

Ian Maclaren Plays Hero To Avert Drowning

PUC Hears Some Water Progress

Mayor George Simon reported to the PUC last night on last week's trip to Toronto. Some progress has been made, he declared, but there is another hold-up concerning the town engineers.

The Health Department's Dr. Berry has approved the plans, but Lands & Forests authorities require specifications and more details on the proposed dam at Loch Garry. They are writing the engineers and will endeavor to get quick action by the engineers in furnishing needed data.

Next steps after departmental approvals have been obtained will be a decision on where the ditch is to go and the acquiring of any needed land for the ditching.

Mayor Simon was accompanied to Toronto by Jean Trotter, another member of the Commission.

Tickets are now on sale at $1.00 each, on a $100 bond to be raffled on November 11th. These can be obtained from any of the members.

A good attendance was recorded at the meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Eva Gareau, local president.

Mr. MacLeod is a native of Dalkeith.

Problems And Pleasure Key-Noted At Annual Convention Of Weeklies

Business and pleasure were admirably mixed in the Valley of the Bow, last week, as 400 weekly newspapermen from every section of Canada met at the luxurious Banff Springs Hotel, in the Rockies, in annual convention.

Gathered in the shadow of towering mountain tops, they considered such problems as decreased national advertising, ever-rising costs of paper and production. They debated ways and means of better informing the public on the power and importance of the weekly press, and in forums and busz sessions they sought methods of improving their individual papers.

Pleasure, Too
But the business sessions left room for varied and enjoyable entertainment, too. The ladies had their sightseeing tour to Lake Louise on opening day; there was a luncheon Tuesday, high up on Mount Norquay, where the chair-lift carried most of the conventioners to the 7,000-foot level of that ski slope for a breathtaking view. There was a barbecue supper on the Indian grounds, complete with Alexandria's first drowning fatality of the year was averted Tuesday night by the quick actions of Ian Maclaren, 16, when he jumped fully clothed into the Alexandria lake, just above the dam, to bring an eight-year-old to safety. Lucien Lacombe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lacombe, Mill Square, was going down for the third time when Ian reached him and brought him to shore.

The youngster, with two older brothers, all of them non-swimmers, was fishing off the south wall of the breakwater behind the dam when he fell in about 6 p.m. His struggles, and the yells of his brothers "he's drowning", brought instant reflex from Ian, who was helping his father and brother change a TV aerial on their nearby home, "Garry Fen".

The youth raced across the dam, flung off his shoes and jumped to reach the lad who was again going down at a point about ten feet from shore. Grabbing young Lucien under the armpits, Ian brought him to shore and had the help of the Lacombe brothers in lifting him over the cement breakwater.

The water is normally about 14 feet deep at this point, but is down some two feet because of the dry weather.

The boys have been warned away from this deepwater spot all summer, but it has been their daily playground, according to residents of the area. Yesterday they were not back. Perhaps they have learned a lesson.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex G. Maclaren, Ian learned his swimming at the local beach though he never completed the water-safety course. In the pinch, the right thing to do came instinctively. His only regret is that he ruined a perfectly good watch.

Starts Teaching Career At Casselman

Miss Claire Marcoux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Marcoux, has quit her position in the Civil Service at Ottawa to accept a position on the teaching staff of the High School at Casselman. An Arts graduate at Queen's in '56, Miss Marcoux left Monday for her new post. She will teach chemistry.

Maxville Minister Returns To West

The Presbytery of Glengarry held its regular meetings in St. John's Church, Cornwall, with Rev. Dr. W. Lloyd MacLellan presiding over an excellent attendance, which included several newly-appointed representative elders.

The Moderator's term of office having expired, Rev. John W. Bell, Finch, was appointed Moderator for the ensuing year, and Dr. MacLellan was cordially thanked for his services in the chair during the past 12 months.

The clerk, Rev. Robertson Millar of Martintown, submitted a call from the congregation of Willowdale, in the Presbytery of Red Deer, Alberta, addressed to Rev. J. C. McLean-Bell, minister of Maxville and St. Elmo.

Representatives of these congregations spoke in appreciative terms of Dr. McLean-Bell's ministry among them during the past five and a half years and the reluctance with which they acquiesced in his desire to return to the West.

The call, having been sustained and placed in his hands, Dr. McLean-Bell indicated his acceptance of it and his desire to be relieved from the charge by the end of September. Rev. Robertson Millar, Martintown, was appointed Interim Moderator of Maxville and St. Elmo.

The Presbytery appointed its next regular meeting to be held in Cornwall on the last Tuesday of November.

Once In A Million He Got A 29

Lightning struck at the Legion clubrooms, Saturday afternoon, when Alden McMillan scored a perfect 29, the once-in-a-million hand so sought by cribbage players.

Capping the achievement was the fact Alden cut the cards himself to ferret out the much-wanted diamond 5.

Alden was partnering Randal McDonald against Jean-Marie Levac and Dan Proulx, when the dream hand was dealt him by Dan. He picked up the Jack of diamonds and the three other fives.

As he cut the cards, Alden suggested casually, "Couldn't be the five of diamonds, could it?" It was.

Others witnessing the big hand were Charlie Dear, Leo Guindon and Alphonse Sabourin.

