

Alexandria Brothers And Lancaster Man Among 2547 Dieppe Missing

Raymond And Hector Rochon, Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Rochon And Louis Lapierre of Lancaster Still Unreported.

Two Alexandria brothers, Raymond and Hector Rochon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Rochon, and a Lancaster man, Pte. Louis Lapierre, are listed among those missing in the Dieppe attack. Relatives of the missing men had been notified immediately following the raid but the National Defence Department at Ottawa, held up publication of the missing for some weeks in order that the men might have a better opportunity of making an escape. The list was issued on Tuesday.

The heavy Canadian casualties at Dieppe totalled 3,350 of whom 170 are known dead; 633 wounded and 2,547 missing. A high percentage of officers made up the lists of dead and wounded. Of 170 reported dead, 40 were officers while 41 officers were wounded with 592 other ranks.

Known casualties from Glengarry in the Dieppe raid now total five, two wounded and three missing. Previously reported as wounded were Capt. Donald F. MacRae of Williamstown, who suffered a hip injury, and Pte. John Kennedy of Cornwall, formerly of Alexandria. All three reported missing this week were members of Les Fusiliers Mont Royal.

Mr. and Mrs. Rochon of this town were advised on Saturday, Aug. 22nd that their son Hector, 22, was missing. The following morning Sunday the parents received word that Raymond, 26, was also missing. Both natives of Alexandria, the Rochon brothers enlisted at Montreal in 1940 and went overseas in June 1941.

Pte. Lapierre of Lancaster, was also a member of the Montreal unit. His next-of-kin is listed as Mrs. Hortense Dufrense Lapierre (wife) of Lancaster.

Pte. Alzer J. Legroulx, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Legroulx, Vankeek Hill, formerly of Alexandria, was in on the Dieppe raid and has notified his parents of his safe return. Serving with the South Saskatchewan Regiment, Pte. Legroulx had this to say of the experience: "I've just returned from Dieppe without a scratch and at last I've had a darn good crack at the Germans. It was very successful and my only sorrow was that we did not stay there for a second front because we had them surprised. I had no time to get nervous. The French people were very nice to us. I will write a long letter following this airgraph."

Plane Fatality Near Cornwall

Three student airmen were killed and one injured, Tuesday morning, when the plane in which they were making a training flight from St. John's, Que., crashed into the St. Lawrence river opposite Glen Walter. Only survivor of the mishap was S. D. R. Cook, an Australian, who was rescued from the water while clinging to an empty gasoline tank from the wrecked plane. Still confined to Cornwall General Hospital, Cook suffered a badly lacerated face, severe bruises to his legs and arms, and shock.

Air Force officials from St. John's Que., are on the scene and arrangements are being made to recover the bodies and raise the craft which lies in approximately 60 feet of water in the main channel of the river, some two miles from shore.

Police Constable Edward Ostler and Herb Dutt of Cornwall, were fishing in the river nearby when the plane crashed and within a few minutes they were on the scene and had rescued Cook. Several nearby residents saw the crash also and rowed to the scene.

Navy League Taggers Netted $100.

The handsome sum of $100.71 was realized by Navy League taggers on the streets of Alexandria, Saturday, the total being appreciably larger than the $85. results of a year ago. The young taggers both boys and girls, worked to such good effect, that few out that evening were without the tags. Mr. J. T. Smith, B.A. who was in charge of local arrangements, has forwarded the money to headquarters in Toronto, where it will go towards comforts for the men of our navy and merchant marine. He expressed himself as very gratified at the results.

To Enlist Farmers For Bush Work

The first mass manning of industry to be attempted by National Selective Service will get under way at once in the enlisting of 110,000 farmers for winter work in the pulp-wood and lumber camps.

Currently, there are 14,000 men in the bush camps, and Selective Service's first Canada-wide assignment will be completed in November when 122,000 should be at work.

Little to Make Appeal
Actually, to provide 122,000 additional men for the bush camps, Selective Service would require an extra 108,000, but to play it safe, the bid is going in for 110,000 workers.

In an effort to place men in the camps, Selective Service Director Elliott Little is to appeal personally through the mail to every farmer. The assistance of the daily and weekly newspapers also is being enlisted.

Movement of farmers from the land to the bush camps will be made on a voluntary basis. Where possible the shift of farm labor will be confined to a regional or district basis, but where necessary, provision will make for the transfer of men over greater distances.

64,500 This Month
In round figures, Selective Service must provide the pulp and lumber camps with 64,500 men this month, another 30,000 in October and 27,000 more in November.

Farmers and their hired men who go to the bush camps for winter work will not lose their right of deferment in the monthly draft of recruits for compulsory service with the Army.

Graduates As Nurse

Miss Kathleen Gibbs of Dalkeith, was among 25 members of the graduating class of St. Mary's Hospital, Montreal School of Nursing, who received diplomas and class rings at graduating exercises held Friday evening in Loyola College Hall. "Courage, cheerfulness and confidence are the needs of the nurse today" the class was told.

Last Issue For Some

This issue of the News is the last which will be received by a number of our readers who have failed to pay up long outstanding arrears. Some weeks ago final notices went out to delinquents in arrears over five years, and though many have responded in the interim, there are a number who have not seen fit to reply.

We are still in hope of hearing from them but in the meantime their names will be removed from our lists. Such drastic action is regretted by us, but ever-increasing costs make it necessary. Reminders to all others not paid in advance are now being prepared. If in this category you can save us time in preparation and cost of postage by remitting at once.

We must have a paid-in-advance list.

Pte. C. Cuerrier Invalided Home

One of a party of more than 200 Canadians arriving home from overseas this week, Pte. Conrad Cuerrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cuerrier, Lochiel street, Alexandria, reached his home on Tuesday. A member of the Regiment de Maisonneuve of Montreal, he has been invalided home after two years' service in England. At his home for three days he goes to Montreal, today, to take his medical board.

Enlisting in July 1940 at Montreal, Pte. Cuerrier went overseas within a month and he reports a fine reception by the people of England and Scotland who go out of their way to make the Canucks feel at home. During his two years' stay overseas Conrad had been in every part of England and, as is the case with most of the Canadians, his leaves were enjoyed in Scotland where hospitality is at its warmest, he declares.

Two days after reaching England, Pte. Cuerrier was transferred to the 5th Canadian Infantry Brigade of the 2nd Division, where he completed a motor transport driver's course and served in that capacity until December 1941. At that time he transferred back to the Maisonneuve to be with many of his Alexandria friends, members of that unit.

Among the local boys with the Maisonneuve regiment are: Reel Marcoux son of Mr. Leo Marcoux Bernard Kemp, son of Mr. Thos. Kemp; Clifford Lafave, son of John Lafave; David Lacombe, son of Harvey Lacombe; Romeo Laperle, son of Andrew Laperle; Henry Bellefeuille, son of Jos. Bellefeuille.

He reports seeing many of the Alexandrians in other units recently and they are all in fine shape and good spirits. In July, Pte. Cuerrier ran into Bert Challes who will be remembered as a member of the local lacrosse team, imported from Niagara Falls some years ago. Bert is with the Artillery.

Pte. Cuerrier is naturally glad to get home but has many regrets over leaving his pals and new friends overseas.

Promoted Overseas

Word has been received by relatives here of the promotion of Capt. Harold A. Macdonell to the rank of Major Major Macdonell, a son of the late Mr. Allan Macdonell of Winnipeg and Alexandria, went overseas in 1941 with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and his promotion came this summer.

Registration Of Women Is Slow

The National Registration of women taking place this week, has been very slow in Alexandria to date, Postmaster P. Poirier reports. Only a small number of the estimated number had visited the Post Office, yesterday.

Those who must register at their nearest post office before Saturday, include all females born between January 1st, 1918 and December 31st, 1922, inclusive, except those who now are in possession of Unemployment Insurance cards and are now employed.

Welcome To Glengarry

Glengarry welcomes within its borders, today, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, who will be the guest of Kenyon Agricultural Society at the annual Maxville Fair. Mr. Hepburn who speaks at 2 o'clock on the Fair Grounds, will be the guest of E. A. ## Greenfield Couple 50 Years Married

At Greenfield, on Tuesday, Sept. 8th a joint wedding celebration was held in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Angus J. R. Macdonell Golden Wedding jubiliarians, and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Angus Macdonell, whose marriage took place on Saturday Sept. 5th.

