Major Donald MacRae, E.D., To Command Canada's Bisley Team

Native Of Dunvegan Area With 25 Years Experience As Marksman Selected By D.C.R.A. To Take Team To England

Major Donald MacRae, E.D., Montreal dentist with more than 25 years of experience as a marksman, has been appointed to command of the Canadian Bisley Squad, which will go to England in June.

Major MacRae is a son of the late William D. MacRae, of Dunvegan and Mrs. MacRae, who is now residing with her daughter, Miss Agnes MacRae, in Ottawa. Mrs. MacRae spends the summer months on the home farm with another son, Duncan N. MacRae, and Mrs. MacRae.

Announcement of Major MacRae's appointment was made this week by the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association at its annual meeting. He is president of the Quebec Provincial Association and a member of the supplementary reserve of the Royal Montreal Regiment (M.G.). A service record in two world wars and many years of sharpshooting with large and small bore rifles lie behind the appointment of Major MacRae.

In addition to the 18 marksmen who make up the team, a commandant and adjutant are appointed to make a party of 20 proceeding to England. The last two named are administrative members, but will act as replacements in England if any of the actual squad are unable to shoot.

The marksmen are chosen as top aggregate scorers in the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's annual shoot at the Connaught Ranges, Ottawa.

Major MacRae first became interested in marksmanship in 1924, the year before he graduated in dentistry from McGill University. He started out with small bore rifles, switching in 1927 to the .303 calibre Lee-Enfield rifle of the British Army.

But Major MacRae credits his 18-year-old son Arthur, a second year McGill student, with being a "natural shot" and much better than he is at the shooting game. The son began shooting at 15, and at 17 he and his father tied in the grand aggregate match at Connaught with scores of 569 points. Mrs. MacRae is also a good shot with both big and small bore rifles.

Major MacRae served overseas in the latter part of the First World War with the 20th reserve battalion, Black Watch (RHR) of Canada. He joined the McGill COTC in 1920, and was commissioned in the RMR in 1927. He went overseas with the regiment in 1939, but in 1943, on account of his age was refused for combat service. He served in a variety of administrative posts, taking No. 25 Special Employment Company through France and Germany following the invasion.

He returned to Canada in August of 1945 by applying for the Pacific Force, which was disbanded after Hiroshima. He was nearly six years overseas.

He is now in charge of the musketry training for his regiment at the St. Catherine street west armory.

Adopt Plans For Drain In Kenyon

Continuation of the former Delisle drain through Kenyon township and a section of Roxboro got the go-ahead signal at a special meeting of Kenyon Township Council, held Monday. In attendance were some 75 per cent of the Kenyon residents affected by the drain, and they are reported to have voted unanimously in favor of it.

The drain would cover the area between lots 28 to 37 in the 4th and 5th concessions, lots 33 to 37 in the 6th and lots 1 to 12 in the 15th, 16th and 17th concessions Indian Lands. Roxboro Township is reported preparing to deal with that section of the township affected by the drain.

Estimated cost for the Kenyon section of the drain is $47,900.

L. F. Stidwell, of Cornwall, township engineer, started plans for the drain in 1948 after consent of the land owners had been secured. His report was adopted at Monday's meeting and the next step will be holding of a Court of Revision and passing of the necessary by-law by township council. Approval by the Department of Municipal Affairs at Toronto, will then have to be secured before the work is started.

Glengarry Seed Fair At Maxville One Of Best Yet

Rev. J.M. Fleming Resigns Local Charge

Rev. J. M. Fleming, minister of Alexandria United Church for the past eight years, has resigned his charge, it was announced here this week. The resignation was regrettably accepted at a meeting of Presbytery officers, and Rev. J. H. Hamilton of Maxville, was named interim - moderator of the charge.

Rev. Mr. Fleming will preach his farewell sermon Easter Sunday and plans an extended holiday with members of his family at Minden, Ont., possibly going on from there to New York.

The news of the pending departure from Alexandria of Rev. Mr. Fleming and Mrs. Fleming will be received with regret by many friends in the Alexandria area.

Esteemed Member Of Holy Cross Dies

Again the Sisters of Holy Cross regret to announce the death of one, long a member of their Order, in the person of Mother Mary of St. Alexander.

This Sister, whose death occurred at the Mother House of the Order, St. Laurent, Que., was born in Alexandria, the 22nd of October, 1865, the daughter of the late John Corbett and Janet Macdonald. She was a niece of the late Right Reverend Monsignor George Corbett.

Her early education was received in St. Margaret's Convent, and she entered Holy Cross sixty-four years ago.

Teaching was her profession for many years, seventeen of these being spent in St. Gabriel's Academy, Montreal, where in a remarkable manner she gained the respect and love of those with whom she came in contact. While still young she was named Superior, and filled this office at Magog, Que.; Nashua, N.H.; Grosvernordale, Conn.; St. Albans, Vt.; Alexandria, Ont., and St. Gabriel's, Montreal, then became Provincial and remained as such for several terms. Later, she was Assistant General of the Congregation and finally, Provincial Superior of St. Joseph's Province, remaining in this office until August, 1949.

Many outsiders attended her funeral, a great number coming from St. Albans, Vt., and other surrounding places. Mass was celebrated by Rev. James Flood of St. Gabriel's parish, Montreal. In the Sanctuary were the Rev. Joseph Scannell, ex-Provincial of the Oblates, Ottawa; the two chaplains of Holy Cross; Rev. A. L. McDonald of Williamstown; Rev. Donald Kerr of St. Raphaels; Rev. Jasper Stanford of St. Michael's, Montreal; Rev. Harold Doran of Our Lady of the Annunciation, town of Mount Royal; Rev. Edward Lapointe of St. Thomas More, Verdun, Que.; Rev. F. Presseau of Bordeaux, Que.; Rev. Gordon Carroll of Holy Family, Montreal; Rev. Michael Healey of St. Augustine's, Montreal.

So, we may say, she has gone to a promised land where a reward awaited her coming with words, "Well done".

Farm Sale Ends Long Family Tenure

The sale of his farm this week by Racey D. MacMillan of Laggan, ends a family tenure of about 150 years. Mr. MacMillan plans to leave in May to reside in Western Canada.

Ewen A. MacMillan has purchased the farm, 9-7th Kenyon, from Mr. MacMillan, whose family has held it since his great grandfather, Alexander MacMillan, came to settle in Glengarry in 1802, from Invernesshire, Scotland.