Fern Guindon New Member As By-Election Returns Tory

MPP GLENGARRY
FERNAND GUINDON, Apple Hill, who won a resounding victory for the Progressive Conservative forces in the September 5th by-election in Glengarry.

Fernand Guindon, 40-year-old fuel dealer of Cornwall and Apple Hill, is Glengarry's new representative at Queen's Park. In the September 5th by-election Mr. Guindon rolled up an impressive majority of 2,085 for the Progressive Conservative forces over the Liberal candidate, Charlottenburgh's reeve, John McLennan of Martintown.

The Guindon majority was only 37 votes below that racked up by Osie Villeneuve in the 1955 provincial election, and it was built up in comparatively light voting. Some 60 percent of the estimated 13,000 qualified voters went to the polls. The total vote was 7,927 as against 9,142 cast in 1955.

There were 5,006 votes cast for Mr. Guindon, while Liberal ballots totalled 2,921.

The Tory vote was tops in every section of the riding as Mr. Guindon gained entry into Queen's Park. Even in John McLennan's home township of Charlottenburgh there was a 405 plurality for Guindon, some observers ascribing this to unpopularity of building restrictions put on the statutes by Mr. McLennan's administration. Alexandria showed a preference of 476 for the Conservative candidate and the closest contests were in West Hawkesbury and Lancaster Village, where the Guindon majorities were 14 and 15, respectively. There were scattered polls pulling for McLennan, but every town and township total showed a Conservative leaning.

Following on the June victory of Osie Villeneuve in the federal voting the by-election result provided the Tories with the second occasion in Glengarry's history when their party men held both the Ottawa and Toronto seats. Almost 80 years ago, in 1878, another John McLennan (By-the-Lake), this one Conservative, won the federal election one year before Sir Donald McMaster was elected Tory representative at Queen's Park.

Several Hundred Awaited Results

Several hundred electors gathered in front of the Masonic Rooms, here, election night, to receive the results being tabulated there by Returning Officer Alex A. Fraser. A loud-speaking system had been set up and a large blackboard was brought into play to replace the election boards usually erected in front of the News' Office building.

First returns were received shortly after the polls closed at 8 p.m. and the trend of the Conservative cause never lagged. By 9 o'clock the result was obvious and an hour later almost every poll had reported, with the Guindon majority nearing the 2,000 mark.

Both candidates spoke briefly, Mr. Guindon expressing his appreciation and thanks and pledging to serve all the residents of the riding at Toronto to the best of his ability. "I will co-operate with Mr. Guindon in working for the best interests of Glengarry", Mr. McLennan declared, after congratulating the winner and expressing thanks to those who had supported him.

Enters Novitiate On Long Island

Miss Barbara Anne MacDonald, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edward MacDonald (Barbara McPhee) of Floral Park, L.I., left on Sunday, September 8th, to join the Novitiate of the Sisters of St. Joseph at Brentwood, Long Island. Barbara was graduated from Sacred Heart Academy, Hempstead, in June, with honors, winning an award for French.

Several parties were held in Barbara's honor prior to her leaving, as she has been active in Catholic Youth Organization and popular with the younger group.

Barbara carries with her the good wishes of many relatives and friends in Alexandria, where her first year at school was spent at St. Margaret's, when with her family she resided for a short time on Centre street. She is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. MacDonald and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie McPhee.

Ron Squires Feted By Friends

Ronald Squires was the guest of honor of Munroe's Mills Farm Forum, September 3rd, at the home of John George McDonald. Ronald has enrolled at Royal Military College, Kingston, where he will take a four-year course in electrical engineering, after which he will, if successful, serve for three years as a Lieutenant in the regular army.

After an enjoyable evening of cards, followed by a lunch prepared by the ladies of the Forum, Ronald was presented with a pen and pencil set by Miss Isobel McDonald on behalf of the Forum. Ronald, originally of Montreal, received his education at Munroe's Mills Public School. His many friends wish him every success in his new endeavor.

Another Bridge

John Chisholm, local bridge contractor, has been awarded another contract, his third in the last two months, by the Department of Highways. The latest is for construction of a bridge over the Montreal River in the Sault Ste. Marie area on Trans-Canada Highway 17.

The price is $92,095.

Vandals Put News' Staff To Work

Vandals visited the office at Williamstown Fairgrounds one night last weekend and did a complete job of messing up the interior. Prize badges, judges' books, ribbons, stationery and all the other printing forms readied for this week's Fair by Secretary Muriel McLennan had been strewn about the office, torn up and needed replacing.

That called for a day's rush of work in our print shop as the staff returned from holidays on Monday. Other work had to wait as we concentrated on supplies for the Fair.

It added up to a nice extra bit of printing. And the editor has an alibi. He can't be indicted for vandalism. He was on the train home when it happened.

Fine Weather Wednesday Brought Some 4,000 People Out To Fair

One of the largest attendances on record, an estimated 4,000, thronged Williamstown Fairgrounds, yesterday, on a warm, clear September day, to ensure the success of this oldest Fair in Ontario. St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society was marking its 144th anniversary.

The cattle shows were tops, particularly the Holstein class, which boasted 142 fine Black & Whites. Edwin St. John, Lancaster, was premier exhibitor. Thomas Aitken, Martintown, showed the Grand Champion bull and Allan MacLeod, Dalkeith, the top cow.