Following a dinner served to relatives and near friends, the couples proceeded to the Parish Hall where a reception was held in their honour.

After an interesting programme of songs, Highland dancing, bagpipe music and speeches, Miss Margaret McDonald read an address and the presentation of a well-filled purse was made to the jubiliarians by John James McDonald.

Mr. Macdonell in his reply on behalf of himself and Mrs. Macdonell expressed his appreciation and pleasure at seeing so many of their old friends gathered about them.

Following lunch the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonell (the former Mary Isabel McDonald) were married at St. Raphaels, Ont. on Feb. 29, 1892 by Rev. Fr. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Allan McDonald of St. Andrew's, now deceased acted as groomsmen while Miss Ellen McDonald, now of Montreal acted as bridesmaid.

Lieut.-Col. M. F. Dunn, a popular former officer of the S.D. & G. Highlanders, has been appointed to command the First Battalion overseas, it was learned through private sources by cable yesterday. He succeeds Lieut.-Col. W. S. Rutherford, former unit Commander, now transferred to General Staff Headquarters of the Second Division.

A former member of the staff of Cornwall Collegiate, Lieut.-Col. Dunn has long been attached to the Highlanders and his appointment to command will prove a popular one.

High School Board To Arrange For Special French Course

Provision To Be Made For Teaching Advanced French Subjects—Will Not Effect English Course.

Lieut. Anita McRae With U.S. Forces

The following item from a Detroit paper will be of interest to Glengarians as it concerns a granddaughter of Mr. Murdoch McRae of Greenfield.

On Saturday morning, Anita McRae, head nurse on the surgical floor at Harper Hospital and a second lieutenant with the Harper Unit of Nurses, left for two weeks' training at Camp Grant, Ill., following which she expects to be sent overseas.

Lieut. McRae, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McRae, formerly of Avalon avenue and now of Union Lake, was a graduate of Highland high school in 1935, and a student at the Junior College before taking her nurse's training at the Harper Hospital.

Alex. MacMillan Dies At Norfolk, Va.

Alex. (Sandy) MacMillan, beloved husband of Anna Moore, and a son of the late Archie MacMillan and his wife, Bella Arkinton of Lochiel, died on Friday, Sept. 4th, 1942, at the General Hospital, Norfolk, Va. His death followed but a brief illness.

In addition to his widow and small children, he leaves an aunt, Mrs. John Fox of Lachine, Que., and two sisters: Miss Mary Bell MacMillan and Mrs. Leo Brick, both of Montreal.

Lighting Curb Effective Sunday

Advertising signs will shut off and street lighting be curtailed in this area, effective at sundown Sunday, Sept. 20th, as the result of an order issued by Munitions Minister Howe this week in a move to conserve power supplies for war industries.

In announcing the restrictions Mr. Howe called on domestic consumers to take steps to cut their use of electricity by 20 per cent.

The Minister's announcement made it plain that curtailment under the order and voluntary reduction by householders would not be sufficient to meet a shortage of 400,000 horsepower in the two provinces.

A saving of some 160,000 horsepower will be effected "by cutting off non-essential users whenever and wherever necessary," the announcement said. (Already power available to the Ontario Paper Company at Thorold, Ont., has been ordered reduced.)

The compulsory reduction in the use of electricity for advertising and other purposes will save about 140,000 horsepower and an additional saving of 100,000 horsepower is anticipated from the co-operation of domestic consumers.

In the affected area the power shortage has become so acute that unless there is public co-operation to reduce the consumption there will not be enough power available for war industries, Mr. Howe said. Expansion of war plants will bring new demands on power plants which are already operating at capacity.

High Schools Open

The High Schools of Glengarry will open on Tuesday next at 9.00 o'clock. All parents are urged to have their children present at that time so that the minimum of time may be lost in organization.

Partridge, Duck Season Openings

Hugh E. Raymond of Apple Hill, Deputy Game Warden in this area, has received word of the open season dates for duck and partridge hunting.

The duck season in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry will extend from October 1st to December 15th. Each day's shoot is limited to 12 with a bag of 150 for the season.

In both districts the partridge season will be from Oct. 3rd to Oct. 17th and from Nov. 2nd to Nov. 14th, the bag limited to 5 per day and no more than 25 for both periods.

Responding to the request of a delegation representing the Alexander School, members of the Alexandria High School Board, meeting in the school, here, Monday evening, decided to introduce a course in advanced French subjects for the benefit of pupils who have taken the prescribed bilingual course in primary schools. The Board agreed to engage a part-time teacher at a salary of $500. for the teaching of French literature, composition and grammar to the bilingual students.

The delegation, made up of Rev. L. B. Lafontaine, O.P., Dr. Primeau and J. A. Laurin, made clear the fact that introduction of the special French course would not in any way effect the regular school curriculum. All students will take the English course with special provision being made for the bilingual pupils receiving the advanced French subjects. French grammar and composition will, as before, be part of the regular curriculum for English speaking students.

It was explained that bilingual students have already completed their primary course in French subjects in Grades 9 and 10 at the Alexander school and under ordinary conditions would not be able to advance in these subjects at A.H.S. The new course will allow them to take more advanced French while also absorbing the regular secondary school subjects.

For some years now Grades 9 and 10 of the High School course have been taught in Alexander School but this year it has been found impossible to continue because of the large enrolment at that school. By transferring the estimated 35 to 40 students to A.H.S. the problem is being solved.

A meeting of some 200 parents and ratepayers of the district was held at the Alexander school on Monday evening, when the delegation was appointed to present the following petition to the High School Board:

"WHEREAS there are at present in the Alexandria High School District a minimum of forty French-speaking pupils who have completed their elementary course in both French and English, and who desire to pursue their High School studies in both these languages;

"WHEREAS such High School courses are provided for French-speaking pupils by the regulations of the Ontario Department of Education, and in fact are given in several public secondary schools of this Province;

"WHEREAS, due to the non-existence of such French courses in the Alexandria High School, many ratepayers of this district are compelled, at considerable additional expense and inconvenience, to send their children to outside secondary schools;

"THEREFORE, We the undersigned parents and ratepayers of the Alexandria High School District, beg to request that the Alexandria High School Board provide instruction in French for our children, at the Alexandria Alexandria High School, in accordance with the Ontario Departmental Courses of Study and Examinations for French-speaking pupils.

It is well to note that the unanimous granting of the above request does not change the pre-existing status of the English-speaking pupils. They will be deprived of nothing, nor will anything new be imposed upon them. The change consists in the sole fact that, while the English-speaking will follow as usual the regular French course obligatory in all Public High Schools of the Province, the French-speaking

Still Going Overseas

Some 50 copies of the Glengarry News still go overseas weekly to members of the Canadian fighting forces. Enquiring at Ottawa on the new ruling which forbids mailing of newspapers overseas, has disclosed the fact that this does not apply to publishers mailing papers to addresses already on their subscription list.

Appointed Assessor

At a special meeting of the Alexandria council this week, Mr. Peter J. Morris was appointed Assessor. He will undertake at once the work which is behind schedule.

The Ottawa Spotlight

BY M. McDOUGALL

Ottawa.—The attack on Dieppe, in which as Mr Churchill has pointed out five-sixths of the force engaged was Canadian, is gradually becoming merged in the background of the war. Other achievements of the Canadian forces overseas will doubtless take its place perhaps overshadow it, but aside from its strategical value as a "reconnaissance in force" Dieppe has removed a good deal of the sense of frustration which has bothered the army and people of this country—the army in particular. The inaction of the forces in Britain has been unavoidable. They were on guard, trained to the minute, ready for invasion of the continent. Dieppe has given the Canadian army a glimpse of the dawn of the invasion of Europe, which as allied leaders have clearly said will come when the appointed hour strikes. There is no question that Canada's war effort is appreciated in Britain. There were cheers in the commons at Westminster when Mr Churchill told of Canada's achievement at Dieppe. With the more complete "Canadianization" of the air squadrons of this country in Britain and elsewhere, and the appointment of a liaison officer with the air squadrons in Egypt, there will be a more immediate recording of the exploits of Canadian airmen as Canadians. It has, however, been frequently emphasized that the publicity given Canada's war effort in the United States has not been adequate, and it is mainly to remedy this situation that the Wartime Information Board, with Charles Vining as chairman, has been appointed. It was also part of the theme of the recent broadcast address of prime minister Mackenzie King on the third anniversary of Canada's entry into the war.

