

Council Reaches Stalemate On Question Of Main Street Restrictions

Three Resolutions Defeated At Monday's Meeting And No Compromise Solution Found—Loud Fire Siren Sought

Town Council failed to agree on any one move to solve the Main street parking problem, at Monday evening's meeting, and the meeting abruptly broke up after a third suggested solution had been voted down. Discussion at the meeting centred almost wholly on this subject and there were almost as many suggestions as were brought forward at the public meeting a week previous.

Councillors Lefebvre and Cholette moved a resolution favoring the installation of parking meters to eliminate useless parking, but their two votes were the only ones in favor of such a step.

Councillor Gerald McDonald was seconded by Mayor Rouleau in a motion that alternate parking in blocks from Elgin to St. Paul street be allowed. This motion suggested parking on the east side of Main street in the Elgin to Kenyon street block and from the Mill Square to St. Paul street; on the west side only from Kenyon street to the Mill Square. Caution lights would be placed at the Mill Square, Kenyon and Lochiel streets. This motion was voted down 4 to 3.

The third motion by Councillors Arthur Duggan and Z. J. Courville, would have banned parking from Kenyon to Gernish streets, between the hours from 1:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Councillor Archie Gauthier voted with the movers, this motion meeting the same fate as its predecessors.

Reeve Angus A. McDonald who was in Toronto attending the Good Roads convention, had left with Clerk Charlebois, a letter outlining his views on the matter. He favored restriction of parking from St. Paul to Kenyon streets with a speed limit of 15 or 20 miles per hour and cautionary lights at either end of the restricted area. A three limit should be placed on trucks and the cars of business men within that area, he suggested.

Council had previously discussed the purchase of a more powerful, 2 h.p. fire siren, and Clerk Charlebois was instructed to contact War Assets Corporation to see if any are available. The Clerk reported that several citizens had suggested to him that the Main street road surface was being damaged through use of calcium chloride. It was decided to write the National Research Council at Ottawa to learn if the chloride could be responsible for the damage so apparent this year.

Trains Delayed By Minor Wreck

Week end visitors to Alexandria on Sunday were delayed in their return to Montreal and Ottawa by a minor train wreck near Dornie. A broken spring on a car of an eastbound freight at 3 p.m., caused the car to leave the rails. It was dragged along the right-of-way for a mile before the engineer brought the train to a stop. Rails were undamaged and a crane, summoned from Ottawa had the car back on the track and the line cleared by 10 p.m.

Gordon Macdonald Paid Fine Tribute

Civic officials, members of the Legion branch and friends from every walk of the community life paid an impressive last tribute to the memory of A. Gordon Macdonald at his funeral held Monday morning, February 16th, at Kirkland Lake. The cortege was one of the largest ever seen at Kirkland, and Holy Name Church was filled to capacity for the funeral.

Postmaster at Kirkland Lake for the past nine years, the late Mr. Macdonald died in Kirkland District Hospital Friday morning, February 13th, following a brief illness.

Rev. Roy McMahon, P.P., chanted the Solemn Mass of Requiem, assisted by Rev. Tom Cavanagh, P.P., Cobalt as deacon, and Rev. Harold Jones, of Holy Name parish as sub-deacon. Rev. John Caulfield of Noranda, said Mass at the side altar, simultaneously.

The body was placed in the vault at Kirkland Lake to await burial in the Spring.

Members of the Legion, in which work he had always been active were pallbearers. They included: Bill Jones, Ted Carmichael, George Black, Ted Evans, Jack Richards and Bill Cameron. The eight honorary bearers were representative of the business and professional life of the community.

Glengarrians from Kirkland Lake and the district were in attendance in large numbers and a further touch of his native Glengarry was provided by Pipe-Major McNiven who played a lament as the body left the church.

The chief mourners were the late Mr. Macdonald's two sons, Frank and Gerard, his daughter, Dorothy, and his brother, J. Douglas Macdonald, all of Kirkland Lake.

The family at Kirkland Lake as well as his brother and sisters here, received impressive evidence of the popularity of the late Mr. Macdonald in the wealth of floral pieces, Mass cards and messages of sympathy sent by friends in the mining country and in his native county.

Body Found In Attic Of Home

The body of Alister Ross Urquhart, 46, of R.R. 2 Martintown, was found in the attic at the home of his sister and brothers, Sunday morning, with a bullet wound in the head. A discharged 22 calibre rifle was still in the left hand.

Discovery was made by members of the family about 8 a.m. when they became worried about his non-appearance for breakfast.

Mr. Urquhart, who was single, had spent the winter with his sister and brothers while awaiting the erection of a house on a farm he had bought near Toronto.

Investigation was conducted by Detective Sgt. H. Poirier, of Cornwall township police.

The funeral was held from the home on Tuesday with service at 2 p.m., Rev. E. A. Kirker officiating. Interment was made at St. Andrew's cemetery, Martintown.

T. B. Deaths In 1947 Lowest Ever

Steady Decrease In Mortality Shown In Report Of Dr. Cragg

In his annual report on the activities of St. Lawrence Sanatorium, Dr. George Cragg, superintendent, disclosed that the lowest death rate from tuberculosis ever recorded in the United Counties was achieved in 1947.

There were only 16 deaths from tuberculosis in the United Counties during the year. On the basis of 100,000 population in a manner similar to that used by the Vital Statistics Branch the incidence is slightly less than 20.