There were 52 Ayrshires shown with Carlyle Watt, Lancaster, winning premier exhibitor honors. Neil Sangster, Glen Gordon, showed the Grand Champion bull and, John McLennan, Martintown, the Grand Champion female.

More than 100 Calf Club members from across the county were in competition. George Sangster of Bainsville, won the Alexandria Lions Club Shield as champion showman.

The cheese show was particularly good, as was the hay show. Some fine horses were put through their paces, and the showhall classes in flowers and homemaking were well filled.

The midway moved in Monday night, but mysteriously moved out Tuesday morning to leave a gap in the entertainment picture. Some games and booths were filled, however.

The Fair activities closed last night with the traditional dance in the show hall.

TOP BRASS OF CWNA — CECIL DAY, centre, new president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, confers at the Banff Springs Hotel with WILLIAM TELFER, left, managing director of the CWNA, and WILLIAM DRAAYER, immediate past president. The trio isn't discussing annual meeting business; they are examining a copy of "Just My Views", a book written by Mrs. Day about last year's CWNA visit to Europe.

EDITORIALS

IT'S OUR OPINION

Ontario Liberals Need A New Moses

Traditionally Liberal Glengarry is without that party representation in either the federal House or the provincial Legislature as of the September 5th by-election when the Frost forces consolidated their recent hold on this riding with the election of Fern Guindon. His victory was clear-cut and decisive and it can come as no comfort to those dyed-in-the-wool Liberals who can see no good in anything or anyone carrying the Tory party label.

The result is but another evidence that the Liberal party is in a bad way.

Provincially, it has lacked dynamic leadership since the days of Mitch Hepburn. Mr. Diefenbacher, now our Right Honourable Prime Minister, in June gave an indication of just how important spirited leadership can be in this game of politics.

On the national scene, the Liberal party apparently is even weaker; leaderless with the exit of Mr. St. Laurent, and its House representation almost exclusively centred from only one of our ten provinces.

A big job of rebuilding, from the top down, and from the bottom up, faces the Liberal party. In Ontario, it has been long overdue if this province is ever again to know two-party government. The starting point must be in searching out a new leader, capable of inspiring the party stalwarts at the riding level, and the ordinary voter.

Liberal candidates in Glengarry and other Ontario ridings have faced this same hurdle which Mr. McLennan failed to clear in this by-election. The Liberal star is not yet in the ascendant over Ontario.

That is not to say that Fern Guindon is not deserving of credit for his victory. The electorate will wish him well in this first plunge into the body politic, and will have confidence that he will serve us to the best of his ability.

Banff Is Beautiful

One has to see Banff to realize the richness of its setting, the majesty of its mountain backdrops on every side. This writer has not the flow of words to picture grim, green mountain slopes shot with sunlight reflected from flaming frost-bit aspen. The view of varicolored rooftops in the trim little village nestling in the valley, as seen from a mountainside lookout point, beggars description.

Suffice it to say Banff is beautiful and the Banff Springs Hotel provided a rich setting for last week's convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. For many of the 400 in attendance, it was their introduction to the Rockies, and they now know at first hand another part of Canada that must be seen to be appreciated.

Last year, we saw the scenic beauty of the lower St. Lawrence and Murray Bay; this year it was the Rockies. Canada's two big railways co-operate with CWNA in providing this broader view of our country for hundreds of convention-going weekly editors. And they return home enriched each year by a more intimate knowledge of what Canada has to offer in natural resources, in bustling towns and booming cities, such as the Calgary we saw briefly, and in scenic grandeur enriched, as in the case of Banff, by the artistic planning of man in consort with nature.

We are happy to have been able to take in the 1957 convention at Banff. And we heartily recommend this beautiful bit of Canada to those who have not yet holidayed there.

Everywhere One Goes One Meets Glengarrians

The population of Banff is some 2,500, yet it boasts at least two Glengarrians we were happy to meet while attending the CWNA convention.

Mrs. Walter H. Peyto has lived there for years, and we made it a point to look up one who has been on our subscription lists for several decades. She is the former Rosabelle Hay of Fassifern, and we found her and her husband living out their lives in a lovely setting. It was a nice touch to find Mrs. Peyto reading our newly-arrived paper when we knocked on her door.

A younger daughter of Glengarry we also dropped in on was Miss Rhona St. John, daughter of Mrs. Arthur St. John of Alexandria. Rhona is in charge of medical records at the Banff Springs Hospital, now being greatly enlarged. We found her at her desk, looking pert and trim in her nursing white, and we had an enjoyable chat during which we learned she will be coming home on holidays soon.

Another Glengarrian we count on seeing at these conventions is Mrs. Walter Telfer, wife of the publisher of the Humboldt (Sask.) Journal. The former Helen Tobin of Lancaster was there with her editor husband and elder son, Donald Lloyd, and as usual they put themselves out to see a fellow Glengarrian was enjoying himself.

We didn't see Sandy McRae of Edmonton, because we didn't hit that oil-mad city on our trip. But we were talking to him one night when this son of St. Raphaels was thoughtful enough to phone us over those hundreds of miles of telephone cable. He had just received his copy of The News and was anxious to know how we were surviving in that thin mountain air, 4,000 feet above sea level. We were able to reassure him that we were still breathing, and we bring back word to his family and friends that he is well and thriving.