Canadians, Mr King pointed out, had every reason to feel pride in what the country has done for the allied cause in three years of war. The speech was perhaps the most complete summary that had been made of the growth of Canada's armed forces on the land on sea and in the air—exceeding in numbers Canada's armed forces in the last war—of the country's contributions in war equipment and food to the United Nations and of Canada's immediate and unrestricted assistance to Britain in hours of acute danger. There are now half a million men in Canada's volunteer forces, which is the equivalent in proportion to population to six million in the United States.

A subject very much in the public mind these days is the growing part played by women in the rising tide of armament in Canada. "Their growing skill is adding daily to the mounting volume of machines and munitions issuing from Canadian factories and workshops," said Mr. King in his speech. Major General Jean Knox,

The Bomber Press Visits England

(By Walter R. Legge in collaboration with C. V. Charters)
(The first of a series of articles on Canadian Forces in England written especially for the weekly newspapers of Canada by their two representatives on a sponsored tour of England.)

To pay a visit to England under present day conditions, it is first necessary to have government permission or invitation. In the case of the recent visit by Canadian editors, the trip was the result of a suggestion by General McNaughton that a party of Canadian Editors should be given an opportunity to see just how the Canadian forces were living and training overseas.

Two weekly editors were asked to become members of the party and the choice fell to C. V. Charters, managing director of the C.W.N.A., and Walter R. Legge, immediate past president of the association.

After brief preparation, the party assembled in Montreal, and prepared to leave for England by Bomber Ferry Command.

Preparation for the trip gives the first definite feeling that one is entering the war zone when the "briefing" takes place. This is a long and serious procedure involving a very complete check of your passports, life details and credentials. Following the clerical details, the prospective voyager is fitted with parachute harness.

This is a heavy and cumbersome affair which has to be fitted quite tightly and leaves the victim feeling that he is something like a trussed ox. After receiving full instructions on how to operate the parachute, measurements are taken for the flying suit which is necessary in most flights which are made at varying heights from 10,000 to 25,000 feet.

Next comes fitting and instructions in the use of an oxygen mask, also necessary at those great heights.

Baggage, which is limited to 40 pounds, is weighed in, and after some further details, the passengers are sent back to the hotel with instructions to await a call.

On comparing notes after this routine, we found that nearly every member of the party was told a different story as to when we might start. Some were told that there was no plane available while others were told to be ready at 8.30 the next morning, and others were instructed to expect a call sometime in the middle of the night.

This is probably part of the plan to keep movements as secret as possible. Actually the cars called for us at the hotel early next morning. The plane arranged for us was a large four-motored Liberator, which had been fitted with two long benches for us to sit on. Seven of our party had left a couple of days before, but other passengers with us made the party up to 13, a fact which did not seem to bother anyone.

Several in the party were going into the air for the first time and could not escape a feeling of trepidation. Those big machines give a feeling of tremendous power and it did not seem strange to be far above the clouds in a few minutes.

The amount of room in the plane was surprising, and while there was not enough space for everyone to lie down, it was not really crowded. The noise is deafening, and prevents any lengthy conversation. There is really nothing to do but read, but it did not seem a long time before we were over Newfoundland. This is the real way to see just what the country is like, and the plane coming down to about 5,000 feet, we had a fine view of the country, and could really appreciate the amount of water in this island.

It is a country of inlets, bays, lakes and trees, making a beautiful sight from that height. Settlements are few and far between.

Four hours and a half after leaving Montreal, we were gently set down at a huge airport in Newfoundland. Here we were given a pass and taken to Eastbound Inn for dinner.

One interesting thing about Newfoundland is that it seems to be impossible to get anything but tinned milk.

The airport is so large that transportation is necessary to move around it very much, so that we really did not see much of it.

A railway train attracted our attention and the engine carried a message painted on its sides, "Britain Delivers the Goods."

After a stop of about four hours, the party embarked again, this time with only eleven passengers, as two who left Montreal were bound only for Newfoundland.

We settled as well as we could for a long tedious night as the plane steadily forged ahead at a high speed. Looking through the small windows we could see a breathtaking vista of a fleecy floor of clouds brilliantly illuminated by the moon.

The longest night comes to an end, and soon after a wonderful sunrise, views of Northern Ireland could be obtained through breaks in the clouds. The views of the Irish countryside, which looked like an old fashioned patchwork quilt will always remain as one of the most beautiful sights we have ever seen.

Soon we approached our destination and the pilot set the huge plane down with hardly a tremor.

Our formalities with the customs and immigration were expedited, and after breakfast that we had not enough time to finish, we started on the train journey to London, a journey which took longer than the trip from America. Everyone has to look after his own baggage these days on the English railroads, and space on the trains is at a premium. The first group of our party were forced to stand up for hours on this long trip, but we were more fortunate in that respect, although we had nothing to eat all day until late at night at London.

We have described the trip across the Atlantic in some detail, but until after our return to Canada when we can write at leisure, only the outline of our activities will be given.

It had been announced that we would have four days to rest up after our arrival, but we soon wondered what they meant by "rest". Every moment seemed to be crowded with some appointment.

Saturday was taken up with registration, and application for ration cards, photos for our passes of which there were so many that Mr. Napier Moore claimed that he had to buy a duffle bag to hold them.

Just before noon, we had a conference with the Canadian High Commissioner, the Hon. Vincent Massey at which he welcomed the editors. In the course of this informal discussion Mr. Massey remarked that there were too few Canadian resident correspondents, against 15 Australian and about 200 American.

For lunch we were taken to the Canadian Officers Club, which is near Canada House, and found Mrs. Vincent Massey behind a counter serving the meal.

The programme for Sunday was a full one. Starting out, the two representatives of the weekly press attended early service at St. Martin-in-the-fields. Then after a hurried breakfast, the whole party started off in cars to visit a farm which had won medals as the best farm in Berkshire. This will be described in more detail in subsequent articles.

After a close study of this farm, we went on to Maidenhead, on the banks of the Thames for luncheon.

Windsor Castle was the objective for the afternoon, and a couple of hours were spent in this historical place.

After the long journey back, some of the party were not too tired to go and listen to the orators in Hyde Park.

Monday was an even more exacting day. Lengthy visits were paid to Canadian Red Cross Headquarters, a Canadian Legion Hostel, the Salvation Army hostel on Southampton Row, the Y.M.C.A. hostel, on Leinster Court Road, the Knights of Columbus hostel in the same street, the Maple Leaf Club, the Union Jack Club, and the Beaver Club. Then we visited the Daily Telegraph, the Reuters Building, and ended up late at night at the daily Telegraph.

In each of those places we went up and down stairs and through room after room so that most of us welcomed our beds.

On Tuesday, the High Commissioner gave luncheon for the member of the party which was a notable affair in that much valuable information was secured. After visits to various places in the afternoon, the day concluded with a visit to the Daily Express.

Wednesday morning was spent at the British Ministry of Information, and at noon we met Major General, the Hon. P. J. Montague who is senior officer of the Canadian Military Headquarters.

This conference lasted some time, after which detailed instructions concerning the forthcoming trip were given, and we prepared to really start work the next day.

The summary of our activities will continue in the next article and more detailed accounts of the various phases of our activities will follow later.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

SKILLED workers have "know-how". So have the makers of Coca-Cola. Coca-Cola has that extra something. Almost anybody can make a soft drink, but nobody else can make Coca-Cola.

There's a finished art in its making which gives Coca-Cola a special quality...its unique taste comes from a blend of pure, wholesome essences, — refreshment that can't be copied.

No other drink gives this special plus...this unique taste and after-sense of refreshment.

War-time limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember Coca-Cola, being first choice, is the first to go. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola will not be changed in any respect.

Long, hard-working hours tire you out—slow up production. You need a brief rest-pause. So, when the schedule calls for time-out for a "breather", a moment for ice-cold, energizing Coca-Cola leads to better work.

The best is always the better buy!