Menard Construction of Green Valley has again this year been awarded the contract for crushing of gravel for counties' roads from Finch east. Cardinal Construction Co. of Cardinal, will again take care of needs in the western portion of the counties.

The largest county Seed Fair to date was held in the Community Hall, Maxville, on Thursday and Friday of last week. Eighty high quality entries were exhibited and the attendance on Friday was very satisfactory. Winners of special prizes were as follows:

Grand Champion Exhibit (Good-year Feeds Trophy)—S. M. Fiske & Sons, Martintown.

Best 10-bushel lot of Registered Oats (200 pounds of Purina Calf Startena, donated by W. A. MacEwen — S. M. Fiske & Sons, Martintown.

Best 10-bushel lot of Commercial Oats (200 pounds of Full O' Pep Calf Starter, donated by McDermid & Barton) — Findlay McIntosh, Martintown.

Best exhibit of Potatoes (Floor Rug, donated by Chenier's Hardware) — D. C. Murray, Martintown.

Judges were Mr. George Gilbert, Plant Products Division, Ottawa, and Alphonse Casgrain, Special Products Board, Ottawa.

The afternoon programme was well attended. The speakers at this event included Mr. J. W. McRae, Fieldman, Crops Branch, speaking on Crop Production in Eastern Ontario; Mr. R. McVicar of the Forage Crop Division, Central Experimental Farm, who spoke on the possibilities of Forage Crop Seed Production in Glengarry county; Mr. K. E. Lantz, who spoke on the subject of efficiency in Crop Production, and stressed that increased yields per acre meant increased net profits. Mr. J. Y. Humphries outlined the various crop improvement projects to be taken in Glengarry county in 1950.

Chairman of the event was Mr. J. J. McDonald, Dalhousie Station, president of the Glengarry Crop Improvement Association.

One of Alexandria's oldest citizens, Mr. John Larocque, quietly celebrated his 93rd birthday yesterday. Mr. Larocque, who resides with a daughter, Mrs. Leopold Marcoux, has been confined to his bed for the past ten months.

Minister Of Education To Speak At Banquet

Plans have been completed for the Alexandria Night Class Banquet. The Hon. Dana Porter, Minister of Education for the Province of Ontario, has been secured as guest speaker, and it is expected that a large number will attend, as it is not often that the opportunity arises to hear such an outstanding authority on the subject of "Better Education".

The banquet will be held in Green Valley Pavilion on Tuesday, April 18, at 7:00 p.m. Tickets for this event are being distributed throughout the county and may be obtained from any member of the Night Classes, which were held in the Alexandria High School this past winter. In addition, they will be available at the High School, and the Department of Agriculture in Alexandria; from Mr. W. J. Murray, Williamstown, or from Mr. C. B. McDermid, Maxville.

Plans have also been made to hold a social hour, entertainment and dance following the banquet. This should be an event worthy of your attention.

New Proprietor For Champlain Station

George Goulet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jovenin Goulet, this week assumed proprietorship of the Champlain Service Station, corner of Main and Gernish streets, from Alex. G. MacLaren. Mr. Goulet had been employed with the Bell Telephone Co. until recently.

Greenfield And Dunvegan To Have Street Lights

Greenfield and Dunvegan are to boast street lights in 1950. Following recent meetings held at the two points, residents almost unanimously petitioned in favor of their installation by Kenyon Township Council.

The township pays half the cost of installation. Charges for remainder of the installation cost and service charges are apportioned equally among the petitioners and added to their tax bills.

Twelve lights will be placed on Greenfield streets, probably in April or May, while Dunvegan will have ten lights at about the same time.

All the members of Kenyon council attended the meeting, at which various phases of the move were thoroughly discussed.

Regional Education Group Rallied Here

The 40th anniversary of the founding of the French-Canadian Educational Association in Ontario was marked here Sunday afternoon, by the holding of a regional meeting in Sacred Heart Hall. A capacity crowd was on hand to hear the addresses by local and visiting officials.

The afternoon programme was followed by a supper, attended by officers of the local association and their guests.

Senator Raoul Hurlbut of Sudbury was the principal speaker and he was introduced by Dr. G. L. Labour, president of the Alexandria group. Senator Hurlbut is a native of St. Isidore and attended the Separate School here, for two years in his youth.

The senator reviewed the history of the organization. He has been a member since its foundation in 1910. He referred to the difficulties regulation 17 had imposed in the development of bilingual instruction when only a small amount of French instruction was allowed.

In 1910 more than 1,200 delegates from every section of the province met in Ottawa, he said, and formed the French-Canadian Educational Association of Ontario.

After the abolition of regulation 17 in 1927, bilingual teaching developed from a few Separate Schools to the present time when 1,678 classes are now being taught. There are also 14 bilingual inspectors in the province, he added.

The senator stated practically all bilingual teachers have second class certificates and he also referred to scholarships awarded by the association and the loans made to promising pupils to help them secure higher education.

Osie Villeneuve, MPP, Glengarry, referred to encouragement given education by the provincial government and to qualified bilingual students to assist in civil service work in the province.

W. J. Major, MP, Glengarry, also pointed out the many opportunities awaiting bilingual students. He urged parents to make necessary sacrifices to educate their children to fill important posts.

Rev. E. Sauve of Ottawa University, who has recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe, mentioned the progress being made in Northern Ontario. He also discussed the need for preserving the French language.

Dr. C. Laframboise of Ottawa, covered financial plans of the association. J. Rene Legault of Alexandria, president of the regional group, was chairman of the meeting, and he was complimented on the efficient manner in which the gathering had been organized.

Brother Renald and Mrs. Jean Marie Rouette provided music during the afternoon.

Manager At St. Isidore Receives Transfer

Mr. A. E. Cyr, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at St. Isidore, and Mrs. Cyr, left this week for New Carlisle in the Gaspé area of Quebec, to which branch Mr. Cyr has been transferred. Mr. Cyr had been manager at St. Isidore for the past two years.

Glengarry M.P.P. Sees Need For Development Of Parks By Province

Public Recreation Facilities Should Be Part Of St. Lawrence Seaway Development Says O. F. Villeneuve In Legislature

Development of public parks as part of the St. Lawrence Waterway development was called for in the legislature Monday by Osie F. Villeneuve, M.P.P., Glengarry.

