Alexandria Returning To Standard Time Sunday Evening At Midnight

Town Council Amends D.S.T. By-Law To Fall In Line With Cities — $2,000 Voted To New Recreation Association

Alexandrians will turn back their clocks to Standard Time at midnight, Sunday, it was decided at Tuesday's regular meeting of Town Council, when the by-law covering Daylight Saving Time was so amended. The change was made so as to fall in line with Ottawa, Cornwall and other district centres, though the original by-law set the return to Standard Time, here, as one week later.

Most district centres will revert to Standard Time at midnight of Saturday, but the local change will be made 24 hours later so as to avoid any mix-ups in hours of attendance at church services Sunday morning.

Members of the Recreation Association waited on Council to ask that the filling-in of the playground be completed this fall. They pointed out that government grants on the work, now set at 25 per cent, might possibly be withdrawn next year on account of the war situation. Some members of the delegation and some councillors felt the fill-in could be completed at reasonable cost by cutting down the higher sections of the park site, and there were other suggestions for getting fill cheaply. It was decided members of council and the association would meet at 5 p.m. Wednesday, on the park site to further discuss the project.

At the request of the Recreation Association, the sum of $2,000 was voted by council as a first step towards appointment of a director and other officials by the Association. If the proper selection of a director is made, Mayor Graham declared, the Recreation program can in future be made to pay for itself. Other towns, some much smaller than Alexandria, are paying up to $5,000 a year to finance their programs, he stated.

Council was notified by Fire Chief Lauzon that three fire hydrants are not working and the P.U.C. maintenance man will be notified to look into the matter. Clerk Charlebois reported four new hydrants are on order and should reach Alexandria on October 9th.

The sewer petition covering the north end of the lake and the area including Kenyon and Elgin streets west was presented to Council and will be referred to the Town Engineer. There was some discussion on branch lines to (Continued on Page 5)

93 Years Old On Sunday

Mr. John Peter McKercher of Maxville, will rate a nod from the C.W.N.A. Neighbourly News broadcaster, on Sunday, when he marks his 93rd birthday.

District Cheesemakers Swept Vankleek Show

Cheesemakers from the Alexandria Group carried off top honors in the cheese exhibits at Vankleek Hill Fair last week-end.

In classes for white cheese, Laurence Levac, maker at Fairview factory, 6th Kenyon, placed first; Herbert Goodman, Laggan, was second, and Lorne Goodman, McCrimmon, third. In coloured cheese, Lorne Goodman was awarded first place; Braden Bullock, Lockinvar, placed second.

H. J. Keyes, Alexandria, is instructor in this group.

Two days of steady rain, Thursday and Friday, marred the success of the fair, but a very good attendance was reported on closing day, Saturday, despite the muddy conditions which prevented holding of the harness racing events.

Lancaster Twp. Accident Victim Home From Hospital

Cyrille St. Pierre, Lancaster Township farmer, who suffered severe burns when his wife was electrocuted at their farm home in the Second Concession, June 15th, has been released from Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital, Montreal, where he had been undergoing treatment.

Mr. St. Pierre was seriously burned and his wife met instant death at their farm home when the pump they were installing in their well came in contact with overhead wires.

Funeral Late Gilbert Seguin On Saturday Alexandrians Feted 60th Wedding Date

Former Reeve Of Lochiel Died Wednesday Following Short Illness

A former reeve of Lochiel, who had been prominent in the affairs of his township over a long period of years, Mr. Gilbert Seguin of Glen Robertson, died Wednesday afternoon in Cornwall General Hospital. Mr. Seguin had been seriously ill for only a few days following a severe stroke. His death came in his 80th year and news of his passing was learned with regret by friends over a wide area.

The late Gilbert Seguin was born at St. Redempteur, Que., on March 23rd, 1871, a son of Napoleon Seguin and his wife, Dorimene Vallee. He was educated at Pointe-aux-Trembles. In 1881 the family moved to the Glen Robertson area, where he had since resided. In September, 1905, Mr. Seguin married Elizabeth Hambleton, who predeceased him in June, 1949.

Two children survive: Miss Ruth Seguin of the Public School teaching staff at Hamilton; and Ted Seguin of Agincourt, Ont.

Keenly interested in politics, particularly at the municipal level, Mr. Seguin had served on the Lochiel Council for more than 15 years during six years of which he had filled the office of reeve. Of a progressive nature, Mr. Seguin was an active supporter of the good roads movement. He had served as trustee on his local Public School board; was an elder in Dalhousie Mills United Church for some 30 years, and had played a leading part in the work of beautifying its cemetery. Only last month Mr. Seguin had been appointed a Justice of the Peace by the Ontario Government.

The funeral is being held tomorrow, Saturday, at 2:30 p.m., from his late home to Dalhousie Mills United Church and cemetery.

Glen Nevis Couple Marked Silver Date

Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Farmer) McDonald of Glen Nevis, were feted by a very large number of friends, Friday evening, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The enjoyable event was held in Alexander Hall, which was filled for the occasion.

Mrs. McDonald is the former Catherine Crimmins of Montreal, and they are among the most widely known residents of the county.