Tiny War Saver Launches "Blitz"

More than 50 Miss Canadas invaded Montreal's main shopping district last week in a special two-hour War Savings blitz. Drawn from the city's five main department stores, the Miss Canadas broke all selling records after Little Ginette Racicot launched the drive by purchasing the first 25 cent stamp. Similar drives are now planned in other cities across Canada.

SAARBRUCKEN'S STILL BURNING!

Less than 22 hours after they had left the German industrial city of Saarbrücken in flames, this Royal Canadian Air Force bombing "team" reached Ottawa to tell Canadians at first hand the sort of job our airmen are doing overseas. These lads loosed their load of deadly bombs on Saarbrücken at 2.21 a.m. and they were in Ottawa by the following midnight to report that the Nazi city was "flaming like a ruddy circus." Pictured above on their arrival in Ottawa the lads are (LEFT TO RIGHT) Flight Sergeant S. C. "Siggy" Lee, 29-year-old navigator of the crew from Minnedosa, Man., Flight Sgt. M. G. K. Sveinsson, 24-year-old wireless operator from Eftros, Sask., Pilot Officer J. B. "Johnny" Higham, D.F.C., 22-year-old "skipper" of the crew who hails from Assiniboia, Sask., Flight Sgt. Donald R. Morrison, 21-year-old tail gunner who comes from Wolfville N.S., and 19-year-old Flight Sergeant Art Loach front gunner and bomb aimer Islington (near Toronto).

While the flames they had helped to ignite were still consuming vast areas of the German city of Saarbrücken, a Royal Canadian Air Force bomber crew landed at Ottawa recently, little less than 22 hours after they had dropped their bomb load on that nerve centre of Nazi industry. "It was flaming like a ruddy circus" was one of the lads' report on his glimpse of Saarbrücken. These youngsters have completed more than a score of operations over enemy territory, dropping thousands of pounds of bombs. They have participated in the 1000-bomber attack on Cologne and every important raid before Saar-

No Guesswork With Sugar

One of the Home Economists in the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture has been experimenting to find out just how much can be done with a basket of early apples and a pound of sugar. Under a recent ruling one pound of extra sugar was made available for every eight pounds of early fall apples, bought for cooking purposes. Duchess and Waltham apples are the best buys in cooking apples during the month of September.

It was found that a family of six could have generous servings of five different desserts, which exactly used up both the sugar and the apples. Of course there could be no guesswork allowed in the sugar measurements; but all who tasted the desserts agreed that they were amply sweet.

First on the list came that old favorite, apple pie, which took 9 apples and 2-3 cup of sugar.

Applesauce was made from 6 apples cooked in 1 cup of water, then rubbed through a sieve to remove the skins and cores. 3 tablespoons of sugar were then added. Had we added the sugar while the apples were cooking, this amount would not have been enough. The rule about adding sugar after the fruit is cooked applies to all stewed fruits, fresh or dried.

Apple dumplings are always popular, and these were extra-special, served with a maple sauce. 6 apples and 4 tablespoons sugar were used for ten dumplings.

An apple crisp was made next, and this took a larger proportion of sugar than any of the other desserts. It is suggested that brown sugar be borrowed from the family ration, and be replaced with the 3-4 cup of white from the special allowance for this recipe.

8 apples 3-4 cup sugar 3-4 cup flour 3 tablespoons butter 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon 1-2 teaspoon cloves.

Mix sugar, flour, and spices and rub in the butter till the mixture is crumbly. Slice the apples in the bottom of a buttered baking dish and cover with the sugar mixture, which should be patted down. Bake about 20 minutes in a moderate oven—350 degrees till apples are tender and top is browned.

There were now two apples and two tablespoons of sugar left, and these were used to make a Dutch Apple Cake, using the following recipe.

Dutch Apple Cake

2 cups flour 3 teaspoons baking powder 1 egg 2 apples 1-2 teaspoon salt 1-4 cup butter 2-3 cup milk 2 tablespoons sugar 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients except the sugar and cinnamon. Cut or rub in the butter, add the milk and beaten egg gradually. Spread 1-2 inch thick on a shallow buttered pan. Pare, cut the apples in sections lengthwise, and set in rows on the dough with the thin edge pressed lightly into the dough; sprinkle the top with sugar and cinnamon, bake in a hot oven 400 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes. Serve with cream.

Canada as a whole, has a good crop of early apples this year, and it is the pleasantly patriotic duty of Canadians to help eat them up, as these early apples are not suitable for winter storage or for export.

Urge Discontinuance Of Serving "Sweets"

Byrne Sanders ("Mrs. Consumer" of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board) has appealed to women's organizations throughout the country to forego the serving of tea, coffee and "sweets" at their meetings so that maximum supplies of these commodities may remain available for normal civilian consumption under rationing.

Hairpins And Bobby Pins Are Affected

Hairpins and bobby pins manufactured in Canada are affected by an order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board which requires the utilization of low carbon steel wire instead of high carbon steel wire, in their production. It is also ordered that metal hairpins shall not exceed two inches in length. The step has been taken in order to conserve vital metals for war production purposes.

Urges Delay In Starting Of Fires

In order to conserve fuel supplies, the coal administrator, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, suggests that furnace fires be not started until they are absolutely necessary. He further recommends that until the arrival of really cold weather, small fires lit in the morning and in the evening on cool days should be sufficient to provide for reasonable comfort and take the chill from houses.

Highlanders In Germany

Twelve sets of bagpipes have recently arrived in Nazi Germany. They are not as some satirically-minded have maintained, a new type of nerve-warfare designed by the British in reply to the German screaming bomb. They have been sent out there to be played by Scottish prisoners of war, and they reached their destination through the good offices of the Red Cross.

Oddly enough, a great many of the bagpipes used by Highland troops are made in London. No fewer than two hundred sets have recently been turned out by this firm, and given to the War Office for issue to Scottish regiments.

The ivory alone used for the fittings costs $500. Sheep from the Scottish Highlands supplied the skin for the bags, and the wood for the drones and the chanters comes from Africa. It is African blackwood, and it arrives in Kentish Town in rough logs, where it is sawn up. The reeds are from Spanish cane.

This firm made pipes for Queen Victoria's piper, who played them up at Balmoral on many occasions more than sixty years ago.

All War Jobs In Selective Service

Your job is a war job. Just because you are not working in a war department or in a munitions factory, it does not mean that your job is not vitally necessary to victory, government authorities point out as the fourth year of war opens.

It has been emphasized that if the housewives, the sales girls, the office workers, and the transportation workers quit their jobs, then the efforts of the country would collapse just as fast as if the United Nations suffered a military defeat.

Under the Selective Service plan, the government will decide where workers are most needed. The job some people do may not seem to them important—perhaps it is pounding a typewriter in a business office, standing behind a counter or doing housework—nevertheless it may be vitally necessary to home must be kept oiled, the front line of life must be maintained in the war effort because the wheels at order to keep the home front steady and strong.

Blue Ration Book If Old One Lost

Consumers who may lose their ration books or have them so damaged or mutilated that they cannot be employed, will not be issued new ones until they have completed statutory declarations upon a form stipulated by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. If the old books are subsequently found they must be returned. New books replacing them will have blue covers so that they may be easily identified.

Extra Sugar For Canning To End

After the end of the present month it will be no longer possible for consumers to obtain extra sugar for home canning or preserving by means of purchase vouchers. A new sugar order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board also provides that any sugar procured by purchase voucher for that purpose must be used not later than October 31, when the preserving season is presumed to end.

Soldiers Asked To Return Ration Cards

Individuals who have joined the armed forces since the issue of the temporary ration cards last July and who now receive permanent ration books are asked to surrender them without delay to their commanding officers for forwarding to the appropriate ration officer, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Mrs McIntosh was born at Loch Garry, Feb. 6th, 1864, her maiden name being Margaret McDonald, a daughter of the late John B. McDonald and his wife Catherine Grant. She spent most of her life at Apple Hill but the last few months she was with her son John D. McIntosh and Mrs McIntosh in Kingston, and lately with her brother Mr Duncan A. McDonald, Loch Garry.

Mrs McNaughton Dies At Lancaster

Lancaster lost one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents in the death on Wednesday, Sept. 9th of Mrs W. J. McNaughton. The deceased who was formerly Miss Isabel Edgar, was born in the second concession of Lancaster on Oct. 23rd 1859 and was the last member of that family.