Speaking in the debate, which is discussing the report of the select committee on conservation, the Glengarry member said one of the criticisms the committee had to make was of the lack of parks in the province.

In southern Ontario there were only three public parks, he said, Ipperwash on Lake Huron, Rondeau on Lake Erie and Point Pelee.

Now that the province was more or less on a five-day week more consideration should be given to provide public park and beach facilities.

In this regard he hoped the authorities in charge of the St. Lawrence development would consider this very important feature and make the necessary allowance for public recreation grounds.

Tenders Called For Ten Miles Of Highway
Tenders have been called by the Ontario Department of Highways for hot mix resurfacing of a ten-mile stretch of Highway 34. The contract will include Alexandria's Main street, the work starting south of town and continuing through the curve at McCrimmon. A hot mix top of 3 1/2 inches will be applied and road shoulders will also be brought up to the same level. Tenders close April 5.

There is reported to be prospect of other highway work in the area though nothing definite has yet been announced.

A. Lalonde Heads Playgrounds Group

Plans for development of the park and playground on the Island site were discussed Wednesday evening at a meeting of the joint committee.

Ambrose Lalonde was appointed chairman to succeed J. A. Laurin, who will remain a member of the committee. Frank McLeister was named secretary-treasurer. It was decided building of the road should be the first step and estimates of the cost are to be secured. It is expected voluntary labor and materials will hold the cost down.

Reeve A. A. McDonald is to be asked to approach Counties' Council for a grant towards the project.

Mayor Graham sat with the committee, which is made up of: Ambrose Lalonde and J. A. Roussin, representing council; Francois Fommier and J. A. Laurin of the Richelleu Club; Lloyd McHugh, Frank McLeister and Laurier Sabourin of the Kinsmen Club.

Still Active With Regimental Band

Nearing fifty years of active association with the regimental pipe band, Piper James A. McNaughton of Dominionville, was out with the band at the regular drill night of the S.D. & G. Highlanders at Cornwall Armouries, Monday night. Piper McNaughton is one of two living original pipers of the four who made up the first band of the 59th Battalion, which accompanied the unit to camp at Rockcliffe in 1904.

In the intervening years he was with the 59th until 1916, when it was reconstituted as the 154th Battalion; with the 154th until 1920, when it was reorganized to become the S.D. & G. Highlanders, and he still turns out regularly with the regimental band of today.

His record parallels that of Pipe-Major J. A. Stewart of Dunvegan, the other living original of the old 59th, but who is no longer active with the unit's band because of his advanced age.

From Piper McNaughton, officers of the regiment are securing data on the early history of the band. He was able to furnish them with a picture of the original band when it was made up of Pipers Stewart and McNaughton, Hugh Dewar of Glen Sandfield, and Archie McDougall of Martintown. The McAteer brothers, Fred and Willie, of Cornwall, were the drummers in that day.

On page three will be found a later picture of the 59th.

Tenders Called For Ten Miles Of Highway

Tenders have been called by the Ontario Department of Highways for hot mix resurfacing of a ten-mile stretch of Highway 34. The contract will include Alexandria's Main street, the work starting south of town and continuing through the curve at McCrimmon. A hot mix top of 3 1/2 inches will be applied and road shoulders will also be brought up to the same level. Tenders close April 5.

There is reported to be prospect of other highway work in the area though nothing definite has yet been announced.

For Drainage
The member paid tribute to the government for the assistance it was giving in drainage. This was a most important matter in Eastern Ontario, he said.

He suggested that a qualified engineer should be made available to advise whether drainage projects were practical or not. Certain large projects in the past, he said, had been undertaken and later it had been shown they shouldn't have been undertaken.

It would be of value if agricultural representatives had assistants. One of their qualifications would be the ability to take ground levels for farmers who were installing under-drainage. Loans up to $3,000 were available for these projects from the government. And while it had been shown they increased crops very materially, if the drainage wasn't laid on the proper levels, much of the benefit was lost.

In all Eastern Ontario, he said, there was only one drainage engineer in the area from Peterborough to the Quebec border and north from the St. Lawrence to the Ottawa about 200 by 120 miles. The engineer was located at Kemptville and it wasn't humanly possible for him to service the whole area.

Other suggestions of the member were that there should be a qualified conservation man on the Ontario Municipal Board and that manufacturers of tile should be licensed so there could be assurance their product was up to standard.

Mr. Villeneuve urged protection for the farmer whose wells were affected by the deep wells dug by Inland City. Some of the wells drained off most of the available below-ground water in the area, he said, and left the farmers, with their shallow wells, in a serious plight.

Control Of Weeds
Dealing with weeds, he declared the Federal government should be asked to amend grain acts which allowed the sale of uncleaned screenings and refuse screenings in Ontario. It would be difficult to control the spread of weeds in the province so long as low-grade feed grains, containing weed seeds, were permitted to come in from the West, he said.

Also the material was not often of much use as feed. A feed dealer in his riding, he said, just a few days ago had told him he had bought a carload of it and he couldn't get rid of it.

Guest Preachers At Kenyon Church

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at the close of the morning service on Easter Sunday in Kenyon Presbyterian Church, Dunvegan. Preparatory services will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock, and on Saturday morning at 11. The Rev. H. A. Doig of Maxville, and the Rev. Gordon Faraday of Vankleek Hill, will be the guest preachers on Thursday and Saturday, respectively. The minister will conduct the other services. A cordial invitation is extended to all, especially to visitors.

Sees Great Industrial Future For Towns In Eastern Ontario

Determined to secure new industrial plants for their communities this year, representatives of 31 Boards of Trade of Eastern Ontario met in Ottawa, Wednesday of last week.

They were most encouraged to hear Col. F. J. Lyle, Toronto, director of the Trade and Industry Branch of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development. He told them Ontario had secured 47 new industries last year representing capital investment of $34,000,000. Twelve of the new plants had settled in Toronto and 35 in small towns.

The businessmen heard that Eastern Ontario was no longer the forgotten section of the province, that industry was looking in this direction, making more and more enquiries about setting up plants in Eastern Ontario towns and villages.

"Bursting at the Seams"

President H. Walter of the Brockville Chamber of Commerce said that his town was "bursting at the seams" and would have to secure necessary authority from provincial authorities to buy 500 acres of land north of Brockville to be serviced with water and sewers for new industrial plants and at least 200 new houses.