One finds Glengarrians wherever one goes. Like on the train carrying us home across the prairies to Winnipeg. One of our fellow editors brought the news that there was a Macdonald girl with Glengarry connections in her coach. And we spent a pleasant hour making the acquaintance of Lois Macdonald, a fellow member of Clanranald, who was travelling back from Vancouver to her native Winnipeg.

This attractive young member of the nursing profession, we found out, is a daughter of the late Rod (Rory) Macdonald, who left St. Raphaels to carve out a good life in Winnipeg. She is a stewardess, flying out to all corners of the globe with Canadian Pacific Airlines, and she had enjoyed her first visit to Glengarry just last year.

Wherever one goes, one finds Glengarry people. And aren't they nice to meet?

There's No Place Like Home

Travelling more than half way across the continent with weekly editors from other sections of Canada one is reminded more than once that "There's no place like home". There is no place like home, not even beautiful Banff, for home is where the heart is.

Going West one spends more than a day crossing that rock-strewn, tree-full monotony that is the glacial shield of Northwest Ontario. Hour after hour the trees flash by your train window, most of them slim saplings of jackpine and juniper that are a poor excuse for the stately, spreading elm, the sky-reaching poplar or the flaming maple we so admire down here in Eastern Ontario.

It is a country of poor pickings, one concludes, and while the editor of The Grand Falls Advertiser will tell you this section of the country is much like Newfoundland's interior, he is yet firmly convinced Newfy was never like this. This is for the birds, he may remark; he'll keep what he has in Grand Falls.

Endless miles of prairie pass your train window and you hear the comments: "Wouldn't it be awful to live out here on the plains once winter has taken hold with its icy, snow-laden winds?" That's not for me, the guy from St. Mary's is saying, and he's thinking of the roads always open in Southwest Ontario in a winter that will be comparatively mild and easier to live through. The wheat farmer of the prairies probably has it easy if he can get away to California for the winter, he is surmising, but I'll take the billboards of congested Ontario rather than this view of windswept plain.

Even in beautiful Banff we heard it. This is heavenly just now, they'd say, but the hotel closes next week, the tourists stop coming and these people will be hibernating like the bears we see on every mountain trail. This would be ideal for four or five months of the year, they're supposing, but it could get real rugged over the long run. These mountains could become awfully constricting.

It is well one sees these evidences, among touring weekly editors, of an abiding faith in their own home towns.

Each sees special virtues in his own community, and if this was not so he would be ill-suited for his role of town-crier, of community builder, of providing a hometown paper that is progressive-minded, not alone for itself but for its area as a whole.

So long as there is that conviction that 'there is no place like home', in the hearts of hundreds of weekly newspaper editors, hundreds of Canadian towns and villages will be well served by their local papers.

The Weeklies Say

BUSY SUMMER

There don't seem to be any "long, lazy days" any more. Everyone asks instead: "Where did the summer go?" ... It went in 10 weeks starting with Dominion Day and ending with Labor Day. Those 10 weeks were spent operating with a short staff most of the time because of vacations.—Napanee (Ont.) Post-Express.

WILLING HELPERS

In small towns ... fire protection is provided by those who are ready and willing to give their time freely to this valuable service. This should be backed to the full by the public support.—Comox (B.C.) Free Press.

LITTLE CHOICE

When an American sub-committee ... starts poking into communism, its sincerity is invariably colored by a desire for publicity. Be that as it may, the Canadian government has little choice. ... For our own good we must exchange security information on communist activity with the United States.—Grande Prairie (Alta.) Herald-Tribune.

PILLARS OF STRENGTH

The local industry which employs but a few employees is all too often overlooked in this dream of big things, yet these can be quite a pillar of strength to the economy of the community, providing security to their employers because their turnover is solidly based on a local market.—Estevan (Sask.) Mercury.

WORLD GOES ON

The cries of concern over "this present generation" have been raised in the same heartfelt tones for a good many decades. ... And yet the world goes on, with each succeeding generation benefitting more and more from the discoveries made by men who, two or three generations before, were part of a mass of young people.—Grande Prairie (Alta.) Herald-Tribune.

LIFE'S LITTLE THINGS

All too often, many of us are prone to take every-day facts for granted. In the present-day surge to bring new industries to small towns and thus help provide greater opportunities for youth and a more substantial payroll, one can easily forget existing industries and the part they play daily in community life.—Carleton Place (Ont.) Canadian.

CONFUSING TERMS

We wonder how long people will continue to confuse the terms "Health" and "Sickness". A labor leader states that we need health insurance in this country. He really means sickness insurance.—Peace River Block, Dawson Creek, News.

That Frightening Word

Thank You, Mr. Motorist, For The Lovely Flowers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A letter addressed to "Dear Mr. Motorist" arrived at the Mirror-News.

"I am not writing this to you to remind you all over again," the letter said, "but to all motorists because school again begins.

"I want to prevent the tragedy that we have shared together — a mother and you, Mr. Motorist.

"That day three sun-tanned little faces smiled as they waved me a happy goodbye and so importantly went on their way to school. I wanted to call them back to tell them how lonesome it would be.