In August 1941 she met with an accident at her home on Oak Street, which necessitated her removal to Cornwall General Hospital suffering from a fractured hip. Returning to Lancaster the following month she was taken to the home of her son Robert and Mrs. McNaughton where she received every attention in the months that followed and had recovered nicely. About six weeks ago she went to visit her daughter Mrs. J. R. McLachlan and Mr McLachlan and was apparently enjoying good health until Sunday when she suffered a stroke from which she never regained consciousness.

She was a woman of many beautiful traits of character. She had a kind and affectionate disposition with a cherry greeting for her friends on all occasions and will be sadly missed by all. She was a diligent church worker and was an honorary president in both The Ladies Aid and Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church. Her home was always open to members of these societies and their friends, and many pleasant memories will be cherished of gatherings held in her home.

The funeral which was largely attended was held on Friday afternoon from the residence of J. R. McLachlan to St. Andrew's Church where the service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Smith assisted by Rev. G. E. Evans of Knox Church. Interment took place in the family plot in second concession cemetery.

The pall bearers were six nephews, Robert Edgar, E. L. McNaughton, R. D. McNaughton, Alex F. McLennan, Lorne McBain, Thomas Ross.

The casket was surrounded by beautiful flowers, a silent token of love from family and friends. Many messages of sympathy were received by the family.

Left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother are three sons and two daughters, A. E. McNaughton, R. W. McNaughton, Lancaster, John McNaughton, Manitoba, Mrs J. R. McLachlan and Mrs Louise Pattinagle, Lancaster.

THE ADDRESS

Dear Mr. and Mrs MacDonell: The very presence of your numerous friends and relatives here this evening is a proof of the sentiments of joy and felicitations entertained by all on this happy occasion.

True it is a family festival, and one which is as touching as it is rare, for to the very few is given the privilege of celebrating a golden jubilee of marriage. It is only fitting, therefore, that the occasion should be marked if only by some slight recognition.

Fifty years of happy family life have passed for you, and we, your friends, are glad to join with you in thanking God for the many blessings He has bestowed upon you both. They have been years of joys and sorrows, as befalls the lot of the majority of human beings, but after a half century of married life you can truthfully say that you have made a success of it.

On an occasion of this kind naturally our thoughts travel back over the years to that happy day when, at the foot of God's Altar, you promised each other love and loyalty, trust and fidelity. With the help of God's grace these promises have been faithfully kept, and God's blessings have followed in abundance. The years of your married life have seen cloudy as well as sunny days—days of joy and sorrow. God has seen fit to send you some heavy crosses, but with every cross there was a crown, and for half a hundred years you have gone hand in hand over life's rocky road bearing each other's burdens, supporting each other and consoling each other.

It is a coincidence that the celebration of your golden jubilee comes at a time when Duncan Angus and Anna are starting out on the same career which you began fifty years ago. And we venture to say that the success you made of your life, and the co-operation you have shown to God's grace over the years, will be a shining example for them to follow in your footsteps.

And so, dear friends, as a token of our congratulations and best wishes, and as an expression of the high esteem you hold in the hearts of your neighbours and friends, we ask you to accept this small purse. Greenfield, September 7th, 1942.

Poorest of All Indian

Tribes Were the Gosiute

Lack of clothing made the Gosiute Indians of special interest to anthropologists. This American tribe was so poor before the white men came to his homeland on the Great Salt desert that it had little to wear, according to a study now being completed by Dr. Julian H. Stewart, Smithsonian Institution anthropologist.

Anthropologists are interested in the Gosiutes because they are considered the lowest culture among American Indians before the discovery of Columbus and later explorers. The tribe roamed over 172,000 square miles of barren lava plains of the Great Salt desert, extending across Utah and Nevada.

Because they lived on the desert wastes, where few of their fellow Indians ventured of their own free will, these peoples were cut off from contact with others, and thus struggled to survive without aid from outside. Even large game and wild seeds were scarce, and during the barren winter the Gosiutes ate mice, gophers, ants, lizards and other reptiles.

The tribes had only brush wind-breaks or caves for shelters against the intense cold of the mountain desert winters. Utensils and tools were few, although baskets, pots, bows and arrows were part of every family's possessions. With their weapons the tribesmen were able to kill an occasional large game animal which wandered out over the desert, or the wild rabbits.

Laws 'Agin' Smoking in ### Bed, Cussing, Smoking

You can't swear in Elkton, Md. A city ordinance of June 1, 1936, made the use of improper speech "in or about business premises" punishable by fine or imprisonment and held the proprietors of buildings responsible. Likewise in Burnsville, W. Va., Mayor C. E. Whysell decreed a fine for all who could not curb their speech.

The mayor of Keosauqua, Iowa, the same month, issued a ukase to his 1,000 citizens that they must not smoke in bed.

Despite an almost embarrassing proximity to the night club, super-sophisticated city of New York, the puritan aldermen of Yonkers have banned the wearing of shorts by the fair and sometimes fat sex. The reason was moral, not a gesture of transcendental esthetics.

In Brea, Ohio, an ancient but still unrepealed statute makes it illegal for you to take your dog or cat out after dark without a red light on the animal's tail. Whiskers, "complete or partial," are illegal in Los Angeles, but beards are standard equipment required by the laws of Brainerd, Minn., and Centralia, Wash., according to the scholarly researches of Dick Hyman whose mad compilations are called "It's the Law." An ancient statute makes it illegal to play the fiddle in Boston or to own a dog more than 10 inches high. "It is against the law in the state of Virginia to have a bathtub inside a house; same shall be kept in the yard."

Suitable for Defense Homes

The characteristics of low cost and operating economy of a new hot water and steam boiler make it particularly suitable for defense homes built for two or more families. A scientifically designed combustion chamber and long, double gallery flue passages provide high efficiency and economy. A small water content and large steam space give quick heat and dry steam. All section and door contacts are machine ground to make them tight and air-proof. Special features of the new boiler set a high standard of convenience. These include air cooled handles, foot treadle door openers, and a new type of grate shaker located conveniently at the side. Concealed hinges add to the beauty of the unit which is suitable for use with all fuels, automatic or hand-fired.

For Army Men

American troops in the field, away from canteens or other stores, may be issued tobacco and candy as part of their daily ration at the discretion of the commander of the field forces, the war department points out. Army regulations provide that in a theater of operations, when such articles cannot be obtained otherwise by troops, their issue may be authorized by the commander from stocks supplied by the quartermaster corps. The regulation which he may invoke provides for a daily ration of one ounce of candy, one-half box of matches (20 matches) and 20 cigarettes, or one ounce of chewing or smoking tobacco. For soldiers who "roll their own," cigarette papers are authorized for issue.

Let Doctor Prescribe Them

Hailed as the "miracle" drug, sulfanilamide and its related compounds are indeed achieving amazing results on many cases for which they have been found to be specific, says a report. Yet "sulfa" has powerful reactions, and even skilled physicians find extreme care necessary in its use. The average layman has no more business buying these drugs and taking them without close medical supervision than he would have in buying insulin or morphine, or in performing home surgery on his family.

OBITUARY

MISS LILAS LIBOIRON

A bright and promising young life was ended when the death of Lilas Liboiron occurred at St. Lawrence Sanatorium on Thursday morning August 6th.

The late Miss Liboiron, a daughter of Mr and Mrs Edmond Liboiron of St. Raphaels, was in her 28th year, and had been a patient in the above named hospital for more than four years.

At first she seemed to be making favourable progress and every hope was held out for her recovery until a few weeks previous to her death.

Her kind thoughtfulness and cheerful disposition were outstanding qualities and won for her a host of friends before and during her illness.

Besides her parents she leaves to mourn her loss one brother Alcuin. Her only sister Edmondine, Mrs Arthur Trotter of Ottawa predeceased her more than two years ago.

Her funeral on Saturday, Aug. 8th to St. Raphaels Church, was very largely attended, a fitting tribute from her many relatives and friends.

Rev. D. A. Campbell, pastor officiated, and burial was made in the family plot. The pall bearers were Messrs Leo. Carroll and J. Maleson, Montreal, Valmore Charlebois, St. Telephone, Donald McRae, Valleyfield, Fernand Liboiron, Kingston and Mathias Valade, St. Raphaels.

