnon, of Bridge Road was a New's caller on the 25th.

MISSIONARY MEETING AT ST. ELMO

Indian Lands Auxiliary to the W.F.M.S. held a public thanksgiving in the church on the evening of the 18th of Oct. Rev. H. D. Leitch acting as chairman. A short address was given by Mrs. Leitch, and a number of "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As Mr. McLeod is an enthusiast on mission work, it is needless to say he handled his subject admirably. He dealt with the "Reasons for Giving Abroad," dealing first with direct results, then with indirect results of mission work, concluding with a few brief sentences on the need of more earnest workers on our part to carry on the work of sending the Gospel to the heathen. A short review of the work of the society during the past year was given by the secretary, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Rev. D. McLeod, of Alexandria, gave an interesting paper on Mission Work. As

Banff to Vancouver

With the Canadian Press Excursion.

Early Friday morning, August 18th, our Press Excursion train left Banff for its next stopping place, Laggan, the station for the Lakes Louise and Agnes, called the "Lakes of the Clouds." The run was a short one, the distance being but thirty-six miles; it was also a delightful one, the scenery being the equal if not surpassing that to be found in any other equal distance in the Rocky Mountain range.

On our arrival at Laggan we got our first view of the Great Glacier, the huge peak of Mount Hector standing out in all its glory and magnificence. It is a broad, crescent-shaped river of ice, apparently quite close, but in reality nearly twelve miles away and thirteen hundred feet above us. At the station, poles and vehicles were in waiting to convey those of this party who preferred riding to walking, to Lake Louise which is the first of the mountain lakes. The writer, with several others, tramped it, and the roads were not in the best of condition, owing to there having been a heavy fall of snow the Wednesday previous, the walk was enjoyed by all. On the way up, wild strawberries surrounded by snow were picked, and on being sampled were found delicious. We were certainly well repaid for this exertion entailed in the climb as the picture presented as we first caught a glimpse of Lake Louise as we issued from the woods will not be forgotten by any of us. Its levelness and charm surpass all description. Facing us was a beautiful blue green placid little lake, shut in on two sides by enormous mountain peaks, covered two-thirds of the way up with foliage of all shades of green interspersed with brown masses and topped by bare granite peaks. Between these two mountains on the third side, rose an enormous glacier of ice and snow, the whole presenting a picture that would be the delight of an artist. On the fourth side of the lake, there stands a comfortable chalet hotel, where parties take luncheon, or if any desire to stay over, accommodation is provided. From this point a bridle path leads to Muir Lake higher up the mountain, and a still further ascent to Lake Agnes, during which a magnificent view of the Bow Valley and the surrounding mountains is obtained. Several of the most venturesome succeeded in reaching the summit and their report of the lovely stretches of water in Cloudland was an enthusiastic one. Stephen, the next station, is the summit of the Rockies. Here is the Great Divide, and a sparkling stream separates into two, the waters of one flowing to the Pacific and the other to Hudson's Bay. From here the line descends rapidly, passing the beautiful Wapta Lake at Hazelton and crossing the deep gorge of the Wapta or Kicking horse river just beyond. The line here comes to the mountain side at the left and the valley on the right rapidly deepens until the river is seen as a gleaming thread a thousand feet below. Looking ahead, the dark angular peak of Mt. Field is seen. On the left the Duomo-like head of Mt. Stephen (8000 feet above the valley) and named in honor of the first President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., still further to the left, the spires of Cathedral Mountain occasionally appear over the tree tops. In but a few minutes the slope of Mt. Stephen is reached and on its shoulder, almost directly over our heads is seen a shining green glacier 800 feet in thickness. Here too can be seen a silver-lead mine on the mountain side, 2,500 feet above its base. We reached Field, where we were to lay over till the following morning, at six in the evening, and for the time being made the Mt. Stephen House, a charming chalet hotel, managed by the company, our headquarters. This hotel, which is situated not far from the base of Mt. Stephen and which faces Mt. Field, is a favorite stopping place for tourists, and deservedly so, for it is capitally managed. In this spacious hall of the hotel, during the evening, an impromptu concert was given after which the younger portion of the tourists were the guests of the railway employees at a dance gotten up for their especial benefit. A day or two may be most pleasantly spent at Field as there is much in the vicinity to attract sightseers. There is excellent fly fishing for trout in a pretty lake near by, and a fossil bed and crystal cave close to the village. From the fact that Field is situated far down in the Kicking Horse Canyon, the days are much shorter than on the mountain tops and the hours of twilight much longer. Next morning, shortly after seven o'clock, our train resumed its journey westward. Two miles beyond Field, very lofty, glacier heights are seen at the north. The line rises from the flats of the Kicking Horse with beautiful scenery all the way. At Palliser the lower Canyon of