Mr. Walter said Brockville, Smiths Falls, Renfrew, Hawkesbury and Alexandria would send a delegation to Toronto to secure provincial permission and aid to cover such projects as waterworks and sewers.

D. A. Macdonald, KC, of Alexandria, reported the villages on the Lower Ottawa had to have help with needed municipal services if they were to secure industries and join in the drive to provide jobs and opportunity for the youth of the towns instead of seeing them having to leave for Toronto and other large cities.

W. S. MacRae, a farmer delegate from Moose Creek, protested against the drive for municipal services. It was Col. Lyle's job, but who was going to pay for it all. He had sympathy for Col. Lyle.

The latter hotly responded that he was not looking for sympathy. Canada was the safest country in the world. New wealth brought into Ontario last year represented $34,000,000. Ontario's future was good. Industry would create new wealth and good schools, hospitals, water, sewage plants all meant opportunity for the people of Ontario.

Gets Big Job

Col. Lyle provided a sensation when he announced that Harry D. Callan of Smiths Falls, president of the Eastern Ontario Boards of Trade, has been appointed to an important post with the Planning and Development Department to look after Eastern Ontario industry. Mr. Callan will look after all the communities in the area. High tribute was paid Mr. Callan, but the delegates were encouraged that they now have a "real friend at court".

W. J. Cairns, manager of the Ottawa Board of Trade, was another "lion of the hour". He was extolled by the delegates for his work for Eastern Ontario's industrial development.

At the outset, A. A. Crawley of Ottawa, led the discussion on a resolution asking the Federal government to transfer 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 migrants to Canada within the next 20 or 30 years from the British Isles or countries associated with Canada under the Atlantic Charter.

The conference agreed that the powers of the Industrial Development Bank be extended to allow financing of 100 per cent of cost of suitable factory buildings for countries which are signatories to the Atlantic Charter.

H. Walter, Brockville; C. S. Fisher, Iroquois, and R. Reeve, Cornwall, successfully sponsored a resolution calling for the development of the St. Lawrence power and seaway project.

The conference turned down a motion by R. M. Simpson, mayor of Arnprior, and James D. Dillon of North Gower, that Eastern Ontario be entitled to purchase power at a cheaper rate than towns and cities requiring transmission of power over hundreds of miles of expensive transmission facilities.

Sugar beet growers from the Plantagenet area were successful with a motion that sugar beet producers be paid a subsidy of $1 a ton for a five-year period when a sugar refinery may be established in either Prescott county or Russell county and thus provide a new industry.

Gilbert J. Doane, president of the Ottawa Board of Trade, congratulated the 34 boards making up the conference, and Lou Buckley, secretary of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, Toronto, wanted the boards to educate young people. He had made a survey of 100 high school students. Seventy-nine thought capitalism was an evil term.

Successful Communities

Mr. Collins grew lyrical over what Kemptonville had done since 1946 in attracting new industries, the Borden Company, the Moore Corporation, and the United Farmers' plants. Sewers had been built and this had been the most effective step in attracting the three plants. Today land values in the town had increased from $100 to $500 and property values soared.

Mr. Collins cited Cornwall as another sort of successful community. This was due to a few citizens led by Aaron Horowitz.

Col. Lyle reported that his department last year had assisted in bringing 47 new industries to Ontario, which represented an investment of $34,000,000. He predicted the outlook for 1950 was even better. Devaluation of the pound had slowed up prospects of new British plants, while American firms had increased by many times the number of plants in Canada.

"I am glad to tell you that we sent two or three times as many prospects to Eastern Ontario towns last year as the year before. We get them to take a wider look at the province. I see great improvements in the presentations made by Eastern Ontario communities.

"I see a trend in industrial Ontario to the East. Montreal has had a lot to do with this. I would point out to makers of consumer goods that Eastern Ontario lies between the two big consumer markets of Canada which are Toronto and Montreal."

Permanent Floor Prices For Farm Products Move Step Nearer

The government's power to establish widely-sought floor prices for the products of Canada's farms and fisheries moved a step closer to permanency in the Commons last week.

In an atmosphere of general agreement, the Chamber gave first reading to bills to strip the time limit from legislation providing for floor prices. As the statutes now stand, they must be extended yearly. With passage of the bills, they will become permanent.

Consolidation Move

The House also gave first reading to a bill to continue the administration's power to negotiate food contracts with Britain, and initiated preliminary steps to consolidate in one statute all acts dealing with the armed forces.

The floor-price legislation provided the big debate of the day. Opposition members, while they generally approved of it, felt that the government could go further by way of providing stability for Canadian farmers. Their demand either was for so-called "parity" prices or fixed prices posted in advance.

In the opening stages, Transport Minister Chevrier tabled the 1949 report of Canadian National Railways, showing a deficit of $42,043,026, compared with a deficit of $33,532,741 in 1948.

Justice Minister Garson declined to indicate whether prosecution had been recommended last year in the case of an alleged price-fixing combine in the flour-milling industry.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, piloting the farm legislation, told the Chamber he has been urging Western farmers against developing their herds through an overflow of sales to the high-priced United States markets.

Western herds have dropped by 2,000,000 head since the American market was reopened two years ago. If this trend continued, Western farmers would wonder what was happening to their production.

Canada, he said, always was scouring the world for markets for farm products, but the best market was at home. Farmers now were receiving from domestic sales a better price than they could get anywhere, with the possible exception of the spate of cattle sales to the U.S.

Few Surpluses

There were few food surpluses. Cheese, for example, was in surplus only to the extent of 18,000,000 pounds.

As for government-held butter, this country consumed 1,000,000 pounds a day and the stocks now held soon would disappear.

M. J. Coldwell, OCF leader, suggested a system of fixed farm prices, made known in advance, which would tell the farmer what he was going to get for his produce one, two or three years hence. That was being done in the United Kingdom and the system was working well. It had stimulated production.

Canada, he said, was going to have to consider barter arrangements for the disposal of her farm surpluses when the Marshall Aid funds provided for European markets were cut off.

J. A. Ross (PC—Souris) and Hazen Argue (CCF—Assiniboia) felt the legislation should contain a formula for fixing floor prices. The Minister of Agriculture should not alone have the power to establish the floor prices.

Robert Fair (SC—Battle River) and Victor Queleh (SC—Acadia) wanted parity prices which would give farmers prices which would bear some relationship to the cost of things they themselves had to buy.