The low figure is an indication that the plague of tuberculosis is gradually but surely being overcome. A steady decline has been recorded in the past few years in the death rate.

The total of deaths last year from tuberculosis was less than the total in Dundas county in 1931 and in Cornwall as recently as 1938.

Despite the favorable report, Dr. Cragg issued a warning against becoming too complacent.

"Even with this fine achievement we must not allow ourselves or the residents of the counties to become complacent," said Dr. Cragg. "There are still hundreds of sources of infection from which new cases can and will arise unless every effort is maintained and expended to further the control of this disease."

"It is to be noted that the year by year percentage of deaths occurring in the sanatorium for residents of the counties is gradually falling and the percentage for residents outside the area is gradually increasing. Of the 26 deaths occurring in the Sanatorium only 13 or 50 per cent, were residents of the United Counties."

Further evidence that the disease is being brought under control is in the decline in demand for admissions. Applications for beds were always filled within a few days and for the greater part of the year there were always (Continued on page 5)

Glen Robertson In Loop Finals

Alexandrians Defeated Dalhousie In Overtime Saturday Night

The Alexandria Legion team and Glen Robertson met last night in the opening game of a best three out of five series for the championship of the Border League. All games are to be played at Glengarry Gardens, it is expected on account of weather conditions. The next meeting of the finalists will be Saturday and the third game is booked for next Tuesday night. It was announced yesterday, that E. A. MacGillivray M.P.P. is donating a trophy for the Border League championship.

The Alexandrians qualified for the final bracket with a thrilling 8-7 overtime win here, Saturday night, over the fast Dalhousie team which had gone through the season undefeated. Jack McCallum finished up a star performance by notching the tying goal with only three minutes to go and then scoring the deciding counter with but two minutes of overtime to play. They were his fourth and fifth goals of the night, the kid line of McPhee, McCallum and Poirier accounting for no less than six goals in contributing to the Alexandria win.

The game was a thriller throughout for the large number of fans in attendance, with the lead see-sawing back and forth between the two fighting, evenly-matched sides. Alexandria got the first counter and lead 3-1 at the first bell, holding that margin at 6-4 at the end of the second period. Dalhousie scored three quick goals in less than two minutes as the game drew to a close and it took McCallum's two scores to decide the issue.

Other Alexandria markers were credited to Ewen McPhee, Albert Laparie and Morin Campbell. For Dalhousie, G. Levac, R. Castonguay and Robert scored two each and L. Cuerrier, one. Unfortunately the play-off series ended in bad feeling on the part of the Dalhousie club which protested the use of two Alexandria players following Thursday night's 8-6 win on the part of the home team. It was tentatively decided to rule out the first game, but Dalhousie refused to attend a league meeting, Monday night, and the other three teams decided to disallow the protest and declared Alexandria winners by virtue of their double win.

Glen Robertson had qualified for the second play-off spot by defeating St. Justine 5-0 at St. Justine, Saturday and 5-3 at home on Sunday. Reportedly strengthened by the Ryan brothers, they should offer stiff competition in the final series.

The line-ups in Saturday's game: Alexandria: Goal, Charlebois; defence, McMaster, Campbell; centre, McCallum; wings, Poirier, McPhee; subs, McDonald, Brunet, Thauvette, Besner, Macdonnell, Goulet, Hurtubise, Laparie. Dalhousie: Goal, L. Castonguay; defence, Levac, McRae; centre, R. Castonguay; wings, Leger, Cuerrier; subs, Robert, R. Campeau, F. Campeau, Rozon, Charbonneau, Bourgon. Officials: Oliver Perras, Wilton Cardinal.

Three Minor Play-Off Games, Here Tomorrow

Three Alexandria teams representing the juveniles, midgets and bantams journeyed to Cornwall, Saturday for the first games of a home and home series in the O.D.H.A. play-downs. While the home teams won all three games, the local youngsters were not entirely outclassed and the juveniles, especially, are expected to hold their own this week on the natural ice at Glengarry Gardens.

All three games will be played Saturday afternoon starting at 1:15 o'clock and local fans will have an opportunity to see plenty of hockey as the stars of tomorrow show their wares.

In last Saturday's juvenile game Cornwall O.C.O.T. met plenty of opposition and had to work hard for a 5-1 victory. Martin, MacDonald and Lefebvre scored for Cornwall in the first period for a 3-0 lead. There was no score in the second period, but Goulet put Alexandria back into the picture early in the third period. Macdonald and Martin each scored again to put the game on ice.

Stars of the game were Macdonald, Martin and Savard for O.C.O.T., and Goulet, Macdonald and Bradley for Alexandria. O.C.O.T.: J. Girard, St. Onge, M. Savard, W. Lascelle, L.-Martin, J. Payette, J. Jarvo, R. Chausse, K. Macdonald, F. Lefebvre, B. McConkey. K. (Continued on page 5)

Must Save Power P. U. C. Warns

Voluntary Rationing Needed To Avert Complete 'Blackouts'

Drastic savings in the use of electric power must be made voluntarily by local consumers if complete "black outs" are to be avoided, it was stated at the meeting of the Alexandria Public Utilities Commission, held last Friday in the Clerk's Office. The local commission has received notification of the serious shortage of power throughout Southern Ontario, and every possible reduction must be made if the local service is not to follow the example of many centres in having daily interruptions.