Old-time music was enjoyed and a feature was the presentation of a substantial purse by Miss Audrey McDonald, a congratulatory address being read by Robert McDonnell, Glen Roy. Brief addresses were also made by Rev. J. A. Wylie, P.P., Glen Nevis; W. J. Major, M.P., and Osie Villeneuve, M.P.P.

A family dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Saturday evening, which was featured by the presentation of a purse from the family.

Sister Of T.J. Gormley Dies At Morrisburg

Mr. T. J. Gormley of Alexandria, was in Morrisburg early this week, called there to the death bed, Sunday afternoon, of a sister, Mrs. Thomas Patrick. Her death, in her 88th year, followed an illness extending over several months.

She was born at Williamsburg in 1863, a daughter of the late Angus Gormley and his wife, Elizabeth Daley, her maiden name being Mary Ann Gormley. She was educated in local schools and later was married at Morrisburg to Thomas Patrick of Williamsburg Township. Her husband predeceased her in 1929. About eight years ago she moved to Morrisburg and lived with her sisters.

She is survived by two sons, Ligouri Patrick of Lincoln, Cal., and D'Arcy Patrick of Cardinal; also two brothers, Thomas Gormley of Alexandria, Dr. J. C. Gormley of Chesterville; three sisters, Miss Catherine Gormley, Miss Ella Gormley, and Mrs. Agnes York, all of Morrisburg.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning to St. Mary's Church and cemetery, Morrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McRae, Bishop street, Alexandria, were honoured recently on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Approximately thirty relatives and friends were present for the occasion. Cards were played and a pleasant evening enjoyed by all.

A delicious lunch was served under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McRae of Ottawa, assisted by Miss Annie M. McRae. A two-tier wedding cake graced the centre of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. McRae have been residents of Alexandria for some forty years, having removed here from their farm at Glen Sandfield. Mrs. McRae is the former Anne McRae of Glen Sandfield, and her marriage took place at the home of her parents, September 24th, 1890. Mr. McRae was born at Ste. Anne de Prescott.

Their many friends join in extending best wishes and hope they may continue to enjoy good health.

In remitting her subscription this week, Mrs. Jessie McCuaig of Sioux Lookout, Ont., notes:

"For forty-four years I have been a subscriber to The Glengarry News, which has, all through the years, kept me in touch with Glengarry and many old friends."

Maroons Win First In Play-Off Fixtures

Alexandria Maroons returned to the victory column in Saturday's local opener of the new round-robin series, due mainly to the stellar playing of three of the Ottawa imports, Milks, Garneau and Garand. The trio was good for 13 tallies as Maroons downed Montreal Canadiens 18-12.

It was the first appearance here this year of the Montrealers, and they seemingly found the Gardens floor hard to get used to for their fast passing plays were at times sloppy.

Some 500 fans saw a keenly contested struggle with the score uncomfortably close at 11-10 for Maroons going into the last frame. A severe blow to Montreal goalie Angle's face by the ball may have meant the difference for the Alexandrians slapped in seven goals, three of them within little more than a minute, to put the game on ice.

Cornwall's victory at Lachine, Sunday, following their defeat of Maroons in Cornwall, Thursday, put them on top of the play-off heap with Alexandria in second place. This sets the stage for Cornwall's visit to the Gardens, Saturday night, when a win for Maroons would put them in a tie with Cornwall.

The Alexandrians will have to show an improvement over Saturday night's brand of lacrosse to beat Cornwall, for there were glaring weaknesses in their defensive play and a shortage of good replacements for the first line. Manning had little protection at times, but turned in his usual fine game in the nets. Milks starred as a play-maker for his scoring mate, Garneau, and as field general of the squad, while Yves Garand was at his deadliest on the attack.

Alexandria scorers, in addition to the big three, were Lee and Ronnie McCormick, Dave Journeaux, Don Nicholson and Archie Ross. Maroons missed the services of Ian McCormick, now in the Windsor area. Local boys in uniform for the first time this year were Roger Lalonde and Jim Dolan.

Best for the Quebecers was Gene Tallor with three goals, followed by Larry Lalonde and Roland Lahale, who had two each. Remaining Montreal counters, all singletons, were chalked up by Charley Goudreau, Buddy Morris, Gaston Bourdon, Leon Bouchard and Guy Ducharme.

Alexandria — Goal, Manning; defence, Nicholson, McDonald; rover, Ross; centre, Milks; wings, Journeaux, Dolan; subs, Garneau, Garand, Gowan, L. McCormick, R. McCormick, Monk, Lalonde.

Montreal — Goal, Angle; defence, Cyr, Bouchard; rover, Ducharme; centre, Bourdon; wings, Goudreau, Lahale; subs, Lalonde, Bauveal, Delle, Tallor, Morris, Carson.

Officials — Rene Couture, Montreal; R. Smith, Cornwall.