"Mr. Motorist, I wanted to kiss them once more ... then I saw you take that corner — tires screaming, car out of control.

"What was your hurry? Were you late for work? Were you angry at someone?

"Surely not my three. I am sure you would not want to run your screaming tires over their happy faces intentionally, erasing forever the smiles they had for me.

"But, Mr. Motorist, children are very forgiving in life and — I'm sure — in death. They would, if they could, pat your hand and feel sad that because of one tragic moment you are left to live over and over again how your love of speed took three lives.

"I don't hate you any more. I feel sorry for you. I can still see those smiling little faces as they wave me goodbye."

The letter was signed. Under the signature this postscript: "Another year. And once again your flowers arrive. They are beautiful. Thank you."

The newspaper sent reporter Charles Nelswender to investigate. He talked with a close friend of the letter writer. She told him the letter was written four years ago on the first anniversary of the tragedy. It was written but never intended to be mailed to the man who was driving the car. The friend sent the letter to the paper, which printed it Thursday.

The motorist? He still sends the mother flowers on each anniversary of the children's death.

And the mother? She couldn't write a letter now. For in her mind she still waves goodbye to the smiling faces of her children.

The tragedy was too much. She is in a mental hospital, hopelessly insane.

From here to Winnipeg by rail it's "Rock Around the Clock".

MUSIC ON THE MOVE

One of the pleasant surprises of that long rail trip West was our discovery of piped in music in those fine new CPR cars, the Manor class. We had heard and enjoyed this kind of thing once before, in the elevators of Toronto's King Eddie Hotel, but had not been aware the CPR had the installation in its new cars.

What a pleasant surprise as we sat in our compartment speeding West out of Winnipeg to suddenly hear soft, sweet music out of the past and the near present. Favorite old-timers like "Avalon", "You Were Meant For Me", "I'll Get By", "Stagust" — songs you could recall singing; the music you danced and dreamed to in the days of your youth. And the best of the newer music, the tunes from "South Pacific" and "Oklahoma", softly recorded by piano, strings and sax.

What a cozy feeling of contentment it brought on. The Manitoba landscape was dismal with rain and clouds at the moment, but we were as one apart, speeding over the prairies in an air-conditioned train, at rest and simply wallowing in well-loved music.

Soft, sweet music is always enjoyable, but how much more appreciated when come on unexpectedly. We carried our mood of happy contentment into the dining car, from whence the music is piped at each meal time, and we sought to tell our waiter what a lift it had given us.

But this darkie wasn't having any. "Sure it would be nice", was his rejoinder, "if they weren't playing the same two records over and over again, day in and day out. You get like you'd like to break them."

Music hath powers, it seems, but not when you hear the same tunes too often: Disk jockeys, take note.

When your budget needs a lift, there's nothing better than a little jack.

IN THE NICK OF DIME

You can't get much or anything for a nickel, these days. But add another nickel and it could add up to freedom for one of our fellow editors.

It happened en route West, and it wasn't funny; even though there were weekly men unsympathetic enough to laugh when they heard the story.

This guy, who had survived two wars, really found himself in a tight spot when he locked himself in the cubicle marked "Men" and later couldn't release the lock. The railwaymen have a button marked "Porter" for just such an emergency, but the porter found he couldn't do a thing but give advice that was worthless. He called the rear-end brakeman, the Sleeping Car conductor was rushed to the scene, with no better results.

Panic was near as thoughts of the Black Hole of Calcutta popped into the poor publisher's picture. At the critical moment, just before the screams might come, his years of Army training paid off. Jack found a dime in his jeans and found it fitted the screws holding the lock. Sweat, toll and near-tears did the rest, and he was finally flushed out.

But that's one brother who learned not to spare a dime, even when tipping. He kept one handy all the rest of the way out and back, even if it meant being free with the quarters.

Next time he travels, he vows, he'll wear a screwdriver kit on his belt.

A speech will bear more fruit if you prune it a little.

JUST OUR LUCK

Down around the Legion where cribbage players are a dime a dozen, Alden McMillan is the white-haired boy since he pulled that magic 29-trick on Saturday. There have been a couple of 28-point hands lately, but this is the first grand slam in local Legion history.

And wouldn't you know Alden would wait till we were away to go for the big one. We'd like to have been there to see it.

For years during those crib sessions we've been threatening to put our picture in the paper when and if we got that perfect 29. Now we'll be stymied if and when Lady Luck strikes us.

How could we put our own picture in, when we're not running the McMillan puss this week.

THEY PAY NO TAXES

A "CORPORATION TAX" is NOT a tax on the corporation, but is, rather, a tax on the customers who buy the goods or services it produces.

Taxes are a cost of doing business. They must be included in the price structure along with wages, and the costs of raw materials and supplies.