Possibility of erecting a Public Utilities building was discussed and the Secretary was instructed to obtain information from the Hydro Electric Commission on necessary steps to be taken. Visualized is a building which would house offices, warehouse and garage. It was decided to purchase a new street lighting switch to replace the present one which is not working efficiently.

Freeze ups which have been plaguing residents on Kenyon street east, will be eliminated this year by completing the circuit from the corner of Kenyon and Dominion streets, east to Bishop and north to St. George street. It was decided to secure sufficient 4-inch water main pipe to complete this work.

The Glengarry Federation of Agriculture was organized at a widely attended meeting held Thursday afternoon of last week in Alexandria High School. Representative of every section of the county, active members of various commodity groups were elected to represent their associations in the county federation.

The first meeting of the elected representatives is to be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Agricultural Office.

The Federation was organized on the basis of commodity groups and it was decided that township groups would be incorporated as soon as possible. By resolution it was decided to protest to Prime Minister King, in his capacity as Member for Glengarry, against any relaxation of the ban on oleomargarine.

The elected representatives of the commodity groups are—Ayrshire Breeders—J. C. Watt, Lancaster; Holstein Club, Wilfred McDonald, Williamstown; Hog Producers, John Fourney, Lancaster; Plowmen's Association, M. MacRae, Williamstown; Crop Improvement, Keith McMillan, Lochiel; Kenyon Agriculture Society, Harold Blaney, Maxville; St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society, M. Cummings, Lancaster; Women's Institutes, Mrs. J. P. MacLeod, Mrs. Lin den Clark, Mrs. Lloyd McRae and Mrs. D. N. McLeod; Charlottetown Junior Farmers, McNaughton Cummings; Lancaster Junior Farmers, John Ross, Bainsville; Cheese Producers, Wilbur McArthur, Martintown; Farm Forum, Clarence McMillan, Lochiel; Maxville Cattle Breeders, Alex. McEwen, Maxville; Lancaster Cattle Breeders, Lloyd McRae, Lancaster; Bee Keepers, Bryce McNaughton, Martintown; Milk Producers, Carmen Rowe, Maxville, D. S. McIntosh, Martintown Stanley Wightman, Lancaster; Poultry, W. J. Major, North Lancaster. Wilfred McDonald, of Williamstown, president of the Glengarry Holstein Breeders' Club was chairman of the meeting, and, after a brief introductory talk, introduced the guest speaker William Legault, of Moose Creek, secretary of the Stormont Federation of Agriculture.

Mr. Legault pointed out that the Canadian Federation, which was organized 12 years ago, has done a good job as liaison officers between agriculture and the government in finding a happy medium between Eastern and Western agricultural problems. The Ontario organization is of a more local nature and deals with resolutions from county organizations.

The speaker went on to describe the organization of the Stormont Federation on the basis of commodity groups and the various projects the federation has undertaken. These include a film circuit; calf vaccination, with 4,000 calves being vaccinated last year; hog production, which resulted in resolutions being sent to the parliamentary member during the packing house strike; the oleomargarine question; health of animals; the Canadian Appeal for Children; and co-operative medical services.

J. T. Smith, principal of Alexandria High School, was called on to address the meeting and he stressed the importance of education, stating that Canadians have not paid enough attention to education and too much to propaganda. Mr. Smith concluded his remarks by saying, "General statements may have emotional appeal but they must appeal to judgment".

The chairman called on the local agriculture representative, R. G. Bennett who stated that the meeting was the most representative gathering in the various fields ever held since his arrival in the district and bids well for success in the future. He outlined a series of lectures he has organized for March and April, covering different phases of farm activity. These meetings are to be held in the High School on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock, the first on March 4, on "Farm Drainage" with Mr. Parrish, drainage engineer of Eastern Ontario as guest speaker.

The gathering discussed the Canadian Appeal for Children and the following canvassers for Glengarry county were appointed:—Lancaster and Charlottetown Townships to be covered by the Junior Farmers; the north end of Lochiel township by the Quigley Farm Forum, and the south end by (Continued on page 5)

Doughboy Tune Makes Hit on Italian Front

A new infantry song, composed by doughboys of the Third Infantry division, which has one of the longest records of combat service of any of our army's ground units, is one of the most popular numbers on the Italian front, an officer just back from four campaigns in the North African theater of operations revealed. The song, "The Dogface Soldier," is played by the Third division band at ceremonies, parades, dances, and all other public gatherings.

"They play it hot, and they play it sweet," the officer said. "The whole Italian countryside knows it."

The lyrics of the latest GI tune are:

I wouldn't give a bean to be a fancy pants marine;
I'd rather be a dogface soldier like I am,
I wouldn't trade my old O. D.'s for all the navy's dungarees.
For I'm the walking pride of Uncle Sam.

On all the posters that you read, they say the army builds men,
So they're tearing me down to build me over again.

I'm just a dogface soldier with a rifle on my shoulder,
And I eat a Kraut for breakfast every day.
So feed me ammunition, keep me in the Third division;
Your dogface soldier boy's O. K.