Contract Let For The Home For The Aged

John F. Chisholm Of Alexandria, On County Board Of Revision

United Counties Council late Thursday afternoon of last week awarded the contract for the construction of the New Home for the Aged to be built on the East Front, Cornwall, to R. E. Stewart Construction Co., Ltd., Sherbrooke, Que., at an overall price of $821,400. The contract price was the lowest submitted in the five tenders considered by council, and was $33,000 less than the second lowest tender.

The special session called to deal with the tenders began at 10 a.m. Thursday. Shortly afterward, council went into Committee of the Whole to consider the prices and specifications submitted by the five companies. It sat all day and reported back at 4:30 p.m.

A second contract, for the installation of a refrigeration plant at the home, was awarded to W. W. Hawley, Ltd., of Kingston, at $2,540. It also was the lowest of seven tenders.

In response to a query from one of the councillors, Warden John D. Ferguson, who presided, said the contract calls for the completion of the home in a year, barring any unforeseen trouble.

In its report, the finance committee accepted the resignation of Kenneth Ault of Winchester, as a member of the County Court of Revision. It recommended the appointment of John Fox Chisholm, of Alexandria, in his place, and the suggestion was adopted along with the rest of the report.

Before the session adjourned, Major A. A. MacDonald, reeve of Alexandria, delivered a brief talk to the assembly, suggesting that it would be well for councillors to consider the question of civil defence, and be prepared for "any eventuality."

He pointed out war may now seem far removed, but Korea may well be the spark that will ignite the powder keg of total war. He asked his fellow councillors to study the problem with a view to bringing it up again at a future session.

Tayside Child Drowns In Farm Water Tank

Burial service was held at Casselman, Wednesday of last week, for Yvon Ritchie, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roch Ritchie of the Tayside district, who was drowned in a milk cooling tank on his father's farm Tuesday. Tayside is about two miles north of Moose Creek.

The child, who would be two years old in October, was playing around the barn and milkhouse as his mother and the hired man milked the cows. He tumbled unseen into the tank of water in which the milk is kept cold. His mother discovered the child's body when she made one of her frequent trips to the milkhouse. She immediately called for help and artificial respiration was applied, but the boy failed to respond.

The mother believed the child had not been noticed for about 15 minutes. Besides the parents, a small sister survives.

Centenary Of Counties Council Is Celebrated At Warden's Banquet

Transport Minister Chevrier Calls For Completion Of Waterways Scheme By Canada Alone If U.S. Unwilling To Help

"With every confidence do we believe that all our past proclaims our future," Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier, Stormont M.P., said Thursday night as he unveiled a memorial plaque commemorating the 100th anniversary of the union of the three counties, at the annual Warden's Banquet in Hotel Cornwallis.

Mr. Chevrier was principal speaker at the dinner given for counties' officials and employees, counties' councillors and special guests by Warden John D. Ferguson. Among the other speakers who were heard were W. J. Major, Glengarry M.P.; J. L. McDonald, Stormont M.P., and Osie Villeneuve, Glengarry M.P.P.

The transport minister recalled the proud history of the United Counties and paid special tribute to the men who had recorded it for posterity — Pringle, Croil and Harkness. (A more detailed report of his address will be found in another column).

Mr. McDonald, Stormont's representative in the provincial house, urged the present council to consider a revision of a tax system which has not changed with changing times.

He made the suggestion in pointing out that a council was not a governing body alone, but an organization to pass on ideas to higher government.

"Our present tax system goes back 100 years," he said. "At that time there was almost nothing to tax but real estate; but times have changed and the system hardly at all. And while everyone agrees the system is out-of-date, everyone wants to let the other fellow do something about it."

Mr. McDonald's idea was taken up by Mr. Villeneuve, who suggested such a revision might be passed on to the provincial and then the federal level. Supporting Mr. Chevrier's appeal for immediate action on the St. Lawrence Waterway plan, he said that "even though tremendous amounts of money are being voted for defence measures, we must look to the future."

Warden Ferguson welcomed his guests to the annual dinner. He thanked the council for the co-operation it had given him and assured the rest of the audience that, although the council was sometimes criticized for extravagance, it did its work conscientiously. "In this time of heavy expenditures and high costs, the United (Continued on Page 5)

The Wednesday closing will be in effect here and at Lancaster, though some Ontario stores may choose Thursday closing, depending on each municipality. The stores will remain open Wednesdays whenever a public holiday falls within that week.

Transport Minister Says Canada Should Complete St. Lawrence Waterways Alone If U.S. Will Not Share

Transport Minister Chevrier said Thursday night it is time for Canada to explore the possibility of building a St. Lawrence waterway system of her own, if the United States Congress does not want to approve the project internationally.

Asserting bluntly that the time has come for "plain speaking" on the long-awaited development, he endorsed the combined development of power and navigation, but added:

"If there are interests in the United States that are going to stand in the way of the development forever, Canadians ought to be told.

"After we are convinced that no progress can be made on the combined scheme—and unfortunately that seems to be the case—then I believe that Canada should consent to the reference of the (power) applications of Ontario and New York State to the International Joint Commission for consideration.

"In that event, I personally believe that Canada should also explore the possibility of construction of a deep waterway on the Canadian side of the boundary."