There were numerous Mass offerings and messages of sympathy.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Achille Lafrance, William Laframboise, Mrs. Victoria Fortier, Mrs. Arthur Gauthier, Leo Carroll and J. Maleson, Montreal, Donald McRae, Valleyfield, and Fernand Liboiron, Kingston.

High Schools of the Province, as provided for and outlined by the Regulations of the Ontario Department of Education. To this effect we will quote from a letter of the Deputy Minister of Education to the Secretary of the Sudbury High School:

"I am directed by the Minister of Education to acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 10th (1940), and in reply to state that pupils who enter High Schools, on the completion of the Grade VIII course in Public and Separate Schools, are required under the Regulations to take in Grade IX what may be described as a "general" or "try-out" course, the programme of which consists of certain specified obligatory subjects, as set forth in Circular 46 for French-speaking pupils, and in the Regulations relating to Subjects of Study for Grades IX to XIII for other pupils. Under separate cover I am sending you copies of these circulars and you will note that in both cases French is an obligatory subject of study. The French of this course is naturally, and properly, an extension of the French courses which the French-speaking pupils have taken in the lower grades; for other Grade IX students it is a beginners' course. French is not usually a subject of study in the elementary schools which are not attended by French-speaking pupils."

(Signed) G. F. Rogers,

preciation of you, as members of this community. No matter when you are called upon for help, you have given your services with a smile. No matter when your home was visited, the visitors were met with a smile of welcome.

Twenty-five years ago you stood side by side to take the highest vow that humans can take. The anniversaries which mark the passing of each September twelfth are golden doorways in the corridor of time. To-night, we mark one of those, a turning point in life's journey, your silver wedding anniversary.

The home is the foundation of society, of our country as a whole. Sturdy citizens in happy homes build a strong democracy. To this end have you bent your labours and your lives. Our humble prayers go up for the perpetuation of your health and the safe-guarding of your family circle.

That life's sweetest offerings to those who live and love and cherish the goodness and beauty of the very living, may continue to you and yours; that in the sanctity of your home you may know the achievements of your destinies; such is our hope and wish in this anniversary hour of your lives. And so, on behalf of the neighbours and other friends we ask you to accept this token of the esteem in which you and yours are held, carrying with it, as it does, the hope that life's journey will unfold many sunny days, and that every cloud will be a silver banner, pointing forward to greater things.

Signed on behalf of neighbours and other friends,

Huge Increase In Farm Income Shown In 1942

Cash income from the sale of farm products in Canada in the first six months of 1942 totalled $399,200,000 against $343,309,000 in the same period in 1941 and $259,300,000 in 1940, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates.

The most important feature of the 1942 cash income was the substantial increase which occurred in the returns from live stock and live stock products.

Income from wheat was sharply lower in the first half of 1942 as compared with the same period of 1941. This reduction was due to the abnormally large proportion of the 1940 crop marketed during the early months of 1941.

Income from cattle and calves increased from $53,800,000 in the first half of 1941 to $78,000,000 in 1942. Income from hogs increased from $62,800,000 to $89,300,000 and in the case of dairy products the increase was from $70,200,000 to $97,400,000. Greater output combined with higher prices were responsible for these increases.

Ontario Highest
Cash income in the first half of 1942 was greater than in the same months of 1941 in all provinces except Saskatchewan. The greatest increase occurred in Ontario where live stock products predominate as sources of farm income. Substantial gains were also recorded in Quebec, the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia.

The bureau said the greatest percentage of farm cash income is usually received during the last six months of the year when marketings of grain and live stock are at a high level.

In 1941 total cash income for the year was $76,500,000, of which 39.2 percent had been received up to the end of June. In 1940, when there was a more normal distribution of income from wheat, only 35.1 percent of the total income for the year was received during the first six months.

"Record yields of grains and a further expansion in live stock production should result in a high level of income to farmers during the last half of 1942," the bureau said. "Income from wheat, however, will depend largely on the volume of deliveries which will be possible in the light of the crowded storage situation. The minimum price of wheat is, however, 20 cents per bushel higher than a year ago."

No Subsidies
"Income received by farmers in the form of Government subsidies and bonus payments are not included in these calculations, except in those cases where the assistance has resulted in higher prices to the producers."

The bureau stated the cash income from sale of farm products for the first six of the year, by provinces, was as follows, with 1941 figures in brackets.

P. E. I.	$4,606,000	($2,892,000)
N. S.	8,821,000	(7,011,000)
N. B.	8,905,000	(8,039,000)
Que.	97,024,000	(54,104,000)
Ont.	148,144,000	(106,510,000)

Town, Country Meet To Save Fuel

This Autumn it is patriotic "hot stuff" to be cold. Because fuel must be saved officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board are urging Canadians to use as little as possible.

Many people who live in the country still experience that early morning chill in houses which have no central heating equipment. This year their city neighbors are asked to follow suit and manage with small fires lighted only for an hour or two in the morning and in the evening.

The coal administrator is anxious that furnace fires should not be started early this year so that fuel can be conserved. This means that being a little chilly in the house should be regarded as all in the day's war work.

Raising Milk Production Is Wartime Job

Raising milk production is one of the most important war jobs which has been handed to the farmer because government officials and nutritionists are agreed that milk is vitally needed to maintain the fighting strength of the nation and the health of workers on the home front.

Cheese and butter have been on the Wartime Prices and Trade Board subsidy list for months, but recently a fluid milk subsidy was added to it. Under the new regulations it is expected that of will pay farmers to feed their cows better and build up milk production.

Agricultural authorities point out that a herd of 10 good dairy cows should produce an average of 25 pounds of milk for each cow, or a total of 250 pounds a day. Such a herd put no good after-grass should increase its production by at least five pounds a day per cow. This would mean an increase of another 1,500 pounds for the herd in one month and a substantial rise in the month's milk check for the farmer.

The basic subsidy being paid producers through the distributing plants is 25 cents per cwt. and in addition to this a schedule has been set up of minimum prices which distributors will be required to pay the producers. This will have the effect of giving an additional increase to producers of an average of 10 cents per cwt., making the total average increase to producers 35 cents or five cents more than the subsidy which was being paid last winter.

Bermuda Boasts Having Bar in Old Quarry

Stories have been written about many unusual bars and drinking places in the world, but Hamilton, Bermuda, boasts probably the only bar in a quarry.

"The Quarry's" was opened years ago in what used to be an old stone-cutter's working ground, which for years lay neglected between the northeast corner of the hotel American House, at Queen and Church streets.

Much of "The Quarry's" charm lies in the careful preservation of the uneven planes and projections of the walls, which have been allowed to remain exactly as they were hewn by the stonecutters. The rough texture and the soft tones of the natural stone add immeasurably to the general warmth of its atmosphere.

In the center of the room stands the bar, beneath a gaily-striped awning. The ceiling of the quarry proper is supported by massive beams and square pillars of natural stone, and in a niche at the eastern end is the bronze ship's bell of the barque "Francis Hilyard."

A little over 50 years ago the "Francis Hilyard," bound from Philadelphia to Antwerp, put into St. George's in distress. Proving to be hopelessly unseaworthy, she was subsequently sold at auction for the benefit of the underwriters. The bell attracted the eye of the late A. Paschal, who bid it in and installed it in the old bar at the American House. There, every New Year's eve, it became his custom to use it to ring the old year out and the new year in.

Believes Stars Are Source of Cosmic Ray

Some yet unexplained power within the stars to shoot out either positively or negatively charged electrical particles is believed to be the basic cause of the mysterious cosmic radiation, Thomas H. Johnson, assistant director of the Bartol Research foundation of the Franklin Institute, says in a report on cosmic ray knowledge published in the Physical Review.

Summarizing research findings of many workers studying cosmic rays through the world, Johnson suggests that these primary charged particles go out through the star's atmosphere and, in passage, create an abundance of secondary particles which are positive and negative electrons and the corpuscles of radiant energy called photons.

The charge of the primary particles, being of one sign, raises the potential of the star to the point where opposite charges are repelled and both types of particles move along with equal velocities, the heavier particles having the most energy, states Johnson's report.