Pipe Gas to Welders In U. S. Shipyard

The world's largest and coldest "thermos bottle," which maintains a temperature of 297 degrees below zero, is used in an American shipyard in providing acetylene and oxygen for burners, welders and rod operators. It is part of a new low-pressure generating system which pipes these gases to the point of work and thus makes it unnecessary to carry cylinders of liquid air to the job.

A continuous and even flow of the mixed "juice" (under this new system) is available to hundreds of outlets, conveniently spaced. The new method requires a special technique and men are being instructed in its use.

In the Driox or oxygen house, liquid oxygen is drained out of trucks and piped into large converters, similar to a gigantic thermos bottle, and where it is maintained at a temperature of 297 degrees below zero. Electric heaters convert the liquid oxygen into a gas which is then piped at a 75-pound pressure to where the men of rod and torch are working.

Father of Navy

The popular belief is that John Paul Jones, first regular naval officer to win outstanding victories at sea, is entitled to the honor of being the real father of the United States navy.

The No. 1 commission in the United States navy, signed by George Washington, went to John Barry, a comparatively unknown Irishman from county Wexford. Barry was awarded his commission for bravery during the Revolution.

Jones is buried in the chapel of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, in a tomb which rivals in beauty that of Napoleon in Paris, although the setting is less impressive. Barry, however, has a statue of heroic size on one of Washington's main thoroughfares, while John Paul Jones is memorialized by a small, life-size statue in a remote corner of the mall, behind the White House.

Eucalyptus Trees

Among the most extensively planted eucalyptus trees are those of the fast-growing type, used as a fuel; as far as my information goes, it is the best wood fuel. These fuel eucalyptus can be felled with good economical success when they are five years old, although it is generally agreed that the optimum felling age is around nine years. Other slower growing varieties are planted in order to use their wood for pickets, in carpentry, etc., and some very slow growing ones furnish very hard woods which compete successfully in this field. An interesting feature associated with the growing of eucalyptus is that when they blossom in late spring they bear the practically only flower rich in nectar at that time; and so, the intelligent agriculturist is able to obtain separately the "eucalyptus honey" from the rest of the production and get a fairly high price for it.

Plant Growth

Day length as a factor in plant growth has been receiving special attention from researchers of the U. S. department of agriculture. Necessity for supplying crop seeds for planting in various parts of the world has given impetus to studies to determine the relative value of day length in the growth and germination of different crops, and varieties of those crops. Among the versatile crops in this respect are snap beans, field, kidney and lima beans, experiments have shown. Because they are "day neutral"—are able to flower when they have either short or long days—it is possible to grow them over a great range of latitudes, wherever temperatures and other seasonal conditions are favorable.

KIRK HILL

The World Day of Prayer was observed in the United Church Hall by the Presbyterian and United Church Auxiliaries of this section with an attendance of thirty.

The first part of the program was conducted by Mrs. Gray and the second part by Mrs. Sharkey.

A prayer for the representatives from Canada to the General Assembly and Security Council of the United Nations was taken by Mrs. J. MacGillivray.

The prayer for the Christians in all countries was led by Mrs. L. MacKinnon for the church throughout the world, by Mrs. D. J. MacGillivray; for the youth of our lands, for homes, schools and all organizations that educate for world citizenship, Mrs. Lorne MacDonald; that the women of our land may dedicate themselves anew to the service of the Church, by Mrs. D. W. MacLeod.

The Scripture Reading, taken from Christ's great intercessory prayer, was read by Mrs. Alex McCuaig.

In the second period of prayer our thoughts were directed to the needs of Europe and Asia.—For those who are hungry in Europe, and for the Relief Work of the World Council of Churches led by Miss Mary Belle MacLennan, for the need in Asia, Christian missionaries and National Christian leaders, Mrs. R. J. MacLeod; for the outpouring of gifts for relief in Europe and Asia from the people of the Canadian Churches Mrs. W. Piche.

Mrs. Sharkey gave a thoughtful address on the subject—"The Lord's Prayer Given as a Pattern" Christ prayed not as a sinner, but as a Saviour of sinners His communion with the Father was far above what we may hope to aspire to.

Jesus knew this and gave us a model known to us as the Lord's Prayer. So we have a ground plan to fill in and on which we may build the structure of all our prayers. This prayer is meant for the use of all children of God. It fits our average lives from infancy to old age.

It is a Remembrance Prayer always before us to show what we should pray for and how we should pray, until our earthly course is run.

Mrs. Donald MacLennan provided music for the beautiful hymns of the program.

The offering amounted to $8.20 and was forwarded to help the work of Christian Literature in inter-Church Missions.

An hour of social fellowship followed.

EASTER SEALS: SYMBOL OF HOPE

"TIMMY" living symbol of the work done by The Ontario Society for Crippled Children is a nine year old Hamilton Boy. On March 1st, "TIMMY" a former polio victim, will be in Ottawa to sell the first block of Seals to Honourable Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare and officially open the

Mummy... I'm Hungry

HOW WOULD YOU FEEL if this were your child... and you had to say: "Sorry, darling, there just isn't anything"?

We carry a mother — and father — in food today with just such a tragic fact. Throughout Europe and Asia children are literally starving — cold and miserable because they have no warm clothing.

Millions of them are in desperate need — for food, clothing, shelter, education. We in Canada are going to do our share to help meet those urgent needs. The Canadian Appeal for Children, now being conducted, has a minimum objective of $10,000,000 as Canada's contribution to the saving of the world's children and the world's future.