Ontario and New York State have made a bid for development of the hydro phase of the project alone but, while the Canadian government has indicated its agreement, the U.S. government has said both the hydro and seaway projects must come together. However, the larger scheme never has succeeded in winning approval in the U.S. Senate.

Mr. Chevrier made his statement in an address prepared for delivery in Cornwall on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the union of the Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

He also officiated at the unveiling of a memorial plaque which commemorates the centenary of the United Counties.

Bespeaking the "impatience" of the Canadian people with American inaction, he said he was making his observations "at a time when, for military, economic and strategic reasons, we should press for action."

On the question of Canadian development of the seaway alone, Mr. Chevrier noted that 14-foot draft canals already exist on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence and that they could be deepened to 27 feet.

Engineers have "clearly demonstrated" that this was feasible "and we would have a perfect right to proceed with such a development."

He said there was "every reason" for proceeding with the project "now."

"From the military, economic and strategic viewpoints, the combined development of navigation and power on the St. Lawrence should be carried out at once and should no longer be delayed."

It was "inconceivable" that lake carriers should continue to be "bottled up" in the Great Lakes that vital iron ore should be blocked from moving westward and that power urgently needed for military and industrial purposes, both by Ontario and New York State, should "go to waste."

"Something must be done about this soon," said Mr. Chevrier, "and many of our citizens both here and elsewhere are getting very impatient." The people of Canada "want this development."

The U.S. government had declared itself in favor of it "on many occasions."

"But," added Mr. Chevrier, "we cannot sit idly by and wait forever."

"If the Congress of the United States does not want to take action, we should know... If there are interests in the United States that are going to stand in the way of the development forever, Canadians ought to be told."

Industry in Ontario was absorbing approximately 100,000 additional horsepower a year and lack of further power supply would retard industrial development in that province.

History of Project

Mr. Chevrier reviewed the history of the project and noted that the Long Sault Rapids on the St. Lawrence have a potential 2,200,000 horsepower awaiting harness. The Canadian people had waited for the development "for a long time." It had been talked about even when he was a boy in Cornwall, his hometown.

Many difficulties stood in the way.

One of them was that the international boundary line separating Canada and the United States runs up the middle of the river. That was why negotiations extending over many years had been carried on between the two countries.

Those negotiations extended back to 1895. They culminated in three agreements—first, the Niagara Convention signed in 1929 but never ratified; second, the St. Lawrence Deep Waterway Treaty of 1932, also signed but not ratified by the U.S. Senate, and third, the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Basin Agreement, signed in 1941 and "bogged down" in the American Congress ever since.

Mr. Chevrier recalled that responsible government came under the Baldwin-Lafontaine administration "and that municipal government, as we know it, came under that administration also with the passing of the Municipal Corporation Act in 1849."

The minister said that "nowhere and in no way are the principles of democracy better exemplified than in local government."

Luxury Taxes On Wide Range Of Goods

The Korean war dug into the pockets of Canadians last week as Finance Minister Abbott introduced a twilight budget moving Canada a big step along the road back toward higher wartime taxes.

He didn't boost personal income taxes but jumped corporation income taxes and boosted excise taxes on a wide range of goods including automobiles. He indicated pretty definitely the government would hold boosts in personal income taxes up its sleeve for a new higher budget early next year. He budgeted for an estimated surplus of $15 millions.

Here are the highlights of the tax changes, all of which were effective at midnight Thursday, except in the case of corporation taxes, which are retroactive to September 1st:

1—Corporation income tax rate to be boosted by five per cent giving rate of 15 per cent of first $10,000 and 38 per cent on amount over $10,000.

2—No changes in personal income taxes.

3—Increased liquor and beer taxes. Tax on spirits increased from $11 proof per gallon to $12 proof per gallon. Tax on malt used in beer increased from 16 cents to 21 cents per pound.

4—New 30 per cent tax on soft drinks, candy and chewing gum and 50 cents per pound on carbonic acid gas used in fountain drinks. This will mean an additional one cent on the present consumer price of five cents for soft drinks and nickel candy bars.

5—Excise taxes of 10 per cent boosted to 15 per cent on automobiles, tires and tubes, cameras and photographic equipment, fountain pens and pencils, furs, jewelry, watches, clocks and ornaments, cigarette lighters, matches, radios and phonographs, slot machines, smokers' accessories, toilet articles and trunks, purses and luggage.

6—These new items subject to 15 per cent excise tax: electrical household goods (not including stoves, washing machines, or refrigerators) but including blankets, chafing dishes, coffee makers, curling irons or tongs, dishwashers, food and drink mixers, food choppers and grinders, floor waxers and polishers, garbage disposal units, hair driers, irons and ironers, juice extractors, kettles, portable humidifiers, razors and shavers, toasters of all kinds, vacuum cleaners and attachments and waffle irons, firearms and ammunition, motor cycles, bicycle motors, golf clubs and balls and fishing rods and reels.

The excise taxes are to be applied at the manufacturers level.

7—No excise profit tax, no change in general sales tax.

For $59 Million

All these tax changes are aimed at raising an additional $59 millions during the rest of the current fiscal year and will produce about $190 millions in a full year.