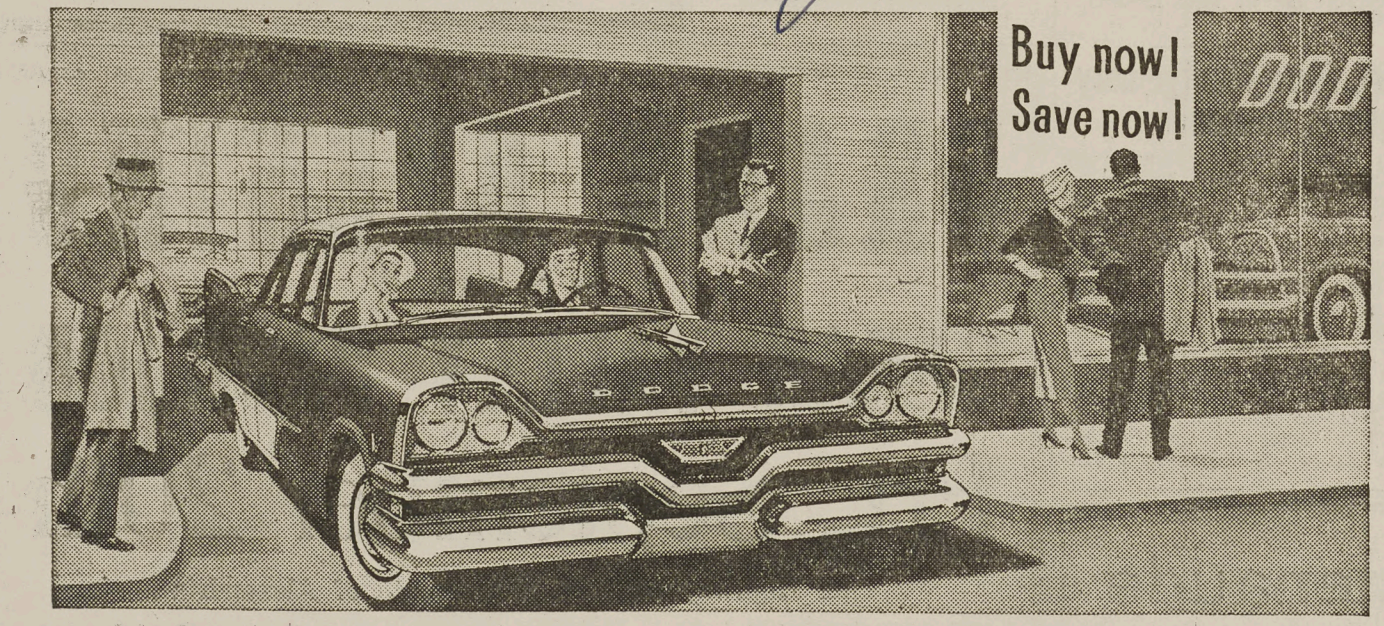

An INCREASE in corporation taxes, or in any other taxes, is an increase in costs which must ultimately be reflected in prices. Hence, a DECREASE in corporation or other taxes would ease the upward pressure on costs and prices.

Took Water Safety And Other Tests In Ottawa Saturday

Bonnie McPherson passed her instructor's tests and four other Alexandrians have qualified for the life-saving award of the Royal Life-Saving Society following exams conducted by Garruth Ives, local High School teacher, on Saturday.

Those getting the life-saving award are Mrs. John Grant, Mrs. Garruth Ives, Sheila Stinson, Robert Blinn and Bonnie McPherson. Bonnie had already tried this test, so she will receive a bar to the Bronze Medallion already earned in 1955.

She had been instructing the other four at the local beach this summer and their success in the life-saving exam earns her the qualification of instructor.

The party motored to Ottawa on Saturday to try their tests in that city's Plante Bath, a pool on Preston street.

To Make Home In Cornwall

KELLY-McDERMID
St. Andrew's United Church, Martintown, decorated with white gladioli, was the scene of a lovely fall wedding, Saturday at two o'clock, when Miss Kathryn Melva McDermid became the bride of Norman Howard Kelly of Cornwall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McDermid of Martintown. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Kelly of Moncton, New Brunswick.

Rev. A. W. Seaton performed the ceremony. Mrs. C. R. McIntyre, accompanied by organist Hamilton Kirkey sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O, Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon chiffon. Her coronet held an elbow-length veil of nylon chiffon and she carried pink and white gladioli with stephanotis.

The brides attendants were Mrs. I. J. Kelly, in blue nylon, as matron of honor; Miss Christine McDermid, in pink nylon, and Miss Mary Dewar in blue nylon as junior bridesmaids.

Mr. I. J. Kelly of Montreal, was best man. Ushers were Keith McDermid, Martintown, and John Malkin, Alexandria.

For travelling, the bride wore a gray duster over a gray and red dress and a corsage of red roses.

The couple will reside at 414 Fourth street east, Cornwall.

Before her wedding, the bride was honored at two showers: a miscellaneous one at the home of Mrs. Finlay McIntosh, Martintown; another at the home of Miss Marjorie Barton, at which she received a chrome canister set.

Ned MacDonald Takes Bride

MACDONALD-MARLOW
On August 30th, 1937, Our Lady of Victory Church, Floral Park, L.I., was the setting for the rites which united in marriage Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Marlow and Edward Archie Macdonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edward Macdonald (Barbara McPhee). The marriage was performed by Rev. Father Kenny, with Rev. Father David present on the altar.