the Wapta, or Kicking Horse is reached. The Canyon rapidly deepens until beyond this station the mountain sides become vertical, rising straight up thousands of feet and within an easy stone's throw from wall to wall. Down this vast chasm go the railway and river together, the former crossing from side to side to ledge on end of the solid rock, twisting and turning in every direction. The passage of this terrible gorge once seen can never be forgotten. As we approach Golden the train suddenly emerges into day light. Ahead is the grand river Columbia, moving northward, beyond are the beautiful Selkirk, extending in an almost unbroken line from the southeast to the northeast. Parallel with them and rising eastward from the Columbia, range upon range, are the Rockies. From Golden to Donald the railway follows down the Columbia on the lower bench of the Rocky Mountains, the Selkirk, all the way in full view opposite. At Donald the river is crossed to the base of the Selkirk. A little further down the two great ranges of mountains crowd the river through a deep narrow gorge, the railway being dug and blasted out of the very sides of the Selkirk. High, snow peaked mountains and roaring torrents are the principal features of the scenery as our train slowly but steadily glides up the side of the Selkirk, the rising at times at the rate of 116 feet to the mile, and the river is soon left a thousand feet below. As we approach Rogers' Pass a view of Mount Macdonald, which towers a mile and quarter above the railway, is secured, and it is assumed the climax of mountain scenery. This pass was discovered in 1883 by a Major Rogers. Selkirk Summit, with an altitude of 4,800 feet is at the summit of Rogers' Pass and here the line strikes the source of the Illiwalli, which makes its way westward by a decidedly direct course. To reach the valley below a series of extraordinary curves occur in the line. Glacier House, situated within 20 minutes walk of the greatest glacier of the Selkirk, was reached in time for lunch. This great glacier, which is but a mile and a half from the hotel, is reached by a good path and its exploration is not only practicable but fairly easy, especially as the C.P.R. have engaged two Swiss guides to accompany parties. Standing at the glacier's foot one marvels how such a great mass of ice ever became formed, and its magnitude may be imagined when we say that it is supposed to contain 200 square miles of ice and is larger than all the glaciers of the Swiss Alps put together. We left Glacier station at 4 p.m., our course being down the celebrated "Loops of the Selkirk." The line makes several startling turns and twists, and looking back the traveller notices that the railway is cutting two long gashes, one above the other, on the mountain slope. A few miles further on, the train runs suddenly along the very brink of several remarkably deep fissures in the solid rock, the most striking of which is the Albert Canyon where the river is seen nearly 800 feet below the railway compressed into a hollidg flume scarcely 20 feet wide. From Albert Canyon to Revelstoke, the distance is 22 miles and the altitude shows a fall of 1370 feet. The latter point was reached in time for dinner. Ample opportunity was afforded to see the town. Being a railway divisional point and a gateway to the great West Kootenay mining camps, Revelstoke is quite a place of importance and to the visitor presents quite a lively appearance. One hundred and seventy-five miles, the distance between Revelstoke and Ashcroft, was covered while we slept the sleep of the just. We were up early enough, however, to see the old Cariboo trail to the gold fields and here there mining of various kinds. Three miles beyond Ashcroft, the hills press close upon the Thompson River, which cuts its way through a winding gorge, fitly named the Black Canyon. For some distance the train runs upon a sinuous ledge cut out of the bare hills on the irregular south side of the stream, the headland here and there being penetrated by tunnels and the ravines spanned by high bridges. The varied scenery presented to the eye as we sped along is like a panorama and beggars description. At Lytton, a small trading town, the Canyon suddenly widens to admit the Fraser, the chief river of the Province of British Columbia, which comes down from the north between two great lines of mountain peaks, and whose turbid flood soon absorbs the waters of the Thompson. New it was that we saw salmon in large quantities. Indians could be seen on projecting rocks down at the water's edge spearing fish and here and there straggle of fish, attached to poles, were drying. Chinamen may also be seen on the occasional sand or gravel bar washing for gold. Breakfast was partaken of at the Fraser Canyon House at North Bend, after which we resumed our journey westward. At Beslon Bar, a few miles from the Bend, the principal Canyon of the Fraser commences and from here to Yale, 23 miles, the scenery is not merely interesting, but startling, and it was with a sense of relief as if we had become more than satisfied with mountain scenery, that we shortly afterwards found ourselves in a broad level valley rich in soil and timber, and each succeeding mile giving more evidence of vegetation. At Agassiz, the superintendent of the government Experimental Farm, established at that point, very thoughtfully sent on board a large box of plums and baskets of flowers for the ladies. The first glimpse of salt water was got at Port Moody, it being the head of Burrard Inlet and from thence on interest never flagged and about 1 p.m. our special pulled into Vancouver, the most prosperous city of the Pacific Province, 35 minutes ahead of time.—More anon.