YOU CAN HELP by doing just this:

Go to any Branch of THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA — or any other chartered bank. Hand your contribution to the teller. He is ready to accept it, and will turn the money over to the Canadian Appeal for Children. Every cent collected will be distributed, where need is greatest, under the strict supervision of responsible United Nations' operating agencies.

How much you give is a question for your own conscience. Act TODAY; you will sleep better tonight knowing you have done your part for these millions of little ones who look to you for help.

Hello Homemaker! To-day we interviewed several hom-makers who are practising thrifty WAYS TO CONSERVE ELECTRICITY. These women suggested that we ask other users of power to be mindful of the number of switches turned on unnecessarily.

Mrs. V. M. recommends four thrifty ways to use the electric oven: (1) The average oven has accommodation for at least 2 or 3 dishes at once. It is necessary, however, to select dishes which need the same temperature. A good way to do this is to list your favourite dishes, quick breads, vegetables and desserts, under the temperatures at which each should be cooked.

(2) Oven companions do not necessarily have to be table companions. A dessert for next day's lunch (custard, baked fruit, etc.) or even the cereal for the next morning, may be in the oven along with to-night's dinner.

(3) Select baking dishes to fit the oven racks. Too large ones absorb more heat and stop circulation of heat.

(4) Do not place dishes on lower shelf directly under those on the top shelf, if you wish foods to brown evenly.

COOKING SHORT-CUTS

Mrs. G. T. points out ways to save electricity using a hot plate or rangette (1- A skillet or chicken fryer with a cover is ideal to use for a plate meal since the utensil is shallow and cooking time is reduced.

(2) A set of three saucepans which fit together over one element is economical equipment. Cook 2 vegetables in one, pudding in another and poach fish in the third section.

(3) The double boiler is useful in this regard since food such as boiled tongue or braised brisket may simmer in the lower part while a pudding cooks in the upper part.

(4) Quick-cooking desserts may be prepared economically on surface elements. For example steam the batter puddings or custards in individual greased custard cups. Or make milk puddings on the element turned to OFF position as soon as you have brought the milk to simmering point.

(5) Top-of-stove scones or biscuits can be baked in a heavy frying pan instead of preheating oven for a single purpose.

(6) Bavarian sponges require a small amount of heat. The gelatine may be dissolved in a dipper over the tea kettle and the dessert finished at the kitchen table according to recipe.

(7) Fruit dumplings are time and fuel-saving foods. Cook fruit in a little syrup. Add 1 beaten egg, 1 tsp. sugar and enough milk to moisten 1 cup prepared biscuit mix. Drop by spoonful on top of simmering fruit and juice. Cover and let simmer, without removing lid, for 12 mins. Use wide saucepan so dumplings will not be crowded.

(8) Pancakes are quick to cook—saving electricity. Serve with fruit juice or left-over stewed fruit.

(9) Thicken cream sauce on partially cooked vegetables instead of making it in a separate saucepan.

(10) Steam left over slices of fruit leaf over vegetables and serve with cream or a tasty dessert.

STATEMENT

OF

Respective Functions of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario and the Municipal Hydro Commissions, with Particular Reference to the Present Emergency.

In view of the apparent public misunderstanding of the respective functions of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of the Province and the Municipal Hydro Commissions in the municipalities, this statement is made to clarify the situation.

The function of the Provincial Commission is to generate or buy electric power and to sell electric power to Municipal Commissions and directly to rural consumers and to certain industries.

The function of each Municipal Commission is to sell to its consumers within the municipality the electric power purchased from the Provincial Commission.

In practice, the Provincial Commission and the Municipal Commissions endeavour to co-operate with each other in the public interest.

By reason of lack of rainfall last summer and autumn and by lack of thaws during the present winter, there has been a substantial depletion of the storage of water necessary to maintain a high level of continuous generation. The resulting loss of production of electric power has taken place in Ontario and elsewhere where power has been purchased both under contract and in excess of contract commitments by the Provincial Commission. This loss of production of electric energy has become so serious that certain of those who had contracts to supply the Provincial Commission with electric power have been compelled not only to withdraw the electric power they had been supplying in excess of contract commitments, but as well have been compelled to reduce delivery below contract requirements by a further reduction of 8,000,000 kilowatt-hours per week.

As long ago as December 15th, the Provincial Commission notified the Municipal Commissions and indicated to its direct consumers that, in addition to cuts already being applied to direct consumers, it was evident that, unless additional voluntary savings could be obtained, the Commission would be obliged to order the municipalities to reduce their loads from time to time by as much as 15 per cent or more. This notification was given for the express purpose of obtaining greater conservation of power and to enable each Municipal Commission to plan in advance the most equitable allocation of power within the municipality.

The Provincial Commission received notification that the most recent cut of power purchased under contract would be effective on Monday, February 16th. In order to make an equitable reduction of power delivery to all Municipal Commissions, it was necessary for the Provincial Commission to compute for each Municipal Commission the amount of reduction it would be called upon to absorb, after taking into account the amount of conservation already effected by each Municipal Commission since October, 1947. To enable the Provincial Commission to complete the necessary computations and to notify the majority of Municipal Commissions of the amount of reduction each would have to absorb by Wednesday, February 18th, it was necessary that a substantial reduction be placed in effect as of Monday, February 16th, so that there would be no risk of an actual power stoppage in deliveries by the Provincial Commission. To accomplish this, the Provincial Commission requested the Municipal Commissions of Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, Windsor and Peterborough to reduce their takings of electric power by specific amounts during specified times, and also requested these Municipal Commissions to, in the meantime, treat the request confidentially and not to give it to the press prior to the notification to all municipalities on Monday. This was done to avoid statements appearing which might have the effect of creating quite erroneous impressions of the amount of reduction necessary in each particular municipality throughout the Province.