The young bride was lovely in a waltz-length gown of white silk organza and re-embroidered lace. Orange blossoms held her chapel veil. She carried her prayer book, to which was pinned a white orchid. Miss Ellen Lane of Syracuse, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue organza and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of gladioli. Mr. David Macdonald, brother of the groom, was best man, and Allan, another brother, was altar boy.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Anton's Restaurant. After a wedding trip to Lake George, the young couple will reside in New Hyde Park, L.I.

Both Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald are popular members of the younger group in Floral Park, and they were extensively entertained prior to their marriage. Mrs. MacDonald is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy and is at present employed by the Scandinavian Air Lines. Mr. MacDonald served two years in the U.S. Army as a paratrooper. He is employed by Farr Construction Co., New York.

Edward (Ned) is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Macdonald and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie McPhee of Alexandria.

The bodice was of white lace over satin fashioned with a bateau neckline, and long pointed sleeves, and the skirt was net over applique designed satin. Her fingertip veil, with applique matching dress design, fell from a crown of opalescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white satin prayer book covered with white orchids and streamers of satin ribbon and ferns.

The fathers of the couple, J. E. Leroux and R. Ladouceur, acted as witnesses.

Following the marriage the reception was held in the Cartier Room of the Berkley Hotel.

Honored Prior To Departure For Holland

On Sunday afternoon, September 8th, members of the Lochiel CWL, friends and neighbors met at the home of Mrs. J. J. McCormick for an informal tea, to honor Mrs. Rudolph Vander Byl, prior to her departure for her home in Holland. She had been visiting for the summer with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Vander Byl and their family.

The rooms were nicely decorated with fall flowers and colored candles, while the tea table was centred with multi-colored petunias and tall white candles.

A corsage was pinned on the guest of honor when she entered the house. Shortly afterwards she was surprised by a visit from two friends from Montreal, Tom Van Dinhoven and Andre Newburger, formerly from Holland, who just happened to come to see her that afternoon.

Miss Hannah Chisholm and Mrs. Edwin McDonald poured tea, while Misses Mary MacGillis, Irma and Ann McDonald and Lera McCormick served the ladies.

During the tea hour, several ladies played selections on the piano, and Misses Catharine Kennedy and Patricia MacGillis favored the guest of honor with some dances.

One interesting feature of the afternoon was when Mrs. Vander Byl passed her diary around for everyone to see. It was a beautiful white leather book in which she wrote every day of her trip and had snaps and pictures on an accompanying page. She had visited in Huntsville and had many good snaps taken in Algonquin Park, even one of her feeding a fawn.

After tea, everyone was asked to go outside where Mr. Van Dinhoven took pictures of the group.

When she was leaving, the CWL presented her with a souvenir of Canada.

She thanked all for a pleasant afternoon, and left with best wishes for a safe journey back to Holland and a wish that she would return soon.

She sailed for Holland on Tuesday, September 10th, on the Ryndam.

Two new members have joined the organization.

It was decided that in the future, meetings will be held on the first Monday of every month instead of on the first Wednesday as previously scheduled.

Rev. Emilien Houde led the closing prayer.

Paul Lajeunesse Glen Nevis, Dies

A respected resident of Glen Nevis, Paul Lajeunesse died September 5th at Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, following a few months' illness. His death, at the age of 49, followed a heart attack.

Surviving are two brothers and three sisters: Arthur and Albert Lajeunesse and Mrs. Donat Oumet (Cecile), Glen Nevis; Mrs. Elol Ethier (Mary) of Coteau, Que., and Mrs. Albert Paicment (Anna) of Montreal.

Mrs. J. J. Fourney Lancaster, Dies

The funeral of Mrs. John J. (Susan) Fourney, was held Monday afternoon, September 9th, from her residence, Fourth Concession of Charlottenburgh township, to Knox United Church, Lancaster. Interment was made in the Second Concession cemetery, Lancaster.

Rev. W. E. Black conducted the service, during which George Sangster, Alexandria, rendered the solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere", and the choir sang "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling", both being special favorites of the deceased. The organist and choir director was W. R. Steele.

Pallbearers were George Upton, Joshua Fourney, Frank Lalonde, Dominic Godard, Thornton Fourney and Leonard Fourney.

Mrs. Fourney passed away on September 6th at the Cornwall General Hospital, after a lengthy illness. She was a life member of the Beulah Missionary Society.

She is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter — Antoine Fourney, Williamstown; Lawrence Fourney, at home, and Mrs. Dominic Godard (Irene), Green Valley.

Also surviving are three sisters and three brothers — Mrs. Benson (Mary), Bridgeport, Ont.; Mrs. Harry Cheshire (Josephine), Toronto; Mrs. Frank Lalonde (Florence), Cornwall; James Masson of Ottawa; Walter Masson, Niagara Falls, Ont., and Albert Masson of Martintown. There are also 12 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The many beautiful floral tributes and the large number who called and attended the funeral, including friends and relatives from a distance, bore evidence of the high esteem in which Mrs. Fourney was held by all who knew her and the regret felt at her death.

Federation Of Agriculture To Sponsor Improvement Competition

Glengarry Federation of Agriculture will lend its support to a Farmstead Improvement Competition to be held in conjunction with the 1958 International Ploughing Match. A directors' meeting recently pledged a donation of $200 to this project, which will be matched by a similar grant from the county federations in Stormont and Dundas.