Mr. Queleh felt the farmer now had a "large credit" with the government as a result of "subsidizing" the consumers during the war through controlled prices.

STRICT REGULATIONS

Increased vigilance has been necessary during recent years to prevent the introduction into Canada of livestock diseases from abroad. Many of the European countries have been experiencing serious outbreaks and while owing to the prevalence of these dangerous diseases in Europe livestock importations have not been permitted for many years, there is always a possibility of infection being introduced through normal trade channels.

To guard against this risk, regulations under the Health of Animals Division Dominion Department of Agriculture, apply to the importation of hides, skins, glue stock, horns, hoofs, bones, wool, hair, bristles, meat products, feathered game; fertilizers, bone-meal and foodstuffs containing animal matter; straw, hay and similar forage for feeding livestock, cereals, grain and other animal feed; and also products of the soil such as hay and straw used for packing.

See Long Wait In Bell Rate Case

Ottawa, March 24.—It will be months before Ontario and Quebec telephone subscribers know whether they're going to pay higher rates.

One reason is that a lengthy list of witnesses is still to be heard in the Bell Telephone rate case before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Bell Telephone Company of Canada is asking the board for permission to boost phone rates in the two provinces. The company now operates about 1,600,000 telephones in Ontario and Quebec. The proposed increase would give Bell a 20-per-cent boost in revenue.

At conclusion of Thursday's sitting, Bell's seventh witness, staff supervisor Harry E. McCrudden, was being questioned by Bell lawyer J. L. O'Brien of Montreal. It was learned that he is far from the last Bell witness, although company officials declined to say just how many others would be called.

All witnesses are first questioned by Bell lawyers, then cross-examined by various counsel for cities opposing the rate boosts.

Opposition Witnesses

After the hearing finishes with Bell witnesses, the opposition is expected to bring some of its own before the board. Then there will be general arguments, after which the board will begin considering the mountains of exhibits and evidence placed before them.

The board took a breather today at the end of the third week of the hearings. The hearing resumes Monday morning.

Testimony Thursday was devoted wholly to Bell's case. Mr. McCrudden told the board that a contract between Bell and its subsidiary, Northern Electric, is advantageous to the phone company.

He said Bell found it economical to stick strictly to the telephone business, leaving the manufacturing, purchasing and warehousing side to Northern Electric.

Mr. McCrudden said Northern Electric, 54 per cent of which is owned by Bell, sells to Bell at most favored customer prices.

Each branch, keyed to the needs of its own community, offers you the strength and varied services of one of the world's largest banks. Your local Manager has behind him the experience, knowledge and organization of the whole institution. He is there to serve you in every way he can.

Hello Homemakers! Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles are triplets; they all belong to the "paste" family. There are more members of each group, but ask your Italian friends to name them. Macaroni and spaghetti differ mostly in form, while noodles have eggs added to the mix.

Paste is always cooked in a large amount of briskly boiling water in a deep saucepan. It should be stirred occasionally with a long-handled fork to prevent it from sticking. Try to break with a fork — the paste should be tender in about 20 minutes. Now drain in a colander and rinse quickly with a little cold water, then it's ready for the sauce.

The Italian folk, who are masters in the preparation of this kind of dish, never serve a white gluey sauce. Tomatoes are the base of many dressings for spaghetti and a real expert uses a sliver of garlic. Cheese is almost a necessity, especially nippy cheese, coarsely grated. Chopped cooked meat or clams may be added along with some seasoning such as parsley, chives, mushrooms, onion tops and tomato paste. To some folk, however, there is nothing better than macaroni or spaghetti drenched in butter and cheese. We suggest one thing more — bits of chives. For quantities, see recipes.

MACARONI WITH CHIVES

- 1 lb. macaroni
- ½ cup minced chives
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup old cheese.

Add macaroni slowly to briskly boiling salted water and cook about 20 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly over low heat. Serve very hot. Makes six servings.

SPAGHETTI WITH MEAT BALLS

- 1 cup diced salt pork
- 1 lb. minced beef
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 2 tbsps. chopped parsley
- 4 tbsps. tomato paste
- 1 clove garlic.
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- 1 lb. spaghetti
- ¼ cup grated old cheese

Try out pork. Shape minced meat with pork into balls. Add tomatoes, parsley, garlic, salt and pepper to saucepan. Cover and simmer with meat balls for 45 minutes. Cook spaghetti. Drain, then pour meat sauce over hot spaghetti and cheese.

NOODLES, PEAS AND BACON

- 1 cup uncooked noodles
- 1 cup green peas
- 2 tbsps. chopped pimiento
- ¼ cup cooked chopped bacon
- 2 tablespoons chopped almonds
- 1½ cups cream sauce
- ½ cup bread crumbs
- ½ cup grated cheese.

Cook noodles in salted boiling water. Drain and rinse with cold water. Arrange noodles, peas, pimiento, almonds and bacon in layers. Pour on part of cream sauce. Add remaining noodles, etc., until dish is filled and ingredients are all used. Combine grated cheese and crumbs. Place in electric oven at 400 degrees until dish is hot and crumbs are browned. Serves 4 to 6.

CELERY AND SPAGHETTI AU GRATIN

- 1 cup grated cheese
- 1½ cups medium cream sauce
- 1 cup cooked spaghetti
- ¼ cup diced pimiento
- 1 cup buttered crumbs.

Add cheese to sauce. Now add corn, celery, spaghetti and pimiento. Turn into a buttered casserole and sprinkle with crumbs. Brown and heat through at 400 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes in electric oven. Serves 6.

DESSERTS FOR THE CHILDREN AND OTHERS

By CONSUMER SECTION
Marketing Service
Dominion Dept. of Agriculture

Dessert is the climax to any meal. For children it may even be the prize won by eating the uninteresting first course.

Mother may even make the dessert the main course without arousing suspicion of the small fry by using plenty of milk and eggs in the pudding.

Canada's Food Rules emphasize the fact that children up to twelve years should drink at least a pint of milk a day. Adolescents require even more; their quota being one and one-half pints, while adults should have at least one-half pint. Many homemakers interpret this rule to mean milk served as a beverage, but a goodly portion may be used in cooking.

Eggs, too, play an important part in the diet, not only because of their nutritive value but because of their palatability and versatility in cooking.

The following desserts are suggested by the home economists of the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, with the children in mind, but the adults will enjoy them as well.