The government did pretty well as expected in using so-called "luxury" taxes as the chief field in which to raise additional revenue.

Mr. Abbott told Parliament that higher corporation taxes would account for around $13,500,000 during the remainder of the present fiscal year, all the rest coming from boosted excise taxes.

On Beer and Liquor

The boosts in taxes of beers and liquors would produce another $10 millions during the remainder of this fiscal year. The whole of the remaining excise tax field would produce another $17 millions this year and $34 millions in a full year. The additional tax on soft drinks and candy bars will bring in another $18 millions during the remainder of the present fiscal year, $48 millions in a full year.

He said he realized that the soft drinks and candy bars taxes would be unpopular "in many quarters." But he was satisfied it was "fair and just" to ask for the tax at this time.

There would be no changes in existing tobacco taxes, he said, which are already "very high". The U.S. tobacco tax, in addition, was much lower.

PERIOD FOR PRECAUTION

Every fall the insidious terror of poliomyelitis, the dreaded infantile paralysis, stalks the land. The mother of every Canadian child lives in dread of this crippling disease. While science has not yet solved the polio problem it has made many advances. The important thing for mothers to remember is to secure medical advice immediately any suspicious symptoms become evident—particularly if other cases of polio have been reported in the neighborhood.

Two Centuries Of Tartans In America

The earliest expert order for tartan to North America that has been found in Scotland is one of the 200 objects on view in an exhibition, entitled "Two Centuries of Tartan", being held during the Festival period. Dated 1797, it is a request from Thomas Heriot, an Edinburgh tailor, to William Wilson and Son, a Bannockburn firm who were the principal manufacturers of tartan in Scotland from the close of the eighteenth century to the close of the nineteenth. The request is for two pieces of tartan "the same as I got in July last to send to America".

The letter forms part of a collection of more than 30,000 exhibits belonging to Mr. J. Telfer Dunbar, from which the complete exhibition display has been drawn.

Prints illustrating the revival of a vogue for tartan when George IV visited the Capital in 1822, show one flamboyant style favoured by Sir William Curtis, Lord Mayor of London, with tartan pantaloons and a sporran.

The exhibition is arranged to show the contrast in style of Highland dress and tartans worn before Culloden and after 1782 when the proscription of Highland dress was repealed.

To Improve Canal Stretch At Once

MONTREAL, Sept. 18. — Quebec Highways Department employees said today that heavy rains late last week delayed improvements on the dangerous Soulanges Canal section of the Toronto-Montreal highway.

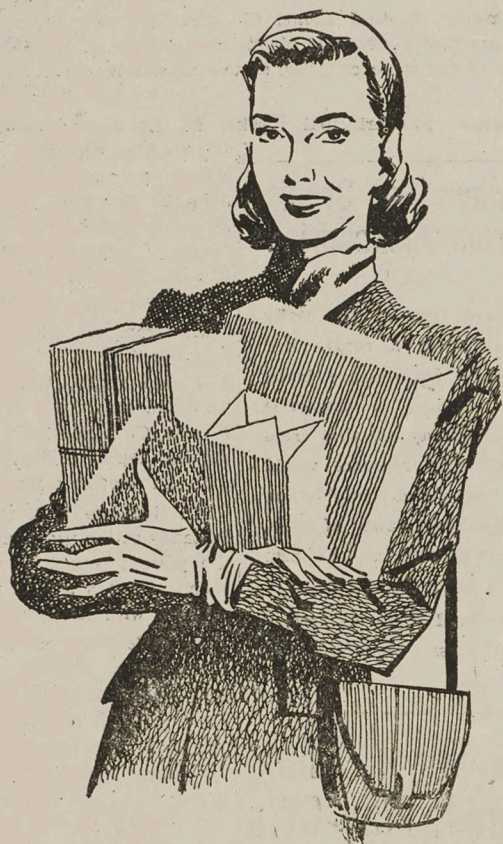

Laying of a new surface of asphalt mixed with gravel is expected to start Wednesday. The asphalt plant is between the section.

Plans are understood to include filling of a deep ditch alongside the canal as an extension to the present two-foot shoulder and installation of rail guards for the full 13-mile stretch of the section.

Lives have been lost along that particular section when cars went off the road into the canal.

Hello, Homemakers! Assuming we live to seventy, we spend at least four years eating! During that time we represent or leave a lot of good food that has been purchased, stored and cooked well for us. Why? Actually we come into this world liking nothing and disliking nothing, yet the individual develops instinctive likes or dislikes. Attitudes are developed because of the arrangement of environment.

Recently we listened to Dr. Blotz, a professor of psychology, who discussed reasons for training the child to become an idealist. He emphasized that we should only train the child to think about food. We were reminded that the relevant pleasures of eating (which are salt, sweet, sour and bitter) are monotonous, whereas the senses of vision, warm or cold touch, and hearing satisfy the child more so than taste. The psychologist pointed out that we are all unsophisticated gourmets — we think a child likes candy because it is sweet, but no, the candy looks pretty compared to the food served at the family table. As homemakers, we should review our meal pattern at this season. It is now the beginning of the school term when children will be selecting lunches or carrying the noon-day meal. If children can be adventurous in food then they will like the food prepared for them.