The Farmstead Improvement Competition is being staged so that farm people in the three United Counties may be encouraged to dress up, paint or renovate their properties before October, 1958, the date of the International Ploughing Match at Crysler in Stormont. Contestants will have their farm buildings and surroundings judged early next Spring and again before Ploughing Match time.

The sum of $600 donated by the three county federations will be augmented by a $500 grant from the Ontario Plowmen's Association, and a further anticipated donation from paint companies should increase the available prize money to $2,000. A portion of this total will be reserved by a Tri-County committee for overall prizes, but the greater share of the $2,000 will be divided among the twelve township committees for separate competition within these townships.

The Glengarry Federation of Agriculture has appointed a set of co-chairmen in each of its four townships to supervise the project, but their names will not be released until the chairmen have accepted their appointment.

Glengarry Pipers To Publicize 1958 Match At Crysler

There will be a booth at the big International Plowing Match in Norfolk County, October 15th to 18th, in order to promote the International Match in the United Counties in 1958. This was decided at a meeting of the local Publicity committee, in the offices of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Cornwall.

The committee hopes to make use of the vast Power Project and Seaway works on the St. Lawrence as a special added attraction next fall, and will seek the help of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and the Seaway Authority information staff for facts and figures and arrangements for special tours. The Match next year will take place just after the expected flooding and the two attractions are expected to draw the largest crowd ever seen in United Counties history.

The committee will have banners and signs on the special booth or tent, and plans to hand out 50,000 leaflets with directions for the 1958 Match near Crysler mapped out. Preparation of the leaflet will begin as soon as the date for the Match here is announced. The committee has recommended October 7th to 10th, for the 1958 Match, a week earlier than customary because Eastern Ontario usually has weather about a week cooler in proportion to central Ontario weather.

There will be a bus load of local committee members and interested parties attending the 1957 Match to help with promotion, in addition to Counties' officials and contestants who normally attend. These people will wear some sort of distinctive badge or crest, calling attention to the Match. Besides, there are plans to have a piper and a group of Glengarryians dressed in kilts to add to the special flavor of the project.

In addition to publicity connected with the Match at Simcoe, leaflets will be distributed at the Ottawa Winter Fair, next year's Central Canada Exhibition and other special occasions. Since the big Match is only a little more than one year away, the Publicity committee has to step up its activities to help assure an outstanding success. The International Plowing Match is the largest event of this type in the world.

November 4th is the kickoff date for the 18th National Farm Radio Forum season. "National Farm Policy" will be the topic under discussion. Of vital interest to the farmer, farm organizations and the new government this subject is likely to spark lively discussions in the Farm Forums.

TOURING VANKLEEK HILL

Written for The Glengarry News by T. J. HUGHES

The Vankleek Hill annual Fair was quite successful this year, drawing in the neighborhood of 10,000 for the three days. Good weather and an "Open Fair" brought a record number of entries in all classes and financially the Agricultural Society should be money ahead although final figures are not available as yet.

The only person we know who makes a success in running people down is the elevator boy.

High School students at the Hill High School enjoyed two days off this week due to a breakdown in the water system. It seems one of the pipes in the 150-foot drilled well gave way and had to be repaired. At the end of September the High School will revert back to Standard Time so that the country students will not have to leave home so early in the morning.

Everyone I meet is in some way my superior.

Alex. Matte, well-known lifelong resident of Vankleek Hill, died last week. Alex. was in his 74th year and was in poor health for some time, although he was still able to get around. In past years, Alex. was quite a curlier and was mentioned in the New York Times for his unique way of delivering a stone due to his miniature size. He was formerly in the tobacco business before selling to his sister-in-law, Mrs. L. Matte.

Goodwill is the one and only asset that competition cannot undersell or destroy.

The annual World's Horsedrawing Contest will take place in the Hill Arena on October 17th. This is always a tremendous affair and as far as we know the biggest draw in the country. The draw always has an International flavor with many teams from the U.S. entered every year. Two trophies and big prize money always make for keen competition. Bob Rutherford of Perth, was the big money and trophy winner last year.

Never explain. Your friends don't need it and your enemies won't believe you anyway.

The flu "bug" has made no exception on the Hill. Many children from the Separate and Public Schools have been absent this week. The doctor tells us that he is overburdened with calls, but says as everyone else the flu is not of a serious nature unless complications set in.

Co-operate. Remember the banana — everytime it leaves the bunch it gets skinned.

Mr. Gilles of St. Eustache and Edouard St. Denis of Vankleek Hill, were involved in a minor accident last Sunday evening. The small St. Denis car was proceeding east on Main street and failed to stop at Highway 34 and was struck by the Gilles car going north on Highway 34. Little damage resulted and the accident was investigated by Chief Ed. Bernique.

Telephone Round-up

Every parent knows how easily a two-gun cowboy can lose track of time — especially around mealtime. But she also knows it's a simple matter to round him up by telephone. And any vague feeling of anxiety about where he is or what he is doing is quickly dispelled by that eager voice at the other end of the line. Yes, the telephone is a convenience and a comfort, all day long. It means fewer meals grown cold because youngsters or husband are late getting home. It means more security when you're alone at night. It means more things done with less time and effort... Yet this endlessly useful servant works for you for just a few cents a day.