In relation to the reduction of power, each Municipal Commission was faced with entirely different considerations as to how available power would be allocated within each municipality. For this reason, it was not feasible for the Provincial Commission by a general statement to indicate to the consumers in any particular municipality the allocation of available power that would be made by the Municipal Commissions.

The Provincial Commission is delivering to the Municipal Commissions and to its direct consumers all the electric power it is able to generate or buy.

It is the function of each Municipal Commission to determine not only the allocation of power among its consumers, but also what public explanation may be desirable in relation thereto.

Miss Robertson Dies In Martintown

A most highly respected resident of Martintown, Miss Margaret J. Robertson passed away at her home on Feb. 11. She was also a charter member of the Martintown Women's Institute.

The high respect in which she was held was evidenced by the many friends who attended the funeral on Saturday. The service at the home was conducted by her pastor Rev. Robertson Millar, assisted by Rev. E. A. Kirker, of the United Church, after which the remains were borne to St. Andrew's Church cemetery, Martintown for interment.

Loss Heavy In Vankleek Hill Fire

VANKLEEK HILL, Feb. 21 — Damage estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000 was caused by fire which followed an explosion here early yesterday morning.

Destroyed in the outbreak was a refreshment booth and an adjoining garage owned by W. R. Willis. A car owned by A. J. MacRae was also destroyed, while several other cars in storage in the garage were moved to safety.

Believed to have originated from an exploding oil stove, the fire spread quickly and threatened nearby buildings, which included the service station and a feed store owned by E. Towe.

However, firemen were able to confine the blaze to the garage and refreshment booth and there was no damage to the adjoining property.

Two men suffered slight facial burns during the battle to control the fire, but there were no serious casualties.

The damage is reported to be partly covered by insurance.

Of the 86 admissions in 1947, 40 were from parts of the province outside the boundaries of the United Counties. Patients were admitted from points as far distant as Belleville, Toronto, Peterborough, Renfrew and Timmins. This is in direct contrast to conditions existing from 1938 to 1942, when the institution was unable to accommodate all applicants and waiting lists of 20 were the usual rule.

During the year, 91 persons were discharged. Thirty eight were discharged on medical advice as being better; 16 left against medical advice, with six being readmitted within a short time four were improved but chose discharge on their own responsibility for various reasons, rather than wait for the usual period while the discharge was being arranged; ten were transferred to other sanatoria; six went for major surgical or special procedures; one went to the Ontario Hospital Tuberculosis Unit; two more were transferred to other sanatoria closer to their homes and one, a Quebec resident went to a Quebec Sanatorium. The average number of patients in residence was 100.4, with a percentage occupancy of 89.6.

The extension clinic operated as usual. There were 41 clinics held at 10 centres at which 1371 examinations and X-rays were made. A further 664 examinations and X-rays were made at the Sanatorium for a total of 2,035 examinations. Sixty-eight cases of tuberculous were discovered. Twenty nine of these required treatment and of these 26 have been admitted to hospital.

The year also brought to the aid of sanatorium officials a new drug, streptomycin. While it is extremely expensive, the drug has proved its worth and as mass production increases, the price of the drug is falling and should soon be within the reach of a great number of people.

At present, the finances of the sanatorium do not allow extensive use of the drug and its use has been confined to those who are able to purchase it for themselves. Last year, three patients were treated with streptomycin with satisfactory results.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

By W. L. CLARK * President
ONTARIO PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

EDINBURGH—Since my last letter, the boys and I have spent a wonderful week in Scotland. During our stay, we visited Holyrood and Edinburgh castles; we saw Burn's cottage and Wallace's Monument and we were taken on a motor trip through the beautiful Loch Lomond country. But most important of all were our tours of the Scottish farms. Here we were given the opportunity of studying the husbandry of some of the best farms in Scotland. We feel we have gained a great deal of useful information. We have been particularly interested in comparing British prices and conditions with Canadian and in this letter I shall try to tell you as much as possible about our observations.

On the afternoon of our arrival in Scotland, we were taken to St. Cuthbert's Co-Operative Farm. It is a large farm of about 1500 acres and I understand it is one of the few co-operative farms that has been a success. Ayrshire cows are kept here as well as 100 large white brood sows and 800 feeders. I was surprised to learn that they put their hogs, up to 200 lbs. dressed weight. Our market as you know wants them lighter and yet nearly all our pork is exported to Britain. The 200-lb. hog brings the British farmer $72.00 or 35c per lb. I believe our price is around 25 or 26c per lb.

Here in Scotland, milk retails for 12c per pint or 24c per quart and there is no pasteurization. Potato prices are much the same as ours but all such foods are rationed and too often the housewife finds the supply has run out before her ration is filled. The egg ration is one egg per week per person—if there are eggs!