SNOW CAP

- 2 egg whites
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons sugar

Custard

- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- Pinch of salt
- 2 cups milk
- 2 egg yolks
- 6 canned peach halves.

Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff. Gradually beat in the sugar. Pour boiling water, 3 to 4 inches deep, into a large, deep pan or bowl. Drop meringue by spoonfuls on the water, making 6 meringues. Cover and let stand 20 minutes.

Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt, add milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Place over hot water and cook about 10 minutes. Add a little of the milk mixture to beaten egg yolks, then add to remaining mixture and cook, stirring constantly, for 3 minutes. Pour into individual serving dishes. Cover with sliced peaches and top with cooked meringue. Chill before serving. Yield: Six servings.

CHILDREN'S DELIGHT

- 4 slices bread
- 4 tablespoons peanut butter
- 3 tablespoons butter
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 cups milk
- 3 eggs
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup raisins.

Spread slices of bread with a blend of the butters. Cut into cubes and place in a buttered baking dish. Combine the salt, milk, beaten eggs and brown sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Add the raisins and pour milk mixture over bread cubes. Set in a pan of water and oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350 deg. F., for 1 hour. Yield: Six servings.

BARLEY PUDDING

- 1/3 cup uncooked barley
- 4 cups boiling water
- 1/3 teaspoon salt
- 2 egg yolks
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 2 egg whites.

Cook barley in the rapidly boiling, salted water for 40 minutes or until tender and practically all the water has been absorbed. Mix beaten egg yolks, sugar and milk and add to the barley, blending well. Cook, stirring constantly, in a double boiler until mixture coats a spoon, about 8 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat, add vanilla and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into serving dish and serve hot or cold. Yield: Six servings.

PIPER McNAUGHTON NEARING 50TH YEAR WITH BAND

One of the two living "originals" with the old 59th Regiment Pipe Band, PIPER JAMES A. McNAUGHTON of Dominionville (third from left), is nearing fifty years of active association with the district's regimental band. He and PIPE MAJOR J. A. STEWART of Dunvegan (First on left), were among the four pipers in the first band which in 1904 accompanied the 59th to camp at Rockcliffe.

Murdoch McRae, Dunvegan; Piper Angus D. McDonald of Alexandria, still actively associated with the unit's band; Piper Dan Seaton of Montreal; Base Drummer Tom Gamble, Montreal; Piper Myles McDonald, still a resident of Glen Robertson; Piper James A. McNaughton, Dominionville; Piper Alex. McRae of Moose Creek; Pipe Major Alex. Gray of the Black Watch, Montreal. Seated are: Sgt. Drummer Bill Saur, and Drummer Herb. Taylor, both of Montreal.

THE AGE OF MIRACLES HAS NOT PASSED

"My wife and I have just come from seeing Peter and we can tell you that the age of miracles has not passed." The father who wrote these words had watched his four-year-old son walk for the first time by himself. Most children are able to do so at 16 months, but not Peter. Sad to say, he was stricken at birth with cerebral palsy.

In all Canada there is only one residential nursery school for the little ones who must endure the torture of this baffling malady. It is a model hospital which was opened last November at London, Ontario, in conjunction with Woodeden, one of Ontario's three summer camps for crippled children. Here, thanks to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children many young lives will be salvaged and fresh hope shines, as the sun through the clouds, for the most helpless of all who are in infancy afflicted.

Cerebral palsy is usually due to a malformation of the brain or a brain injury at birth. The damage to the brain's motor centres robs the little one of muscular control and sense of direction. The child cannot feed or dress itself. The power of speech usually is pitifully limited.

And yet these children generally have normal intelligence and many are above normal mentally. They have the ability to learn. How to instruct them has long stood as a challenge to the medical and nursing profession. In recent years this has been met.

At Woodeden 20 boys and girls, from three to six, are learning how to walk and talk; how to chew their food and swallow it; yes, even how to breathe properly. Every case is different. For each child a special chair must be built and a table at mouth level for feeding. So often the victim's arms are out of control.

Peter's mother said: "At home my boy couldn't walk because his arms would fly and throw him off balance. Do you know how they overcame that at school? By putting his arms inside his overalls."

At the school they have special skis with poles to support the child as he learns to walk, and many other devices. More important, they have a staff of physiotherapists specially trained in how to teach and how to encourage. Patience is their virtue. Day after day they must repeat by the hour the motions that the children must follow.

For every patient there are at least two staff members, all under the competent supervision of Dr. T. H. Coffey, Professor of Physical Medicine at the University of Western Ontario.

The children have been brought from all over Ontario, from Timmins, Ottawa and Windsor, and their is a waiting list. These cases are best treated between the ages of three and six before muscles atrophy and bad habits become too pronounced.

Mrs. P. C. Cox, the school's director of training, said: "We can do best if

Clergymen Course Planned At O.A.C.

A unique course of instruction, in which fundamental principles of agriculture will be passed on to Ontario's rural clergy, is being launched at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph this summer. The course is open to ministers of all denominations and will be of one week's duration. The unique course of study is being arranged, a spokesman for the Ontario

Department of Agriculture explains, because of recognition of splendid work done by rural clergy and also because of the importance of the Christian Church in rural community life. It is also felt that there is need for a more detailed knowledge, on the part of the rural minister, of problems confronting his parishioners.

Lectures and demonstrations will all be given by members of various faculties of the Ontario Agricultural College and the Ontario Veterinary College. Special attention will be paid to the problem of conservation, with specific emphasis on soil, field crops, livestock, plant diseases, poultry and agricultural organizations, both provincial and local. Markets, with emphasis on quality, will also receive some attention.

Conservation, marketing and agricultural organizations, will be discussed by panels of men well versed in these subjects.

"It is hoped, through the course, that a closer tie-up between the college and the clergy, as well as between the farmer and the clergy, will result from the course", a spokesman for the college says. "It is felt that a better knowledge of agriculture and its many problems will bring this about".

we get the boy or girl before the age of four. Then they receive from nature the initial drive to do things. Often it takes from three weeks to a month to learn simply what a child can do. But you can imagine how thrilling it is to hear a youngster, who came to us speechless, utter the first coherent word . . . or perhaps it isn't a word. 'Pooh!' You teach them to say it by blowing out a candle.

Your donation to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children will light the candle for a child whose life now lingers among the shadows of a blighted, hopeless existence. Donations may be mailed to "Kiwanis Club of Cornwall, 46 Second St. West."