Once outside the star the electrical particles and the photons go separate ways, the particles being held within the star galaxy by the galactic magnetic field, while the photons, uninfluenced by magnetism, pass out into intergalactic space.

White Garden in Moonlight

White flowers have so many uses in the garden.

For aesthetic purposes, they serve as peacemakers between colors that might otherwise clash.

And for gardeners who get most of their enjoyment from their grounds in the evening hours, white flowers are very desirable. Viewed by moonlight a green and white garden is indescribably beautiful. Examine by moonlight or artificial lighting a portion of your own or a friend's garden that is dominated by white flowers and see how much more effective the scene is than where colors are used in the garden scheme. If, in addition, your flowers are fragrant, your pleasure is doubled.

Another advantage of white flowers is that in many instances they have been found to have much higher visibility to those with failing sight. If you have an elderly person in your household whose sight is impaired because of age, or if a member of your family has poor vision because of other causes, plant a small green and white garden especially for his enjoyment. Here, too, fragrance is an added virtue.

Maximum Prices For Feed Wheat

The following statement by F. W. Present, Feeds Administrator, explains the position of feed, wheat as established following the recent steps taken to ensure that such wheat would be available for feed dealers at prices consistent with their basic period ceilings for feed.

W.P.T.B. Order No 84 has been rescinded and is replaced by Administrator's Orders Nos. A-365 and A-366. No. A-365 sets forth the formula by which feed dealers are to establish maximum prices of all feed grains in line with rulings previously given by the Feeds Administrator.

There has not been a definite ceiling price named by the Canadian Wheat Board with respect to wheat, as in the case of all of the other grains. However, up to the present time, wheat has been treated in the same manner as the other grains with respect to price ceilings, in that the person who has sold wheat for feed has been permitted to sell it on the basis of its cost to him, as governed by the current market prices quoted on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange for the in store position of wheat at Fort William or Port Arthur. Sellers are not permitted to add any additional or greater charges for the handling, processing, mixing or other services, beyond similar charges established by them during the basic period for similar services. This applies in all cases and through all the channels of trade, and is the basis upon which ceiling prices for the other feed grains as well as wheat are established.

It is necessary, therefore, for any seller to base his selling price on his current cost of the particular grade of any kind of grain that he may be selling. This will continue to apply in the case of wheat. However, in order to maintain the appropriate relationship between the cost of wheat and feed grain ceilings, a drawback, to be made on sales of wheat to be used for feed purposes in Canada, has been arranged. This drawback must, in all cases, be fully passed on to the final purchaser who is the farmer or feeder. The seller's price, therefore, will be based upon the current price which he has to pay for the grade of wheat he is handling, and it will be reduced in all cases throughout Canada by the amount of the drawback, and, in those areas where freight assistance is operative by the full amount of the freight assistance allowable.

Cleanliness For Poultry Health

The greatest limiting factor in profitable poultry production is disease, and because of this fact the old saying that prevention is better than cure is particularly applicable to poultry raising. Health of the flock cannot be maintained when the housing conditions are not hygienic.

The poultry house should receive at least one thorough cleaning each year and the most suitable time for that cleaning is in the autumn before the pullets are housed. All refuse that can be removed with a shovel and fork should first be taken out, states the Dominion Experimental Farm, Brandon, Man. The walls, ceiling, and floors should then be swept. The lower part of the walls, the floors, all feeding equipment, nests, and roosts should then be thoroughly scrubbed with hot water and lye. One pound of lye to each 40 gallons, or barrel, of water is sufficient. A well-worn house broom or deck brush is suitable for scrubbing when lye is being used. It is important that all encrusted filth be removed

After the poultry house has been allowed to dry, whitewash containing a good disinfectant should be applied with a brush or a spray. Broken weather during the harvest season is an opportune time to undertake this work

Farm Trucks Cars Allowed Alcohol

Owners of O passengers car and farm trucks on the farms and in or around towns scattered throughout Canada have been informed that they will be allowed sufficient alcohol for their automobile radiators this coming winter. This assurance was given in a recent Munitions and Supply order. The more stable anti-freeze types will be used in the making of explosives and other war materials.

Sales have been prohibited, for use in passenger cars, trucks, and motor cycles of anti-freeze known as the ethylene glycol type. Immense quantities of this anti-freeze are required for many war uses. A previous order banned the use of glycerine as anti-freeze for motor vehicles.

Canada Saves Steel By Limiting Number On Cans On Market

The sky used to be the limit for sizes and shapes of tin cans used for fruit and vegetables or their products. Three years ago there were 115 sizes of cans (see above at left) while on the market today there are only nine. Canada was faced with a metal shortage this year which made it essential to reduce the variety and sizes of cans and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board undertook the job to co-operate with the Department of Agriculture. The work was not as complex as it seems at first glance, however, because three years ago Department of Agriculture officials had cut the number manufactured to twenty-two. This was done in the interests of standardization.

The new regulation, it is pointed out, will mean that shoppers will no longer be able to get some of the small sizes of cans to which they are accustomed but by eliminating them the country is conserving 12,000 tons of steel. This means that 1,200,000 more Bren guns can be made or 428 Ram tanks. Sizes have been carefully checked and considered in an effort to keep the most needed sizes on the market (see picture above at right). Those which in future will be available on grocery shelves are 48, 28, 20, 14, 12, 10 and five ounce (baby food) sizes. Two other cans of 105 and 126 ounces for institution and commercial use will also be available.

Two Can Sing

by JAMES M. CAIN

W.M.U. RELEASE

When I got back to the house the kids were home and came running downstairs and said did I know we were all going that night to hear Ma sing. I said there had been a little change in the plans on that, and they were a little down in the mouth, but I said I had brought presents for them, and that fixed it up and we went running up to get them. I went in the nursery, where I'd left my bag. It wasn't there. Then I heard Doris call, and we went in the bedroom.

"Were you looking for something?"

"Yes. Are you awake?"

"Been awake.... You might find it in there."

She gave a funny little smile and pointed to the dressing-room. I went and for once she had to wait for me.

"How do I look?"

How she looked was like some nineteen year-old flapper who had spent her first day at the races, cashed $27.50 on a $2 ticket, and was feeling just swell.

It was only four or five blocks away so we walked. On the way, Doris kept cussing Gwenny and all of Gwenny's friends under her breath, and saying she'd rather take a horsewhipping than go in and face them. But when we got there she was all smiles. Only a few people had shown up by then, and most of them hadn't heard of it.

So they were all crowding around her with their congratulations and wanted to know what it felt like to be a big headliner. Of course that made it swell. But Doris leveled it out without batting an eye: "But I flopped! I'm an ex-headliner!"

"You—Come on. Stop being funny!"

"I flopped. I'm out. They gave me my notice."

"How could you flop?"

"Oh please, please, don't ask me—it just break's my heart. And now I can't go to Bermuda! Honestly, it's not the principle of the thing, it's the money! Think of all those lovely lovely dollars that I'm not going to get!"

She didn't lie about it, or pretend that she had done better than she had done or pretty it up in any way. She had too much sense for that. But in twenty seconds she had them switched off from the horrible part and had managed to work it in that she must have been getting a terrific price to go on at all, and had it going her way. Leighton came in while she was talking, and said the publicity was all wrong and he was going to do something about it, and in five minutes they were talking about football.

She drifted over to me. "Well, that's over. Was it all right?"

"Perfect."

"Damn them."

"Just a few minutes, and we'll blow away. We've still got my bag to unpack."

She nodded and looked at me, and let her lashes drop over her eyes. It was Eve looking at the apple, and my heart began to pound and the room swam.

Lorentz came in. He didn't come over. He waved and smiled and Doris waved back, but looked away quick. "I'm a little out of humour with Hugo. He must have known. You did, didn't you? He could have given me some little hint."

I thought of what he had said, but I didn't say anything.

We got separated then, but pretty soon she had me by the arm, pulling me into a corner. "We've got to go. Make it quick with Gwenny, and then—out!"

"Why, sure. But what's the matter?"

"The fool!"

"Who?"

"Gwenny. I could kill her. She knows how crazy I've been about that woman and how I've wanted to meet her, and now, today of all days, she had to pick out—she's invited her! And she's coming!"

"What woman?"

"Cecil Carver! I can't meet her today. I can't have her—putting me! Can I?"

"No. We'll blow."