PERTH ABERDEEN ANGUS SALE

The day following our visit to St. Cuthbert's Co-Op Farm, we set out for the Perth Aberdeen Angus Sale. We crossed the Firth of Forth by ferry and had an excellent view of that famous bridge. Strangely enough, the Germans made just one heavy raid on it and that was early in the war. Shipping in the harbour suffered slightly but no damage was done to the bridge although the Germans lost a great many planes in the attack.

The drive to Perth, which is about 40 miles from the ferry, takes you through some coal mining country and also through some good farming land. Perth is nearly the centre of Scotland and is a great marketing city with a population of 35,000.

We reached Perth in time to look over the cattle before lunch. There were some five or six hundred head of yearling heifers and bulls. What a grand lot they were!

After lunch, the secretary of the show arranged for us to go into the stands at the sale ring. This was a special favour as there were hundreds of people who could not get near the ring. Shortly afterwards, the champion was brought out and was sold to the Argentine for 3200 guineas (approx. $13,460). Following him came the reserve champion and what a clap broke loose when he was sold for 7100 guineas (approx. $29,820) to stay right in Scotland.

VISITING SCOTTISH FARMS

During the next three days we inspected many Scottish farms. The first was F. MacGillivray's Farm at East Lothian. Mr. MacGillivray is one of the noted shorthorn breeders of Scotland but a few years ago he had the misfortune of having his entire herd wiped out by hoof and mouth disease. He is just now getting re-established. He showed us nine yearling bulls that will be exhibited at the Perth show. They are a uniform lot of high quality and will no doubt win some awards.

J. P. Dal's farm, North Burwick, was the next place we visited. This farm, operated by Mr. Dale and his two sons, consists of about 1200 acres. To help them with the farming the Dales employ 75 men and women.

The produce consists of feeder steers which the Dale's buy from Ireland and finish on their farm. About 200 are brought over at one time. They are fed principally on hay and turnips. Some turnips are still in the field and are brought directly to the feeding lots. This seems strange to us who are used to so much frost. There has been no frost since we arrived and only one or two little skiffs of snow. They grow over 100 acres of these turnips, the bulk of which are fed to the cattle but a great many are sold in Edinburgh for table use.

We were able to tramp out over the fields and see everything for ourselves. Teams and tractors were plowing; carts were hauling in turnips; men and women were busy digging up carrots and a threshing machine was at work in the barn or steading as they call them here.

PLOWING IN SCOTLAND

On the Dale farm we saw an example of fine plowing. Indeed, all through Scotland, plowing standards are generally very high. We have seen much good plowing of both tractor and horse variety. It is mostly of the general purpose type which conforms to our own very closely.

We haven't seen any indication of contour plowing despite the fact that this is rolling country with heavy rain fall. They are plowing this land 10 inches in depth and grow tremendous crops, even after centuries of cultivation. It makes us wonder if contour plowing is the answer to soil conservation or whether proper soil care and crop rotation are not more important.

We visited a number of both stock and market farms. On the market farms, we found that the vegetables were coming along very well. In one field we noticed that the cabbages were ready to form heads. We spent some time at the farm of Wm. Adams, who specializes in early potatoes. The seeds are in sprouting boxes and will be planted very soon. The sprouts are now about two inches in length and are planted very carefully by hand nearly 100 acres of them. Mr. Adams pointed out one field to us which has grown this crop each year for over 50 years and is still producing six to eight tons per acre. Naturally, it gets the best care.

On our last day in Scotland, we looked at one of the finest Ayrshire herds I have ever seen. This herd, owned by Wm. Dunlop of Gree, has won the female championship for seven years. The fact that he refused over £1000 for a cow nine years old gives some idea of the value placed on good breeding stock here.

Our activities in Scotland, in addition to meeting the Scottish farmers and visiting their homes, included motor trips, sight-seeing tours, press interviews, radio broadcasts, luncheons and dinners. We are indeed grateful to our sponsors, Imperial Oil Limited and the Salada Tea Company of Canada Ltd., for arranging such a varied and interesting trip for us.

The boys indulged in a little shopping in Edinburgh and we also saw a football game between the Glasgow Rangers and the Leith Athletics. As I have always been something of a football fan I enjoyed it very much as did the others. Rangers are head of the League so it was no surprise when they won by four goals. Nevertheless it was a fine game of football.

The people here have been most kind to us. When you visit their homes they simply will not let you leave without lunch and a cup of tea. I think we are going to miss our afternoon tea when we get home.

In the next letter, I'll describe sight-seeing in Ireland and tell you about the International Plowing Match which is to be held in County Down, Northern Ireland.

Can We 'Organize' Unity?

"We are indeed at a critical moment in the organization of the post-war world," said Mr. Bevin in announcing Great Britain's foreign policy. What makes the moment so critical, however is that world statesmen still think that organization can achieve what is needed in the post-war world. Unity is what we desperately need across the world. But unity is the essential of organization, not the result of it. Family unity "organized" through marriage vows, industrial unity "organized" through incorporation papers or labor contracts, political unity "organized" through confederation and coalition, and international unity "organized" through leagues, charters, treaties and agreements, produce no unity so long as unity of heart is lacking. And unity of heart is not a matter of organization at all, but of a common loyalty and affection.