Fire Damages

Maxville Shop

Precision tools valued at approximately $700 were destroyed Friday morning by fire which broke out in the basement of the Casey Machine Shop, Main street.

Prompt arrival of the Maxville Fire Department, under the direction of Chief Leonard Hurd, is credited with saving the building, which escaped with minor smoke and water damage.

M. L. Casey, proprietor of the machine shop, told firemen he believed the blaze started from an overheated stove.

Power Break Started

Fire On Switchboard

A power wire broken in Thursday's sleet and wind storm left this village without lights for three hours and caused a fire in the Bell Telephone Company office, which put half the telephones in the village out of commission.

Severing of the power line caused a short circuit in the switchboard at the telephone office. Operators on duty were Miss Elaine Steele and Miss Margaret Stewart, who escaped injury as the board caught fire.

The chief operator, Miss Bertha MacEwen, was en route home, but returned to man a fire extinguisher and put out the flames. One position of the two-position board was heavily damaged, however, rendering half the telephones useless.

The power break occurred about 5:30 p.m. and the village was without power until linemen repaired the damage about 8:30.

Honey Has High Energy Value

Many centuries have passed since man first discovered that the sweet substance which he gathered from wild bees' nests in virgin forests, was a delightful and nutritious food. Over three thousand years ago honey was recognized as a source of quick energy by the Greeks, whose athletes used it during their training period in preparation for the Olympic games, says C. A. Jamieson, Apiculturist for the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Honey is almost wholly a carbohydrate food consisting chiefly of two sugars, fructose and glucose (levulose and dextrose), which account for slightly over 75 per cent of the total constituents. These sugars are in a condition in which they can be absorbed directly from the stomach without preliminary digestion. When ordinary sugar such as cane and beet sugar are taken into the body, they must first be broken down into the simple sugars, fructose and glucose, before absorption can take place.

In addition to the sugars there are small quantities of minerals in honey which are known to be of value for growth and health of the body. The mineral content of honey at 0.2 per cent is not high but includes such elements as iron, copper, sodium, potassium, manganese, calcium, magnesium and phosphorus. The darker honeys usually contain a slightly higher percentage of these minerals than light honeys.

Because of its high carbohydrate value honey is particularly beneficial for those participating in sports and for those engaged in strenuous work. It is also an excellent food for children and is recommended by many doctors as a sweetening agent for the milk of baby food.

ITEMS OF AULD LANG SYNE

Gleaned from the Fyles of The Glengarry News

The Liberal sweep of 1935 was repeated Monday when Premier King's government was returned with a majority of 125. Dr. W. B. MacDiarmid of Maxville won Glengarry for the Liberals, with a plurality of 1,757 over J. W. MacRae, National Government candidate. — Damage estimated at $2,000 was done to Alexander Hall here Monday. — Easter week-end visitors here had to walk or use sleighs to reach the station, as a result of the worst two-day blizzard of the winter, which struck on Saturday. All Eastern Canada was hit by the storm, which piled up huge drifts. —

Negotiations have been underway which if successful, will mean the establishment of another industry here in the near future. It is a paper bag factory on the premises of the new match factory building. — Mr. J. A. Macdonell, K.C., has given the contract for erection of a substantial addition to his present modern home, to Mr. J. J. PASTURES AND FORAGE CROPS

First of a series of articles written for The Glengarry News
By D. L. PARKS
Field Husbandman, Kemptville Agricultural School

Since hay and pasture are the most important crops grown in Ontario, they are deserving of more attention than they receive from farmers generally. Some are doing an excellent job of producing these crops, while others have not yet fully appreciated their potential value or all of the factors which influence their production. Grassland is of paramount importance because of the vast acreage which it occupies, and the tremendous value of the live stock and live stock products produced from it. And certainly not to be overlooked is its soil conserving and soil building value.

Plenty of good hay in the barn and good pasture as it is required throughout the grazing season are the cornerstones of profitable dairying. No other factor so directly affects the amount of milk produced and the net income on a dairy farm as the quantity and quality of the forage produced on that farm. In other words, higher yields of better hay, pasture, and silage will increase the carrying capacity of the farm and the milk production per cow, which is so essential to profitable dairying. Every dairyman knows that a plentiful supply of good pasture and good hay will increase his milk flow and reduce his purchases of concentrate feeds. Therefore, the main problem of most dairy farmers is to improve their production of hay and pasture in order to lower their cost of producing milk and breeding stock.

We have only scratched the surface in the improvement of our grasslands. The majority of our acres in sod are producing at less than fifty per cent of their capacity, and it would also be safe to say that the majority of our dairy cows are producing at about half of their inherited ability. The fact that some farmers are making their acres and cows produce to their maximum capacity shows what can be done. If you have not yet tried the new mixtures and methods of producing pasture, you are in for a pleasant and profitable surprise. Most farmers are amazed at the amount of feed that can be obtained from an acre of well nourished and managed improved pasture. Furthermore, when your cows have access to this really good pasture, you will find that they are much better milkers than you thought they were. Yields of 3,500 to 6,000 pounds of milk per acre have been obtained by farmers from real good seeded pasture. Needless to say, these yields would have been difficult to obtain in 1949. However, they can be expected from a good pasture field in a high state of fertility in any year of normal rainfall.

The importance of hay is indicated not only by the tremendous acreage devoted to its production, but also by its very necessity in the feeding of beef and dairy cattle. Its importance really becomes apparent when farmers, because of a lack of it, pay half as much per ton for hay as grain. The real worth of hay, however, is the measure of its feeding value which varies much more than we realize. Poor hay has only half the feeding value of good hay with respect to the amount of protein, minerals and vitamins which it contains. Some dairy-men who appreciate this fact, try to make up these deficiencies by feeding additional concentrate feed which adds to their cost of production. Whereas others are attempting to make higher quality hay in order to cut down their need for purchased feed.

The provision of an adequate supply of hay and pasture as it is required throughout the year calls for a definite program and some co-operation from the weatherman. Such a program will take into consideration the needs of your live stock and the capabilities of your soil. The productivity of your soil will largely determine the carrying capacity of your farm and to a great extent the productivity of your cattle. If your crops are well fed, your cattle will be well fed. Hungry crops generally result in hungry cattle. A satisfactory level of soil fertility is of prime importance in any program of improved forage production. When this level has been obtained, high yields of the other crops in your rotation will be pretty well assured.