"I'll meet you at the elevator—Oh, my! There she is!"

I looked around and, Cecil was just coming in the room. I turned back to Doris, and she wasn't there.

She was with Wilkins—Cecil, I mean. That meant, she was going to sing. There wasn't much talk while Gwenny was taking her around. They piped down, and waited. I was still in the corner and she didn't see me until Gwenny called me out. She caught her breath. Gwenny introduced me, and I said, How do you do, Miss Carver, and she said "How do you do, Mr. Borland," and they went on. But in a minute she came back. "Why didn't you tell me you were coming here?"

"I didn't know it."

"Is she here?"

"Didn't Gwenny tell you?"

"No."

"It was on her account she asked you."

"Her accounts?"

"She's wanted to meet you. So I just found out."

"Gwenny didn't say anything. She called an hour ago and said come on up—and I wanted to go somewhere."

"Why has she wanted to meet me?"

"Admires you. From afar."

"Where is she?"

"Back there somewhere, in one of the bedrooms, probably! Hiding."

"From what?"

"You, I think."

"Leonard, what is this? She wants to meet me, she's hiding from me—what are you getting at?"

"Gwenny asked you, as a big favor to her. But Gwenny hadn't heard about the flop, and on account of the flop, she'd rather not. Just—prefers some other time."

"And that's all?"

"Yeah, but it was an awful flop."

"You're sure you haven't told her about me? Gone and got all full of contrition, and made a clean breast of it and wiped the slate clean—have you? Have you?"

"No, not a word."

She turned and headed back toward the bedrooms.

"Cecil!" I called.

"She had a flop, didn't she? Then I guess I'm the one she wants to walk to." She went on back.

I went over and had a drink. I needed one.

I was on my third when she came back, and I went over to her. "What happened?"

"Nothing."

"What did you say?"

"Told her to forget it. Told her it could happen to anybody—which it can, baby, and don't you forget it."

"What did you say?"

"Asked if it had ever happened to me. I told her it had. . . She's not bad. I halfway like her."

She still didn't look at me, but I had the same old feeling about her, of how swell she was, and thought I'd die if I couldn't let her know anyway a little. "Cecil, can I say something?"

"Leonard, I cut my heart out after you left. I cut it out and put it in the electric refrigerator, to freeze. So if you've got anything to say you'd better go down there and see if it can still hear you. Me, I've got other things to do. I've got to be gay and sing tra-la-la-la, and get my talons into the first man that—"

She saw Lorentz then, went running over to him, put her arms around him and kissed him, and pulled him into a corner. It was gay, maybe, but it didn't make me feel any better.

Doris came out then and I hurried to her, and asked if she was ready to go.

"Oh—the tooth's out now. I think she's going to sing. Let's stay."

"Oh—you saw her, then?"

"She came back to powder. I didn't start it. She remembered me. She came to my recital, you may recall."

"Oh, yes. Well—did you like her?"

"Leonard, she's everything I ever thought she was and about a thousand times more. She had herad about it. My flop, I mean. One minute, Leonard, and she had made a different woman of me."

"Poured oil in the wound, hey?"

"Wound, my eye! Leonard, nothing has happened! It's just something that can happen to anybody. It has happened to her; it happens to them all. You take a drink and you forget about it."

A maid came around with a tray of Martinis. Doris took one, drank it, and set the glass on a table. "So that's what I'm doing. I don't have to quit. I don't have to give up my career just because some movie audience maybe hoped for a dog act instead of something good. It's just as she said. It's all in the day's work, and you just forget it—and go on."

I could hardly believe my ears. Here it had been only that morning that she had been broken on the wheel and had heard the gong ring for her if anybody ever did. And now, just because Cecil had handed her out a little line to make her feel better, she was standing there with her eyes wide open, telling herself that nothing had happened, that it was all just a dream. A little chilly feeling crept in on me, and I tried to fight it off. Well, had anything happened? Wasn't it all just a dream? Wasn't she the same old Doris, and wouldn't it be just about a day before we were back right where we started, with me having the career rubbed into me morning, noon, and night? I wondered if that was what they call pluck. To me, it was not having enough sense to know when you've been hit with a brick.

McCRIMMON

The regular monthly meeting of the MacCrimmon Women's Missionary Society was held in the Hall on Thursday, September 3, with the President, Mrs. J. K. MacSweyn presiding.

The meeting opened with singing of the first two verses of Hymn 649, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. Dae P. MacSweyn read the Bible lesson from Mathew 11: 1-20.

Minutes were read and approved, and nine members responded to the Roll Call. The Programme for 1942-43 was discussed, the new study book to be, "The Church in My Community."

This was followed by prayer by the Prayer Group.

After the singing of the last two verses of Hymn 649, the meeting closed by repeating of the Mizpah Benediction.

WILLIAMSTOWN

(Intended for last issue)

The W.M.S. of St. Andrew's United Church met in the vestry on Thursday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. MacRae, Mrs. Irvine conducted the meeting. After singing a hymn, Miss A. L. Dunlop read the 91st psalm. Mrs. Irvine read the scripture lesson on Fortitude and Fidelity from St. Luke 9-51 and 21-19 which was followed by prayer. As the temperance secretary was resigning it was moved and seconded that Mrs. Urquhart take the office. Mrs. Irvine then read "The Woman with the Message" which was a treatise on "Stewardship." The secretary and treasurer gave their reports and the meeting closed with prayer.

Save One for Me

It was three o'clock in the morning, and First Sergeant Frye dozed peacefully in the 76th Infantry orderly room. The sergeant was taking his turn at "charge of quarters."

A rap on the door interrupted his somnolent vigil.

"What do ya want this time o' night?" he asked.

He gulped as he opened the door to admit three young, very pretty ladies.

"Please, colonel," said one of the girls, "don't get sore. We are being initiated into a sorority and part of the initiation is to visit Camp Edwards at sunrise. We're a bit early, but would you mind showing us around the place in the meantime?"

Frye grabbed the telephone and called the M.P. on guard at the main gate.

"There are three nutty dames up here," he bawled into the mouthpiece. "I don't know how they got up here and get rid o' TWO of 'em!"

Can Linings

Cans are called tin, but in reality they are made of steel with tin plating because tin is too soft a metal to be used alone, and it is also too expensive. The finished can contains more than 98 per cent steel and less than 2 per cent tin. Most foods are satisfactorily canned in the usual tin can, but for some foods an enamel lining in a can is necessary in order to retain the good appearance of the food.

At the present time there are three types of enamel used for can linings and they are not interchangeable. One type is used to prevent red fruits and beets from losing their color, another is used to prevent discoloration by certain vegetables and seafood, and still another was developed for citrus products. Parchment paper linings, which were formerly used for some products such as shrimp to prevent discoloration, have been almost entirely replaced by enamel.

Andrew Johnson Too

The story of Abraham Lincoln's struggle to get an education has become classic, and rightly so, but he was not the only American President to teach himself what others learned in school. Andrew Johnson, according to biographers, could not read nor write when he was married at the age of 19. He struggled against great odds to get an education after he was a grown man, and his wife was much help to him. He, like Lincoln, was an apt student, and eagerly devoured many books after he learned to read. While he ran a tailor shop he paid people to read aloud to him while he worked, and thus became acquainted with much of the history and geography of the world. He was a self-made man.

"TIRED" ALL THE TIME

She felt miserable—draggy—low in vitality—lower in spirits. She hadn't thought of her kidneys, until a friend suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills. At once she took Dodd's. The "washed out" feeling was soon replaced by clear headed energy and restful sleep. Headache, backache, lassitude and other signs of faulty kidneys disappeared. 112

To Enlist Farmers

Will Require Permits

The Selective Service regulations set out that a farm worker may take any job for as long as 30 days, provided agricultural production is not retarded. No special permission is required for such month-long jobs.

To work for longer periods than 30 days, permits are required.

"These permits will be given farmers for the asking," Selective Service officials emphasized Monday morning. "It will be simple and easy for farm workers to get them."

Selective Service is going to the farms for the 110,000 additional bush camp workers required, because the Fall and Winter months are the off-seasons in agriculture.

To make it easy for all farmers to get work permits for jobs of more than 30 days, Selective Service is empowering the district representatives of the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Lands and Mines to operate as Selective Service Employment Officers.