A home economist is trained to prepare the right food in the best way as a guide to food for fitness. The homemaker has an even better opportunity to provide food that is not only healthful but enjoyable.

We need three meals a day planned from only five classes of food. A serving from each group is like a strong link in a necessary chain. The first "link" is milk — 1 pint. The second is fruits — one serving of citrus fruit or tomatoes or their juices; and one serving of other fruit. The third is vegetables — at least one serving of potatoes; at least two servings of other vegetables, preferably leafy, green or yellow and frequently raw. The fourth is cereals — one serving of whole grain cereal and at least four slices of bread with butter or fortified margarine. The fifth is meat, fish and eggs — one serving of meat, fish, poultry or meat alternates such as eggs and cheese. In addition, iodized salt and Vitamin D is recommended.

TAKE A TIP

Meal Planning:

1. Avoid monotony. Don't serve the same food twice in different forms in a meal.
2. Avoid all bland or all savory dishes in a meal. Crunchy salads or crusty desserts should accompany macaroni and cheese, etc.
3. Avoid colourless plates. Lettuce and tomatoes do wonders for the main course as do orange sections or cherries for the "white" dessert.

CANADA'S HEALTH

HEALTH AT HOME

Pasteurization of milk can be easily and effectively carried out at home or at camp. The milk need merely be heated to a temperature of 175 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit, cooled quickly and placed in a cold place until used. A floating dairy thermometer for use in this work can be purchased for a few cents at most drug stores. Don't take the needless risk of drinking raw milk.

SCIENCE ON THE MARCH

The steady advance of science has pushed tuberculosis from its former place as the leading cause of death in Canada. Tuberculosis can be cured. Protect yourself from this disease by having periodic chest x-rays. These examinations discover tuberculosis before symptoms become apparent, making cures easier, quicker and cheaper.

DANGER NUMBER ONE

Diseases of the arteries and heart have in recent years become the leading cause of death in Canada. Medical research is constantly investigating new methods of control of these diseases but at the present time the cardiac sufferer's chief hope lies in careful co-operation with his doctor. Many persons with "heart conditions" live happily for many years because they observe the precautions specified by their physician.

A HAPPY TIME

Old age can be a healthy, happy time of life provided it has been properly prepared for and approached with a healthy mental outlook. When retirement age draws near special activities should be developed to give meaning and interest to the days of relaxation. It is of highest importance that men and women should begin to plan for their declining years well in advance.

NOT FOR WOMEN ONLY

Many men have the mistaken impression that cancer is a disease of women, but statistics show that many cancers, particularly of the face, stomach, mouth and lip and prostate are more frequently found in men than in women. Many forms of cancer are curable, particularly if they are discovered early. Don't hesitate to see your doctor immediately if you suspect you may have cancer.

More Families Now Receive Baby Bonus

Nearly 615,000 more Canadian families receive family allowances now than when they were initiated in 1945, the annual report on the family allowance division of the Health Department reported recently.

In all, said the report tabled in the Commons, 1,852,000 families now receive the allowances on behalf of 4,202,000 children. Total annual payments were nearly $300,000,000.

Further, less than one per cent of all allowance accounts involved overpayments. In the last fiscal year the problem of over payment arose in 13,700 accounts for various reasons, but most of the money was recoverable.

The report said the increase in recipients stem from the absorption of Newfoundland, the high post-war birth-rate, immigration and reduction in the waiting period for new Canadians from three years to one before their children become eligible for allowances.

Year in year out quality has always been and will always be the first consideration with the new south end sewer, and Mayor Graham reported progress on the sewerage disposal unit was still awaiting agreement on plans between the Health Department and the engineer.

Council decided that in future no connections are to be made to any town sewer, except under the supervision of road foreman Dan Lajole. The connections will then be recorded on the town's master plan.

Reeve McDonald suggested council should study the possibility of the town instituting a reforestation program in conjunction with its new source of water supply. He was instructed to invite the reforestation committee of Counties' Council to come to Alexandria and meet with Town Council on the matter.

Reeve McDonald was also asked to make a study of suggestions on Civil Defence received from Ottawa and report back to Council. It was pointed out that Alexandria is half way between Montreal and Ottawa, which have been designated as among six primary targets in Canada of any atom bomb attack on the country.

George Lefebvre, Lochiel street grocer, appeared before Council to protest that the new sewer level was too high to provide drainage for his cellar. The engineer is to be asked to study the situation and find a possible remedy.

Correspondence included notification from the Kinsmen Club that they would take over the upkeep and development of Island No. 2 in the lake; a letter from the C.N.R. covering protested early-morning blocking of Highway 34 by freight trains, and a notice from the Liquor Control Board of the extension of sales hours in beverage rooms of the three local hotels.

Centenary Of...

Counties must go on; they cannot turn back," he said.