Next week: Getting Acquainted With The Forage Grasses and Legumes.

Cull Poor Layers

(Experimental Farms News)

Economy of production is always an essential feature of any stable industry. When that industry is in a comparatively prosperous state, with regard to sales and prices, producers can still obtain reasonable returns even though they have overlooked certain features which are increasing their costs and reducing their net income. When prices drop, these people are the first to feel the effect and are therefore the ones who will have to improve their methods, take a loss, or go out of business.

Looking at the expense side of the ledger of a poultry farm, the first item that strikes the eye is feed costs. We know from results of research and experience that it is not good policy to feed inferior rations. We can cut costs somewhat during the growing season with good pasture, but the optimum protein level and other important ingredients are essential for egg production. Also, the quantity of laying mash given to layers must not be restricted, in fact they should be encouraged to eat as much as possible. The next consideration, and the crucial one, is whether the quantity of eggs produced is sufficient for the amount of feed used.

Probably the greatest waste on many farms occurs from carrying birds, frequently termed "boarders", which are not paying for their keep, says A. S. Johnson, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Since these birds can be identified by certain physical characteristics they should be picked out and sold for what they will bring rather than maintained at additional expense with no or very little return. Even though they may not be worth much as market birds, it costs too much to keep them. A few unpromising birds can be eliminated in the fall at the time of housing. Since more than half of a bird's feed is required for maintenance these birds cost almost as much to keep as those which are in heavy production.

A poor or non-layer is usually characterized by a sluggish, dull appearance or, on the contrary, an extremely nervous one as sometimes observed in birds which are in a moult. Such birds usually retire to roosts early in the afternoon or are found there at any time on entering the pen. On the contrary, heavy layers will be busy feeding or scratching in the litter.

Non-layers can be distinguished, without handling, by the appearance of their combs. These are shrunken, scaly and pale in color as opposed to the bright red, waxy, enlarged comb of the producer. In breeds which are genetically yellow shanked, the yellow color fades out with egg production. Thus a bird showing deep yellow in her shanks will usually be either a non-layer or will have just started laying. Her feathers will be oily and sleek whereas if a bird has dry, broken feathering it is usually an indication that she is more than paying for her keep. By the above characteristics the "slackers" can be spotted even without handling.

Birds can be caught up by fencing in the corner of a pen with wire panels. This should be done in the afternoon when they are not laying as heavily and should be done carefully in order to disturb them as little as possible. The culls may be placed in a crate nearby and the desirable birds placed back in the pen; another alternative is to do this at night using a flashlight. In handling, the unproductive birds which were not spotted before can be removed. Those that are very light and are therefore likely to go into a moult should go out. Good thrifty layers are usually in good condition but not over fat. The condition of the abdomen is a good indication of production. If the skin is hard, drawn up, and the pelvic bones are drawn close together, leaving little abdominal capacity, such a bird is a deficit rather than an asset.

Broody hens should be marked when they are released from the broody coops. If they are frequent offenders they should be marketed.

In spite of good methods of feeding and management there will be those birds which do not respond and should be removed. Culling is another important step toward high efficiency of production.

MAPLE AVENUE

Mrs. Alexander MacDonell had a birthday recently. She received many gifts and cards from relatives and friends, and a telegram from Langley Prairie, near Vancouver, from her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. MacDonell. Those remembrances help a lot to keep a person happy.

There are now over 30 different railways in Canada, ranging in size from the Canadian National Railways with its 21,000 miles of track, to small local lines like the Thousand Island Railway with its four and a half miles of track.

MONTREAL WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

At the home of the bride's parents, on Clarke avenue, Westmount, the marriage was solemnized at four o'clock on Saturday, of Miss Margaret MacLennan Scott, graduate of the Montreal General Hospital School of Nursing, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, and Mr. Peter Dawson Bateman, son of Mr. D. S. Bateman and the late Mrs. Bateman, of Verdun. The Very Rev. T. W. Jones, D.D., performed the ceremony, and Miss Betty Ross played the wedding music. Spring flowers formed the decorations.

Dr. Scott gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Ruth Smith was her sister's matron of honor, with Miss Lillian Scott, another sister, as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. R. Williams, while Mr. Don Martin ushered.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned on classical lines, the long sleeves tapering to points over the hands and the bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline, while the full skirt flowed into a train. Her finger-tip veil fell from a Dutch cap of satin and she carried a cascade bouquet of Easter lilies.

The two attendants were wearing full skirted hooped frocks with head-dresses and nosegays of variegated flowers to match the print of their dresses. The matron of honor was in pale green and the bridesmaid, in pale yellow.

Mrs. Scott, the bride's mother, was in a gown of black crepe with pattern in satin, and trimmed with pink, her corsage of Tallismans roses.

Following a reception, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dawson Bateman left for their wedding trip, the bride wearing for travelling a navy blue gabardine suit with white and navy accessories and camel hair coat. The couple will make their home in Snowdon.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. John R. McLeod, Glen Nevis.

Mr Owen Heath, 83, Dies At Brodie

On February 28, at the family residence, Lot 10-5th Lochiel (Brodie), fortified by the last rites of the Catholic Church, Mr. Duncan Heath passed to his eternal reward.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Heath (nee Jane Smith), and lived all his quiet, useful life of eighty-three years on the farm where he was born. He was always friendly and cheerful and willing to lend a helping hand, and his friends were many. His passing leaves a vacant place in the community.

He had been in falling health since last September, but was always able to be about his home until a couple of days previous to his death, when his condition became critical.

He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind brother, one sister, Helen, and one brother, David, with whom he resided; also two nieces, Mary I. Heath of Glen Sandfield, and (Margaret) Mrs. J. C. Stuart of Glen Robertson.

The funeral was held March 2, to St. Paul's Church, Dalkeith, where Requiem Mass was chanted by the pastor, Rev. H. Oumet. Rev. C. F. Gauthier of Lochiel was present in the Sanctuary.

The body was placed in the vault at St. Alexander's Church, Lochiel, to await burial in the family plot, there, in the Spring.

The pallbearers were Messrs. John D. and Lloyd McMillan, F. and G. Tallefer, W. A. Golden and Duncan McCallum.

Col. Hooker of Lachute, Que., a cousin, was present at the funeral. The late Miss Center was the last surviving member of the Center family.