Iron filings attract each other and cohere, not when men try to organize them in a pre-arranged pattern, but when they are drawn by the same magnet. Men attract each other and unite, not when they sign a union card or contract, but when in common love for their country, for their world, and for their God, they find themselves enlisted in a common cause, energized and inspired by the same great Power.

To find for one's self and to spread this uniting loyalty to others is the art of post-war statesmanship. And it gives the ordinary man as well as the diplomat the chance to become a new-world statesman.

"TIME BOMBS"

Two men can build a bridge a whole nation can walk across.

A heavy heart leads to a heavy hand. Some of us pay no attention to sin until we start paying higher taxes.

Everybody says "Cooperate", but not all who say it do it.

If man and nations took more stock themselves they would take less exception to their neighbours.

As long as material values are their yardstick, men won't measure up to their problems.

CHAPTER VII

"Good morning, Miss MacLeod. I am looking for your brother."
"Good morning to you, Sergeant O'Rourke. My brother is not here."

hated him. She stood at bay, using her wits against his.
"There are four rooms in the cabin?" he queried.

O'Rourke said nothing. The man answered the description he had of Will MacLeod. The face was sunken from suffering, exposure and loss of blood, it was masked by whisker-growth, but he had no doubt this was his man. It did not look as if he could be moved. That did not matter. He could wait, for a year if he had to. His orders were to come in with the murderer of Jacques Regnier.

"Very well, Sergeant O'Rourke, I obey—the law."

"When do you expect him?"
"I do not expect him."
Her eyes met his in open challenge. They showed dislike. That, under the circumstances, made it a trifle easier.

words as if she was breaking down, her eyes hunted, furtive.

almost impudent in her insolence.
"I have heard of him," he answered.

SLEEP .. and awake Refreshed
If you don't sleep well—if nights are interrupted by restlessness—look to your kidneys. If your kidneys are out of order and failing to cleanse the blood of poisons and excess acids—your rest is likely suffering too. Then is the time to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

O'Rourke looked at her pityingly. He had wanted to believe her though not her statement. But he knew that a woman will fling aside everything to protect her own and he did not blame her.

"Do you feed the dogs?" he asked her swiftly, too fast for her to properly parry.
"There are no dogs," she said with a gasp.

crisply.
The situation was unexpected, unusual. Not right, somehow.
"I'll stay here for a while," he announced.

O'Rourke flushed a little. She was clever, but she was bitter. Once he had thought her sweet.
"You misunderstand me," he said. "I have my blankets. There are other cabins. I can rustle my food. I had no idea of staying in the house, only in here with you—your room—on a time. Under the law."

It began very much to look as if she had lied, and lied deliberately. He set to work to prove it.
There was a sort of closet, curtained by sacking. The garments in it were feminine. He did not give them a second glance. He was still a little puzzled as to why the girl should have given up her own room with another vacant—if it was vacant. There was morning sun in this one, when the sun shone.

The other room was clearly a man's. The clothes and other possession showed that. The clothes looked as if they would fit the man on the bed. So did the pair of worn boots, and a pair of moccasins, almost new. He picked them up to examine and compare them more closely. They were not the same size. That might not mean much. A man could not buy the exact size he wanted in the wilderness and room was always allowed for ample heavy socks. One outfit of clothing was also nearly new though the trousers were damaged cut and blood-stained.

O'Rourke sat down on the bed to consider these and other things. He was sure there had been dogs here not more than forty-eight hours ago. Dogs that were not on a temporary visit. They had gone. A sled would have gone with them, and some one to drive it. That meant two men. It looked very much as if Will MacLeod had been warned.

Then who was the man in bed? One who had brought the warning? O'Rourke's deduction was hardly genius, but it came like a flash.
"Alec MacLeod! I thought the old fox was too smug. How did he get to know?"

There was a trail to follow from the cabin. But the sick man could not stay unconscious forever. And, when he roused from his stupor, O'Rourke was resolved to make him talk. The girl too, he determined.

Will MacLeod and this other one generally resembled each other. In bed drawn and pale under weather tan, slight discrepancies would pass unnoticed. Height and weight could not be well judged.

The girl had fooled him, deliberately tried to hold him to give her brother a start. It would not be easy to get much out of her. And, after all, she had not lied.

He heard her voice, pitched in anger then in alarm.

O'Rourke charged across the passage into the first room he had entered. In a cave that opened off a ledge above Stoney River, which was frozen hard and fast, five men squatted about a small fire where they had been broiling meat, devouring it with their fingers, half raw.

The place was warm though the fire had been kept down to offset smoke. There was a hot spring in the back that every now and then gurgled and gaped and threw off jets of steam for a geyser-like basin that caught its flow and returned it to the volcanic source.

The water was highly charged with mineral principally silicate of lime. Drippings from condensing spray and moisture hung down from the cave ceiling in the form of stalactites, stood up stumpy as stalagmites. Some of these were sooted, with the cave about them, by the fires of many generations. Primitive carvings on the walls showed that the tribes had used it since ancient times.

Only one of the five men was full-bodied, the others were breeds, though all were dressed as Indians dress for winter. The man who spoke had just returned from a trip that had elated him. He was the leader, known to them as Kinoceti—to white men as Peace River Jack.

His face was evil, savage. It held cunning and evidence of dissipation. His skin was swarthy and one cheek was seamed by a scar that reached his upper lip, twisted it to a leer.
He passed round a bottle that he had brought with him. It held "caribou,"