Other speakers were Mr. Major, who introduced Mr. Chevrier; F. B. Brownridge, who brought greetings from the mayor of Cornwall; H. E. Durant, who acted as toastmaster during the evening and reviewed the career of the Warden in introducing him; J. G. Cameron, who introduced the guests at the head table.

T. Scott Fraser, reeve of Lancaster Township and the council's genial wit, thanked the speakers of the evening and the entertainers who had helped to make the evening a success. The latter were Miss Connie Kippen, Maxville's young lady piper, who piped the guests into the banquet hall and played several selections during the evening; and Howard Morris of Alexandria, who sang several solos, accompanied by Mrs. J. J. MacDonald of Cornwall, and led in sing-song.

F. H. Broder, reeve of Morrisburg, was called upon to say grace. Frank Darling, reeve of Williamsburg Township, proposed the toast to the ladies, and Mrs. James McArthur of Lancaster, responded. Before the banquet began, the toastmaster called for a one-minute silence in tribute to the late P. S. Boyd, former clerk-treasurer.

Guests seated at the head table, besides the speakers, were: James McArthur, reeve of Lancaster; Mrs. T. S. Fraser, Mrs. Frank Darling, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, L. C. Kennedy, Counties Clerk-Treasurer, and Mrs. H. E. Durant.

Reports To You

Dear Friends:

The Kinsmen Club year ended August 31st, and during the past year the members of the Alexandria Club have been privileged to do a wide variety of Community Service work, while also aiding in a financial way many worthwhile endeavors.

We realize that it was primarily the splendid co-operation of you, the residents of Alexandria and district, which made our work possible. Without your wholehearted support of our many fund-raising projects, our efforts would have been of but a very limited nature. We are very grateful for the confidence and goodwill which you have shown, and we wish at this time to express our appreciation to each and every one of our supporters.

The Kinsmen Club of Alexandria has even bigger and more ambitious plans for the future in the field of community service, and we earnestly request your continued support of our money-raising ventures.

Very sincerely yours,

LLOYD McHUGH, President,

The Kinsmen Club of Alexandria.

SOMETHING FOR SUPPER

By CONSUMER SECTION
Marketing Service
Dominion Dept. of Agriculture

With the first cool breeze of autumn the family demands something more substantial than the crisp salads they enjoyed in hot weather. Once again the homemaker is faced with the problem of what to have for supper.

Cereals such as macaroni, spaghetti, rice and bread blend with eggs, vegetables, milk and cheese to make a great variety of appetizing things for supper. The addition of cheese and eggs make such dishes quite substantial enough for any meal, but particularly for supper.

Cheese is another form of milk. Four ounces of cheese equals about 1 quart of milk in total caloric value, so both children and adults will be sure to get a good share of this daily quota when cheese is used with milk, eggs and cereal to make the supper dish.

In Canada we are accustomed to coloured cheese and many people are under the impression that the white Canadian Cheddar cheese is something quite different from the coloured. It is exactly the same except that the yellow cheese has a little harmless colouring added to it in the cheese vat. The white cheese is the kind they prefer in Britain, where so much Canadian cheese is sold. The white cheese is sold as "medium" or "old" according to the length of time it has been cured and either white or coloured will give that delicious cheesy flavour to many dishes. Apple pie made from fresh fall apples and served with a generous slice of cheese will always be first choice with the men of the family.

Here are several recipes for supper dishes for September evenings which will be appreciated in later months also. They come from the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture. All are easy to prepare and very good:

They discovered Aluminum!

AN "INSIDE STORY"

1900—It wasn't only Grandma's cooking that drew the crowds. She had the first aluminum saucepan in town! In many other Canadian homes, too, this was the beginning of a bright, new era of better cooking utensils.

1925—When mother got married, she already knew how to enjoy life with aluminum. She brewed Dad's coffee in an aluminum pot... cooked those big family meals more easily in quick, even-heating aluminum.

1950—Today, daughter's kitchen belongs to the "aluminum age". She enjoys a larger selection of aluminum utensils. This "food-friendly" metal also protects the flavour, quality and purity of the foods she buys.

HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE
Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of cleanliness and purity. Aluminum utensils clean easily. To remove natural deposit left by foods and water, use a tablespoon of vinegar in boiling water.

SEEDING PASTURE MIXTURES

One of a series of articles written for The Glengarry News
By D. L. PARKS
Field Husbandman, Kemptville Agricultural School

Seldom is the competition from the nurse crop taken into consideration when seeding down to grasses and clovers. But this factor can have a very marked effect on the establishment of a new seeding. There are some who claim that this term, nurse crop, is misleading, and that it should be referred to as a companion crop. The word nurse implies actions which are gentle, helpful and unselfish; whereas a companion can be good, bad or indifferent.

A heavy crop of grain, especially if it lodges, is not very conducive to a thick, vigorous catch of seeding. In the first place, it offers excessive competition for the available moisture and plant food in the soil. And secondly, the young grass and clover seedlings suffer from a lack of sufficient sunlight. To appreciate this fact, one has only to witness the pale, spindly, sickly looking seedlings that are present at harvest time. However, they soon become healthier after they overcome the shock of exposure to direct sunlight, since they have lived their entire life in the shade, up to harvest time.