A. G. F. M.—

W. C. T. U.

PICNIC GROVE.

The W. C. T. U. meeting of the above society was held on Thursday, Oct. 12th. The President in the chair, this meeting was opened by hymn 148 and prayer by Mrs. James Fraser, reading 46 Psalm then hymn 135 was sung. There were no communications or unfinished business. Mrs. James Wrightman was appointed Superintendent of Temperance in Sabbath Schools. On account of not many being present the discussion was not carried out as it should have been, but what papers were read were very interesting and to the point. The meeting was closed by singing hymn 140 and the Temperance Doxology.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY

THE DISPUTE SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN SETTLED FOR A WHILE.

Americans Say That Their Interests Are Conserved, While Those of Canada Are Justly Treated—No Port on Lynn Canal for Canada.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Mr. Tower, the British Charge here, called at the State Department yesterday, and handed to Secretary Hay a note formally accepting for his Government the proposition for the temporary adjustment of the Alaskan boundary line, proposed by Secretary Hay in his note of Thursday. With that act the long-expected modus vivendi, relative to the vexed boundary question, went into effect. This result has been brought about through the direct negotiation of Secretary Hay and Mr. Tower, after several failures in the past through commissioners and ambassadors.

The State Department is confident that it has conserved every American interest in the arrangement, without unjustly treating Canada. The divisional line on the west coast, by which the Dalton trail is reached, is placed 22½ miles above Pyramid Harbor, which is regarded under the treaty as tidewater mark so the Canadians are not allowed to reach any point on the Lynn Canal. Moreover, there is no permission given for a free port, or even for the free transfer across American territory of Canadian goods, except of miners' belongings. These matters may figure later on when it comes to a permanent boundary line, but they are not touched upon in this modus.

The modus vivendi follows the precedent established by Secretary Evarts in 1878, in agreeing upon a temporary boundary on the Stikine River, in Alaska, by an exchange of notes. The line on the Chilkat River is 22½ statute miles from the head of navigation. Chilkat Inlet, on Lynn Canal, and on the Kichik River, 12 statute miles from the summit of the line is fixed by the summit of the Chilkat River, which makes its way westward by a decidedly direct course. To reach the valley below a series of extraordinary curves occur in the line. Glacier House, situated within 20 minutes walk of the greatest glacier of the Selkirk, was reached in time for lunch. This great glacier, which is but a mile and

The Official Text.

It is hereby agreed between the Government of the United States and Great Britain that the boundary line between Canada and the Territory of Alaska, in the region about the head of Lynn Canal, shall be provisionally fixed without prejudice to the right of either party in the permanent adjustment of the international boundary, as follows:

"In the region of the Dalton Trail, a line beginning at the peak west of Porcupine Creek, marked on the map number 10 of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and on a recent map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, with the number 600, thence running to the Kichik or Kichik River in the direction of the peak north of that river, marked 6020, on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers, into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line, wherever the trail crosses to each side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the same as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry loads thereon over all or parts of the trail between the said points as may appear on the Canadian side, and to the United States, such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the Chilkat River, marked on the map of the United States Commission, Dec. 31, 1883, and 6025 on the map of the British Commission, Dec. 31, 1885, thence following the high or right bank of the said Kichik River to a junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of the said junction, thence proceeding to or from Porcup