Nurse crops differ in the amount of competition they provide for new seedlings. The best nurse crops are those which do not grow too thickly and which are harvested early. Flax and winter wheat are both good nurse crops. These are followed closely by barley and peas with oats being the most competitive.

The rate of seeding is possibly more important than the kind of nurse crop. It is generally recommended that where a good, thick catch of seeding is desired as for a long term pasture that the usual rate of seeding be reduced by one half or in some cases no nurse crop be used.

It should be noted that not all of the effects of a nurse crop on a new seeding are harmful. In fact, it does afford some protection to the new seedlings when they are small by keeping the soil cooler and moister. Weeds are also kept in check by a nurse crop.

Some of the best "catches" of new seeding are obtained by using a nurse crop, but rather than leaving it till ripe to harvest as grain, it is pastured off carefully. It is surprising how much pasture can be obtained from the nurse crop, and also the beneficial effect that the light pasturing has on the new seeding. This system of management is becoming increasingly popular when establishing permanent or long term pastures which are costly to seed and which are to be down for a number of years. However, our regular seedings of general purpose Hay-Pasture mixtures if sown with grain at the usual rate of seeding should become well established if all of the other factors are favourable.

Methods of Seeding

There is no single method of seeding that can be guaranteed to give a good "catch" under all conditions. When the land was newer and the seed was cheaper, satisfactory stands were usually obtained by broadcasting the seed on top of the ground and covering it by harrowing. Under present conditions it is necessary to give more thought and attention to the sowing of small seeds.

To insure a thick sod, the ideal placement of small seeds would be in narrow rows or in a solid pattern about half an inch below the surface of fine, firm, moist soil. This is practically impossible with the conventional type of grass seed attachment on seed drills. The nearest approach to this placement is with a seed box mounted on a cultipacker with the seeds being distributed evenly between the two rows of packer rollers.

If a good seed bed has been prepared, little difficulty is experienced in getting a good catch of the ordinary seeds such as alfalfa, red clover, and timothy by broadcasting these on top of the ground, covering lightly with the ring chains and then rolling. It is with the larger, coarser and lighter grass seeds such as brome and orchard grass that difficulty is encountered when sowing. About the only way that a "catch" of brome can be obtained is by mixing it with the oats and seeding them as shallow as possible.

The following method of seeding pasture mixtures has given excellent results on the school farm: The nurse crop and fertilizer are sown first on a fine, firm, well prepared seed bed. The field is then rolled. The pasture mixture is placed in the grain seed box of the drill with the wheat runs open. A three-quarter inch chain is attached to each rear corner of the frame of the seed drill. This is to give the seed a light covering of soil. It should be noted that this is much more effective in a sandy loam soil than a heavier soil which may be lumpier (a heavier chain will be needed in this case). If the day is not too windy the spouts or hose are removed from the drill so that the seed will be distributed more evenly and consequently will not all come up in rows seven inches apart. After seeding, the field is NOT harrowed before rolling. Some have used a rail instead of the chain to cover the seed with good results.

Good Seed

As with other crops, the quality of the seed determines to a considerable extent the nature of the stand. Good quality in small seeds is denoted mainly by high germinating power and freedom from noxious weed seeds. No. 1 seed must germinate at least 85% and contain no primary noxious weed seeds, whereas No. 3 seed may germinate as low as 65% and contain several noxious weed seeds per ounce. The difference in price between these grades is usually only a few cents per pound, for this reason it is very poor economy to buy anything less than No. 1 grade if it is available.

Disease and Insects

The diseases and insects affecting new seedling are receiving more attention these days from Agricultural Scientists. It may not be very long before it will be recommended to treat small seeds with fungicides the same as grain in order to protect them from seed and soil borne disease organisms.

If the farmer adopted a 40-hour week and, particularly if he applied it to his wife, the cost of goods would soar greatly, he told the Commons in debate on a bill to give the government power to control certain prices in emergency.

He didn't threaten an agricultural 40-hour week, but said he wanted the consumer, the city worker, to appreciate the situation in a field where a 14-hour day was no rarity.

Price Rise If Farmers Go On 40 Hour Week

A farmer told consumers last week in the House of Commons, prices for milk and other commodities would be higher still if the farmer figured out his costs on the same basis as industry. Speaker was Arnold Darroch, Liberal M.P. for Wellington North.

Milk, for instance, cost 20 cents a quart. Its production costs would be considerably higher than that if the farmer took into consideration all the things industry took into consideration in setting its prices.

The trouble was that for years the consumer had grown used to cheap goods, while the farmer sold those goods at less than their real costs in materials and true wages.

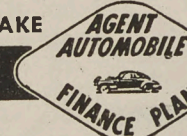

The forgotten figure in all this, he said, is the farm wife. She worked long hours, often did the chores so the husband could work at farm production. None of her labor was passed on to the consumer in higher costs.

Mr. Darroch said he favored the bill, but he wanted to interject that if there was to be any revival of the embargo that prevented post-war beef from coming into the United States that step could not be justified unless the government was prepared to grant subsidies.
